

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at http://books.google.com/

AMERICAN SYSTEM OF EDUCATION.

A

HAND-BOOK

(NE

ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.

IN THREE PARTS.

FIRST PART.
INSTRUCTIONS ABOUT ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORKS.

SECOND PART.
STUDIES IN ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.

THIRD PART.
THE BEGINNINGS OF THE ROOT-WORDS

"The terms which first fall upon the ear of childhood "-- EDIN. REV.

A Literary Association

FREDERICK PARKER, 21 APPLETON BLOCK.

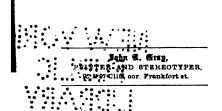

ALEXANDER MONTGOMERY, 17 SPRUCE STREET.

1853. 🕠

トミーごん

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1883, By John L. Shapman and James Scott, FOR A LITERARY ASSOCIATION,

In the Clerk's Office of the District Court for the Southern District of New-York.

A LETTER.

DR. WISDOM TO THE LITERARY ASSOCIATION.

Gentlemen:—This letter you owe to the request of one of your number. Some time ago Dr. ——— called upon me, and in a very agreeable conference with him, I learned much about your plans. Among other things, he informed me that, you were about to bring out a Hand-Book of the Anglo-Saxon Root-words of our language. I suggested this to your Committee some time ago. It is part of your work.

You act prudently in confining the proposed Hand-Book solely to the Anglo-Saxon root-words. These words address the senses. They are easily understood, because the things which they represent are found in the walks of childhood. They appear as distinct words in our language, and retain much of their original form and meaning. Most of the root-words of French and Classic origin do not appear as distinct words in our language. Many of them have lost so much of their native form as to make it a difficult thing to trace them in the English language—too difficult, at least, for childhood. They cannot be presented at an early age with advantage; and when presented, I am of opinion, it should be in connection with their derivatives.

Your present work is needed. I have long felt this. The two Hand-Books already published, I am happy to learn, find an open and hopeful field. But it is too wide for them. The farm, gentlemen, you have cultivated, the garden you have just entered, wants your care also. The Hand-Book on the Anglo-Saxon Root-Words will meet the wants of children about eight years old—the wants of an important class of pupils.

The division of your course on Orthography may not so readily gain the approval of parents and teachers. It will gain it, however. It is based on some interesting facts in the constitution and life of children. They learn by excussions. This is the character of the mind in early life: it is excursive. The bud, the blossom, and the fruitage of thought are seldom gathered at the same time—never in childhood.

The excursions of the young mind are short. The journey whose end is not apprehended at the beginning fails to excite healthy emotions. The large text-book may fill the eye, but rest assured it will soon oppress the heart. Besides, there is a charm in the little for young minds, and the end of a book forms an agreeable break in study. It is a desirable resting-place in the journey, and such resting-places should not by any means be too far apart.

You will, I suppose, omit the original word. Excuse my seeming obtrusion upon your deliberations. To give it can answer no end. The child will not be able to understand it, or receive any advantage from it. In many cases he would not be able to pronounce it. The more advanced student would not expect to find it in an elementary work. What use is there, for instance, in saying that DECK is from deckan, and LOVE from luftan? Gentlemen, give the results of your learning, but not the details and show of it.

I would advise you to give at least, in the most of cases, the original meaning of the words. It will have a charm for the young mind. The child, I think, would be pleased to learn, for instance, that queen originally meant woman, boor a countryman, husband the house-band, and wife the one who weaves, because women did the weaving in olden times.

You will also give the use of the words. This cannot be wisely overlooked. Words are instruments of thought, and are of value to us only when we can use them. I would give their use in familiar questions and answers, the teacher using the word in a simple question, and the child answering with the same word. For instance: Teacher. Is home a dear place? Child. Home is a dear place. The principle of imitation is brought into use here, and by it, the child will be able to acquire a correct pronunciation and a ready use of words.

You will also retain the two chief features of your other Hand-Books—I mean the arrangement of words in the three classes of nouns, adjectives, and verbs—an arrangement that accords with the law of mind—and their disposition in groups under the things to which they relate. Such an arrangement and disposition amount to a discovery in education. They accord with the growth of mind. The word becomes a pleasing object of study, and the child, in going forth into the domain of language, finds himself still in company with the form and spirit of nature. Conducted in this way, education becomes a thing of pleasure as well as of duty. The word ceases to be an arbitrary sign; the word becomes a thing instinct with thought.

With much consideration,

I remain, gentlemen, yours truly,

LIONEL WISDOM,

AN INTERVIEW

BETWEEN

A TEACHER AND A MEMBER OF THE LITERARY ASSOCIATION.

THE following interview has something more than a local interest.

Saturday afternoon, January 14th, 1853. Mr. B——, a practical teacher, called upon me to make some inquiries about "The American System of Education."

"Sir," said he, "allow me to ask you some questions about the Hand-Booka."

Member.—With pleasure. We are happy to talk about that which interests us.

Teacher.—True, Sir. I have seen your Hand-Book of Anglo-Saxon Orthography, and am much pleased with it. You have another Hand-Book?

Member.—Two, Sir. The Literary Association has three Hand-Books on English Orthography. In these books, the child is led over the whole domain of the English language. He follows its historic growth from the half-formed words, pa and ma, to the awful names of God and eternal things.

Teacher.—The growth of language! Sir, has language a growth!

Member.—An instructive and beautiful one. It is the body of thought, and, like our own bodies, grows into an organic whole. Every word is a member, and increases with the increase of every part. Besides this, it has a noble historic growth.

Teacher.-Explain it, if you please.

Member.—The English language, as we speak it, is not native to America nor England. It is a mixed language, having at least five lingual elements. All its parts were imported from the continent. Its native home is the far-famed Indus—the first seat of civilization.

Teacher.—Sir, this is new and somewhat surprising. I knew that our language contained Latin and Greek words. Proceed, Sir.

Member.—An illustration will explain what I have said. The English language is like an engrafted tree. The Anglo-Saxon is the stock; and the Gothic, Celtic, French, Latin and Greek are engraftures. History records their inoculation and growth.

Teacher.—This is what I have long wished to see. The Anglo-Saxon is the stock—the basis of the English language.

Member.—Yes. When it was introduced into England by the Angles and Saxons in 450 A.D., the Celtic was the language of the British islands. A few Latin words were mixed with it, the memorials of the Roman conquest. But the Celtic wasted away before the Saxon, as the Indian dialects in this country, have wasted away before the English; and the Saxon became the speech of those islands.

Teacher.—Very satisfactory.

Member.—In various ways.

The Church, commerce, war, and learned men, introduced them. The old Saxon tongue was poor in some things, and borrowed kindred words from the Gothic; names of places from the Celtic; words belonging to law, chivalry, and taste, from the French; and scientific and theological terms from the Latin and Greek languages. In this way, it has become great—in this way, we propose to study it.

Teacher .- How, Sir? You excite my curiosity.

Member.—In its historic growth. We begin with the Anglo-Saxon, which is the stock. It is more than this. Let me take a new illustration. As the German, Celt, French, Italian, and Greek, become Americanized by coming among us, so their languages have been Anglicized by engrafture upon the Saxon.

Teacher.—I understand now. Allow me, Sir, to return to the Hand-Books. What do you propose to do in your first one?

Member.—To teach the Anglo-Saxon root-words. We begin with the childhood of the language. It becomes the young mind. What do we want with derivative words till we have learned their roots?

Teacher.-Just so. How do you present those words?

Member.—As nature teaches us. The child picks up whole words as he picks up whole flowers. He picks them up in connection with things. He goes forth, and names whatever he sees and feels. Then, he learns their qualities, and names them; and lastly, their actions, and names them also. Thus, father: dear father: dear father comes.

Teacher.—Your plan is simple. The child, too, studies things while he is studying words.

Member.—This is not all. The Anglo-Saxon words are nearly all spelled as they are written. So the ear and eye agree in studying them.

Teacher.—What do you propose in your second Hand-Book!

Member.—The growth of the Anglo-Saxon root-words—their derivatives. They are needed to meet the wants of the unfolding mind. By the use of nine terminations, twenty-five suffixes, and eighteen prefixes, we form some five thousand derivative words from the one thousand root-words. Language is a necessity of our nature, and is to be furnished as we need it.

Teacher .- I see your plan clearly, and admire it.

Member.—Every child should build up his own language as necessity requires it. Then, words would be ready weapons of the mind.

Teacher.—So they would. You said that the Association had a third Hand-Book. What do you propose in it?

Member.—To teach the engrafted parts of our language. This is done according to the plan laid down in the first and second Hand-Books.

Teacher.—Nothing can be more simple. The idea of learning our language in its historic growth is beautiful. How could it have been overlooked so long?

Member.—I know not. But these views only point out the framework of the system. Instructions introduce the child to the whole building.

Teacher .- In what, may I ask!

Member.—Instructions in the different parts of the English language; instructions also in the growth of words by terminations, suffixes, and prefixes.

Teacher.-These instructions are much needed.

Member.—I have not said all yet. The English language has a growth according to the Laws of MIND. This is pointed out in the arrangement of words as nouns, adjectives, and verbs. It has a SOCIAL GROWTH. This is seen in the engrafted elements. It has a growth according to REASON. The mind of man begins at home to unfold itself. From thence, it stretches forth to God. This is presented in the arrangement of words under the various things lying between home and heaven.

Teacher.—The subject grows in interest. I have been blind to its importance.

Member.—One thing more. The English language has an etymology; and this is the root of its orthography. Words are traced to their native languages. They are traced also to their natural sources in the organs of the body. The body is the wonderful instrument from which the soul evokes speech under the influence of the world.

Tracker.—Enough, enough, Sir! You have convinced me that I know little or nothing of my own language. The Hand-Books I shall study.

Member.—Sir, we have a noble language. Let us understand and teach it to the people.

. · ! . •

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

first Part.

MATERIALS OF ANGLO-SAXON BOOT-WORDS.

	P.	AGE
INSTRU	UCTION IA WORD	13
Inst.	II.—THE SPOKEN WORD	18
Inst.	III.—Hearing	14
Inst.	IV.—Sperch	14
Inst.	V.—The Organ of Speech	14
Inst.	VI.—Writing	15
Inst.	VII.—THE WRITTEN WORD	15
INST.	VIII.—Seeing	16
Inst.	IX.—Touch	16
Inst.	X.—The Hand	16
INST.	XI.—The Picture	17
Inst.	XII.—The Symbol	17
Inst.	XIV.—The Letter	17
Inst.	XV.—The Alphabet	18
Inst.	XVL-LETTERS AND SOUNDS	19
Inst.	XVIL-A TABLE OF LETTERS AND SOUNDS	19
Inst.	XVIII.—The English Word	. 20
Inst.	XIX.—Sources of English Words	21
Inst.	XX.—Anglo-Saxon Words	22
	XXI.—Anglo-Saxon Root-Words
	XXII.—SYLLABLES
Inst.	XXIII.—Quantity	28
Inst.	XXIV.—Acornt	24
INST.	XXV.—Articulation	24
INST	XXVI —ENUNCIATION	25

		GE
	XXVII.—Pronunciation
	XXVIII.—Orthoepy	25
	XXIX.—Orthography	26
Inst.	XXX.—Spelling	26
	XXXI.—Phonetic Spelling	27
	XXXII.—THE MEANING OF WORDS
Inst.	XXXIII.—THE USE OF WORDS	28
Inst.	XXXIV.—How we use Words	28
Inst.	XXXV.—Instructions about Anglo-Saxon Root-Words	28
	'
	Second Part.
	STUDIES IN ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.
CHAP	TER I.—Study	38
	Studies: The Study of Words-The Plan of Study-Model of the Plan of Study-Preparing a Study-Reciting a Study-Names of ThingsThings.
CHAP.	. II.—Home	39
	Studies: Outhouses-Kinds of Houses-Groups of Houses-
	Parts of a House—Household Stuff.
CHAP.	. III.—Household	45
	Studies: Servants-Food-Clothing.
CHAP.	. IV.—Man	48
	Studies: The Body of Man-The Head-The Chest-The Upper Limbs-The Lower Limbs-States of the Body-Diseases of the Body—The Senses.
CHAP	V.—THE SOUL	55
	Studies: The States of the Soul-Powers and Feelings of the Soul.
CHAP.	. VI.—Business	57
	Studies: Farming-Hunting and Fishing-Smithing-Manufacturing - Warring - Buying and Selling - Teaching-Other Learned Callings-The State and Officers.
CHAP.	VII.—Tools and Works of Man	65
	Studies: Tools and Works of the Farmer-Tools and Works of the Hunter and Fisher-Tools and Works of the Housewright -Tools and Works of the Shipwright-Tools and Works of the Millwright-Tools and Works of the Smith-Tools and 'Works of the Weaver-Tools and Works of Manufacturers-

	PAG	, E
	Tools and Works of the Housewife—Tools and Works of the Soldier—Tools and Works of Learned Business—Tools and Works of Different Kinds of Business—Weights and Measures —Numbers.
Снар.	VIII.—THE WORKS OF THE CREATOR	17
	Studies: The Earth—Bodies of Land—Bodies of Water—Mineral Bodies of the Earth—Vegetable Bodies of the Earth—Shrubs—Herbs—Grasses—Vegetables—Flowers—Some Productions of Plants—The Parts of Plants—Animal Bodies of the Earth—Wild Animals—Water Animals—Reptiles—Insects
	-Birds-Domestic Birds-Productions of Animals-Bodies in the Heavens.
Снар.	IX.—Place and Time	2
	Studies: Places on the Earth and in the Heavens—Relative Places—Larger Divisions of Time—Smaller Divisions of Time
	-Relative Divisions of Time-Relations of Things and Events in Place and Time-Connections of Things and Events in Place and Time.
Снар.	X.—God	8
	Studies: God-Attributes of God-Relations of God to Man-
~	Abode of God.  XI.—QUALITIES OF THINGS
Снар.	Studies: Qualities of Home—Qualities of Outhouses—Qualities	,v of Household Stuff—Qualities of the Household—Qualities of •	Food—Qualities of Clothing—Qualities of Man—Qualities of the Body of Man-Qualities of Parts of the Body of Man-Qualities
•	of the Soul of Man-Qualities of the Hunter and Hunting-Qualities of the Farm and Farming—Qualities of War—Qualities of the Manufacturer and Manufacturing—Qualities of the Trader and Trading—Qualities of the Sailor and Sailor's Life— Qualities of the Learned Professions—Qualities of Officers and Offices—Qualities of the Works of Man—Qualities of the Works of God—Qualities of Vegetable Bodies—Qualities of Animals—Qualities of Light—Qualities of God.
Снар.	XII.—Actions	1
	Studies: Actions of the Body of Man-Actions of the Hands of Man-Actions of the Feet of Man-Actions of Man in the Household—Actions of the Senses—Actions of the Soul of Man-Actions of Food-Actions of Clothing in the House-

PAGE
Actions of the Housekeeper-Actions of the Householder-Actions of the Hunter-Actions of the Fisher-Actions of the Farmer-Actions of the Housewright-Actions of the Wheelwright-Actions of the Shipwright-Actions of the Millwright -Actions of the Smith-Actions of the Weaver-Actions of the Manufacturer-Actions of the Trader-Actions of the Soldier-Actions of the Teacher-Actions of the Doctor-Actions of the Artist-Actions of Minerals-Actions of Plants-Actions of Animals—Actions of Wild Animals—Actions of Water Animals
-Actions of Birds-Actions of the Earth-Actions of Water —Actions of the Heavens—Actions of God.
Chap. XIII.—Events
Studies: Events of the Household-Events in the Occupations of Man—Events in the Earth—Events in the Heavens—Events of God—Last Things.
Chird Part.
THE BEGINNINGS OF WORDS.
CHAPTER I.—THE BEGINNINGS OF WORDS
Studies: Words—The Organ of Speech—The Body and Words—
The World and Words—The Soul and Words—The Beginnings of Words-Natural History of Words.
CHAP. II.—THE HUMAN BODY148
Studies: The Organ of Speech-The Sense of Hearing-The Sense of Seeing—The Sense of Taste—The Sense of Smell—
The Sense of Touch—The Hands—The Feet—The Muscles—
The Organ of Breathing-The Covering of the Body.
CHAP. III.—MAN
Studies: Man-Household-Society-Business of Man.
CHAP. IV.—THE WORLD
Studies: The Earth-The Heavens-Form-Quantity-Place-Time—Relations of Things in Place and Time—Connections of Things in Place and Time.
CHAP. V.—THE SOUL AND GOD
Studies: The Soul—God.
CHAP. VI.—THE END OF THE HAND-BOOK OF ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS. 158

HAND-BOOK

03

ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.

INSTRUCTION 1.

A WORD.

THE lips move when we speak. Something passes from them, and falls upon the ear. It is called a word. A word is that which passes from the lips.

It has another meaning now. A word is the sign of a thing. I speak, for instance, the word, rose, and it is a sign to you of what I mean. You see and smell that sweet flower.

What is a word! Give an instance.

INSTRUCTION II.

THE SPOKEN WORD.

Speech is a rich gift, and is shared alone by man. It is the power to think and feel aloud. It gives us the spoken word. The spoken word is a sound used as the sign of a thing. If I say book, for instance, you hear a spoken word. It is a sound, and is used as the sign of a certain thing—a book.

What is a spoken word! Give an instance.

INSTRUCTION III.

HEARING.

-THE spoken word comes to the ear. Without hearing, it comes in vain. There is no sound. We could make none ourselves: we could not hear what others make.

Hearing is one of the five senses. It gives us a knowledge of sounds. As such, we should use it thoughtfully when we speak ourselves, or listen to others.

What is hearing! What do we learn from it!

INSTRUCTION IV.

SPEECH.

Speech is a wonderful gift. It is shared alone by man, and gives us the spoken word. It does so when guided by the ear.

Speech is the power of making known what we wish in sounds. It breaks up the silence of the heart. We think and feel aloud.

What is speech?

INSTRUCTION V.

THE ORGAN OF SPEECH.

THE word, organ, is the same as an instrument, or tool. The hand is an organ: so is the eye.

The organ of speech is that instrument by which the soul thinks and feels aloud. It is made up of the lungs, windpipe, larynx, tongue, teeth, palate, and lips.

What is the organ of speech? What are its parts?

INSTRUCTION VI.

WRITING.

THE child is not content to be able to speak what he thinks and feels. He wishes to write his thoughts. The pencil is used almost as soon as the tongue.

The word, writing, means smearing, as with wax. In olden times, people covered boards with wax, and wrote upon it with a steel pen. It means more now.

Writing is the art or practice of making letters with a pen or pencil. It gives us the written word.

What is writing? What did the word at first mean?

INSTRUCTION VII.

THE WRITTEN WORD.

THE spoken word passes away. We wish to keep it, and find out that sound can be written.

The written word is one or more letters or marks, used as the sign of a spoken word. If I write the word, buzz, for instance, I think of the sound, buzz, and then of the insect or whatever makes it.

What is a written word?

INSTRUCTION VIII.

SERING.

THE written word is brought to the eye. Without seeing, it would be brought in vain.

Seeing is one of the five senses. It gives us a knowledge of the color and forms of things. As such, it is useful when we make written words, or read those made by others.

What is seeing? What do we learn from it?

INSTRUCTION IX.

TOUCH.

THE eye could never give us a written word, if left to itself. It needs the help of touch.

Touch is one of the five senses. Among many things which it gives us, form is only pointed out here. Touch gives us form.

What is touch! What do we learn from it!

INSTRUCTION X.

THE HAND.

THE eye and touch could not give us a written word without the hand. As the ear and speech needed the organ of speech to form a spoken word, so the eye and touch need the hand to form the written word.

The hand is the organ or instrument by which the soul gives shape to things, thinks and feels so as to be seen. By the hand, the written word has its shape, and becomes a sign of what we think or feel.

What is the hand!

INSTRUCTION XI.

THE PICTURE.

THE picture was the first way in which men wrote their words. If they wished to write the words, horse and man, they drew a picture of them. So children begin to write.

A picture is a likeness of a thing drawn on a flat surface. The picture, as a kind of writing, meant two things: 1. It was the likeness of the thing. 2. It was the sign of its name.

What was the first kind of writing? What is a picture? What did it mean as a kind of writing?

INSTRUCTION XII.

THE SYMBOL.

THE picture was a slow way of writing a word. It took up too much time. Men wished to shorten the time and lessen the labor. The picture was changed into a symbol. Instead of drawing a picture of a siege, a scaling-ladder only was drawn: instead of drawing a king in royal dress, an eye and sceptre were drawn.

A symbol is a part, instrument or some likeness of a thing. Feet in water was the symbol of a fuller: an arm with a whip was the symbol of a charioteer, and a fly of impudence. The symbol, as a kind of writing, was a double sign: 1. A sign of the thing; 2. A sign of its name.

What is a symbol? What is it as a kind of writing?

INSTRUCTION XIV.

THE LETTER.

THE symbol, like the picture, was found to be a slow way of writing. It took up too much time. The Chinese shortened it. They wrote each word by making a certain mark, which became its sign.

This way was found not to be the best. Instead of writing EACH WORD by a mark, for then we would have to write and know EIGHTY THOUSAND MARKS to know all our language, we write only the SOUNDS of which words are made. In this case, we have only to learn the marks for FORTY SOUNDS, for these make up all the words in our language. These marks are called letters.

A letter is the sign of a sound of the human voice; as, a, b, c. When I see a or o, for instance, I think of the sound.

What is a letter?

INSTRUCTION XV.

THE ALPHABET.

Words, we have said, are made up of sounds. Thus, the word, man, is made up of the three sounds, m, a, n.

The sounds of which words are made, are written by letters. Thus, the sounds which make up the word, go, are written by the letters, g and o.

All the letters which mark the sounds of which all the words in a language are made up, are brought together and called an alphabet.

Alphabet is a word which we have borrowed from the Greeks. It is the name of all the letters which we use in writing words.

The letters of our alphabet are brought together in a certain order. It is as follows: a, b, c, d, e, f, g, h, i, j, k, l, m, n, o, p, q, r, s, t, u, v, w, x, y, z.

What is the alphabet

INSTRUCTION XVI.

LETTERS AND SOUNDS.

ALL the words which we use are spoken with FORTY SOUNDS and written with TWENTY-SIX LETTERS.

Some of these sounds are made by opening the mouth and forcing out the air. These are called vowels.

A vowel is simple voice; as, a, o. It is formed by opening the mouth.

Some of these sounds are double. These are called diphthongs.

A diphthong is the union of two vowel sounds: as, oi in boil. Some of these sounds are made by joining parts of the organ of speech. They are called consonants.

A consonant is a jointed sound. It is formed by joining parts of the mouth together; as, the lips in sounding P; the tongue and teeth in sounding T.

What is a vowel! A diphthong! A consonant!

INSTRUCTION XVII.

A TABLE OF LETTERS AND SOUNDS.

THE letters and sounds may now be brought together in one view, under the heads of VOWELS, DIPHTHONGS and CONSONANTS. They should be studied with great care.

I. VOWEL SOUNDS.

1. a as in father.	7.	i	as	in	pin.
2. a as in fat.	8.	0	as	in	note.
3. a as in fate.	9.	0	as	in	not.
4. $a$ or $aw$ as in water, law.	10.	00	as	in	fool.
5. e as in me.	11.	u	88	in	tube.
R e ag in met	12	11.	98	in	tuh

II. DIPHTHONGS.

1.	ou	88	in	house.		3.	ew	88	in	new.
2.	oi	8.8	in	boil.	•	4.	i	88	in	bite.

III. CONSONANTS

II. CONSONANTS.
1. $w$ as in woe.	13. th as in thin.
2. $y$ as in ye.	14. th as in thine.
3. $l$ as in low.	15. $g$ as in gun.
4. m as in man.	16. $k$ as in kin.
5. n as in not.	17. $s$ as in sin.
$\cdot$ 6. $r$ as in ran.	18. $sh$ as in shine.
7. $p$ as in pan.	19. z as in zeal.
8. $b$ as in bin.	20. $z(zh)$ as in azure.
9. $v$ as in van.	21. ch as in church.
10. $f$ as in fan.	22. $j$ as in jest.
11. $t$ as in tin.	23. ng as in sing.
12. $d$ as in din.	24. h as in he.

In looking over this table, it will be seen that there are TWELVE VOWELS, FOUR DIPHTHONGS, and TWENTY-FOUR CONSONANTS. These are all the sounds which we hear in speech. They make up all our words.

Name the vowels. The diphthongs. The consonants. How many of each?

INSTRUCTION XVIII.

THE ENGLISH WORD.

THE words which we speak and write, are called English words. We call them so because we got them from the English—a people who live in England.

The word, English, was taken from the name of a tribe of people, called Angles. This tribe came over from the north of Germany and settled in what is now called England, in A. D. 450.

What is the name of the words we use? What did the name, English, come from?

INSTRUCTION XIX

SOURCES OF ENGLISH WORDS.

THE words which we use, like the people of our country, have come to us from different sources.

We have borrowed words from all quarters.

We have borrowed from almost every language under heaven. Merchants and travellers have brought us words from all parts of the earth.

We have borrowed words from the Danish. Such are the words, dwell, flap, flabby, gasp.

We have borrowed from the Swedish. Such are the words, hassock, lag.

We have borrowed from the Dutch. Such are the words, belong, blear, blush.

We have borrowed from the German. Such are the words, fresh, boy, booby.

We have borrowed from the Celtic. Such are the words, bun, bug, kick, creak.

We have borrowed from the French. Such are the words, bias, beef, bottle, search.

We have borrowed largely from the Latin. Such are the words, globe, solar, ruby, part.

We have borrowed also from the Greek. Such are the words, sphere, poultice, peg, pirate.

We have borrowed from the Spanish. Such are the words, caste, musquito.

We have borrowed from the Italian. Such are the words, solo, stanza, piano, piano-forte.

We have borrowed from the Hebrew. Such are the words, jubilee, cherubim.

There is another source from which we have got a large part of our words—from the Angles and Saxons, who settled in England A.D. 450. The words from this source form the root of our language.

Name the sources from whence we have borrowed words. What can you say of the Angles and Saxons?

INSTRUCTION XX.

ANGLO-SAXON WORDS.

THE name, Anglo-Saxon, is taken from the names of two German tribes, Angles and Saxons, who settled in England A. D. 450. Their language became the speech of England in A. D. 836. It is our mother-tongue. To make it richer, we have borrowed from time to time from other languages. Some of them are mentioned in the last Instruction.

The Anglo-Saxon words number about TWENTY-THREE THOUSAND.

- 1. They are the words of home. Such are the names of father, mother, son, daughter, child, home.
- 2. They are the words of the heart. Such are the words, love, hope, sorrow.
- 3. They are the words of every-day life. Such are the words, ox, farm, plough, husband, wife, house, hearth, cook, eat, sleep, walk.
- 4. They are the words of thesenses. Such are the names of objects which we know through the senses; as, sun, moon, fire, water.

Whence is the name, Anglo-Saxon What can you say of Anglo-Saxon words?

INSTRUCTION XXI.

ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.

If we take the cluster of words, HOME, homely, homeless, homelier, homeliest, homeliness, the word, home, is the root of all the others. It is a root-word.

A root-word is one that gives rise to others. Thus, the root word, FATHER, gives rise to fatherly, fatherless, unfatherly.

We are about now to enter upon the study of root-words of Anglo-Saxon origin.

What is a root-word! Give an instance.

INSTRUCTION XXII.

SYLLABLES.

THERE are many words which can be sounded at once. Such are the words, son, child. There are also many words which cannot be sounded at once. Such are the words, father, mother. They are broken into parts, called syllables; as, fa-ther.

A syllable is a word, or so much of one as can be sounded at once; as, man, child-like.

What is a syllable !

INSTRUCTION XXIII.

QUANTITY.

If I sound the vowels, a, e, i, o, u, the voice is lengthened. If I sound the consonants, such as k, t, d, the voice is shortened. When I speak the word, father, the voice is long on the syllable, fa, and short on the syllable, ther. This is called quantity.

Quantity is length of voice as heard in letters and syllables. It is long, or short, and is marked thus,  $\smile$  —; as in consume.

What is quantity? Give an instance of the long and short quantity of letters and syllables. What are the marks of quantity?

INSTRUCTION XXIV.

ACCENT.

THE voice, in sounding words of more than one syllable, changes its force. It is stronger on one than on another. This is called accent.

Accent is force of voice on one or more syllables of a word. It appears on the syllable, ty, in the word, tyrant. Its mark is ', as on the word, minute.

What is accent?

INSTRUCTION XXV.

ARTICULATION.

WE sound all the letters and words by using the organ of speech. This organ is divided into three parts:

- 1. The part for breathing; as, the lungs and wind-pipe.
- · 2. The part for voice, as, the larynx, glottis, and epiglottis.
- 3. The part for articulation, or jointing; as, the tongue, palate, teeth and lips. In speaking words, these parts come together, and this is called articulation.

Articulation is the joining of parts of the organ of speech to form the sounds which make words. Thus, in sounding t, I have to join the tip of my tongue and my upper gums.

Articulation should be a daily exercise. The child should repeat the table of letters and sounds daily.

What are the parts of the organ of speech ! What is articulation !

INSTRUCTION XXVI.

ENUNCIATION.

If we notice the voice as we sound the letters of the alphabet, we will see that it goes forth in different ways. It swells on o, glides on z, hisses on s, crushes on ch, and rings on N. This is called enunciation.

Enunciation is the way in which we give out the sounds of letters. It should be clear, strong and distinct; and form a daily exercise.

What is enunciation! What should it be!

INSTRUCTION XXVII.

PRONUNCIATION.

LETTERS are formed into words, and undergo some changes. A, for instance, has one sound in father, and another in fate. TH is sharp in thin, but flat in thine. To mark these changes, and give the true sounds of letters in words, is the part of pronunciation.

Pronunciation is the giving of the right sounds to letters in words, and accents to syllables. Thus, neither should be pronounced as if written nee'ther, and not as if written nayther, or neether.

What is pronunciation! What two things belong to it?

INSTRUCTION XXVIII.

ORTHOEPY.

THE spoken word comes to the ear. It is a sound, and can be studied. The branch of knowledge that tells us all about it, is called orthopy.

Orthoëpy comes from two Greek words, and means correct speaking. It teaches us the spoken word—its sounds, syllables, quantity and accent.

What is orthoëpy? What does it teach? What belongs to it?

INSTRUCTION XXIX.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

THE written word is seen by the eye. It has form and parts, and can be studied. The branch of knowledge that tells us all about it, is called orthography.

Orthography comes from two Greek words, and means correct writing. It teaches us the written word—its letters, syllables, quantity and accent.

What is orthography! What does it teach? What belongs to it?

INSTRUCTION XXX.

SPELLING.

We cannot write words unless we know the sounds that make them, and the letters which stand for these sounds. I hear, for instance, the word, child. How shall I be able to write it? By learning that it is made up of the sounds, - - -; and that these sounds are written by the letters, ch, i, l, d. This is spelling.

Spelling is naming the sounds that make a word, or writing the letters that stand for these sounds. Thus, I spell the word, thin, by naming the sounds, --, or writing the letters, th, i, n. Writing is the only sure way of learning to spell.

What is spelling? How many ways can you spell? Which is the better way?

INSTRUCTION XXXI.

PHONETIC SPELLING.

THE sounds given to the letters in the alphabet are not the sounds which they have in words. The letter, H, for instance, is called aitch, in the alphabet, and never has this sound in words. Its true sound is heh; as in he. This is very troublesome to children in spelling. Thus, we spell the word, hat, aitch, ā, te, and pronounce it, hat.

Phonetic spelling does away with this trouble. It gives the true sound to each letter—the sound which it has in the word. Thus, we spell in this way, the word, church, cheh, ŭ, er, cheh—church.

What is phonetic spelling? Give an instance.

INSTRUCTION XXXII.

THE MEANING OF WORDS.

Words are signs of things, and have a meaning. This must be known, or words are of little use to us. I have, for instance, the word, deck. How shall I use it? Its meaning will be my guide. Deck means to dress or adorn. The child decks her head with flowers.

The meaning of a word is what it stands for. It is best learned by seeing or feeling the thing. Thus, the word, tooth-ache, stands for a pain in a tooth. I know its meaning when I feel that pain.

No word should be allowed to find its way into the mind without its meaning.

What is the meaning of a word! How is it best learned!

INSTRUCTION XXXIII.

THE USE OF WORDS.

Words are a kind of tools. By them, we think and give shape to what we think. By words, we make known our thoughts and feelings. This is their use.

The use of a word is the employing it to stand for what it was made to stand for. Thus, we all have feelings. One of these is named by the word, like, and another by the word, love. I use these words, when I employ them to stand for the feelings, like and love; as, when I say, I like my books and love my parents.

No word should be allowed to find its way into the mind without a knowledge of its use.

What is the use of a word! How do we use words!

INSTRUCTION XXXIV.

HOW WE USE WORDS.

Words, as you have learned, are the weapons or tools of the mind. It uses them to tell what it thinks and feels. It can do so only in sentences.

A sentence is two or more words by which we say something of something. Thus, My mother is sick, is a sentence. It says something of something.

In the use of words, we use, in this book, two kinds of sentences. The teacher uses an interrogative one; and the child a declarative one.

An interrogative sentence is two or more words by which we ask something about something. Thus, Is home dear?

A declarative sentence is two or more words by which we say something of something. Thus, Home is dear.

What is a sentence! How many kinds used in this book! What is an interrogative sentence! A declarative one!

INSTRUCTION XXXV.

INSTRUCTIONS ABOUT ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.

THE end of the first part is reached. Here we may pause, and look back upon our course. We have learned many things by the way. We have learned all that is useful to us at present about the Ango-Saxon root-words of our language.

. We are now ready to begin their study, and learn how to spell, define and use above ONE THOUSAND of the est words in our language—the words of home, of the heart, of the senses, of childhood and of daily life.

What have we learned up to this place? What are we now ready to begin?

SECOND PART.

STUDIES IN ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.

. . . •

STUDIES

IN

ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS.

CHAPTER I.

STUDIES IN ANGLO-SAXON BOOT-WORDS.

THE study of words may be made a very pleasing one Words are wonderful things. Some of them are TALES, and some of them are HISTORIES. The Anglo-Saxon rootwords, which we are now going to study, are dear ones. They are signs of many sweet things about home and the heart.

FIRST STUDY.

STUDY.

THERE is no growth in knowledge without study. Without it, there is nothing learned well.

Study is fixing the mind on what we wish to know, and learning all we can about it.

In this way, we study trees and animals; in this way, we study our pains, hopes and sorrows. In the same way, we are to study words.

What is study!

SECOND STUDY.

THE STUDY OF WORDS.

THERE are about ONE THOUSAND WORDS in this little book; and these are all to be studied. Their study is not hard. If you know how to study one, you will find it an easy thing to study all the others. An instance follows:

If the written word, manly, is to be studied, we fix the mind upon it through the sense of sight, and find out its letters, syllables, accent, quantity, meaning and use. Thus, manly, is composed of the letters, m, a, n, l, y; the syllables, man, ly; has the accent on mán; the syllable man is short, and ly is long; the word means like man, and may be used thus—Robert is a manly child.

If the spoken word is to be studied, we fix the mind upon it through the sense of hearing, and find out its sounds, syllables, accent, quantity, meaning and use: we also attend to articulation, enunciation, pronunciation and spelling. Thus, the word, father, is made up of the sounds, -, -, -, -, -; the syllables, fa, ther; has the accent on fa; fa is long and ther is short; the word means the male parent of man, and is used in this instance—Father is kind. In speaking it, we join the organ of speech in each sound, enunciate it clearly, and pronounce it thus—father. We spell it thus—feh, ah, fah, theh, ĕ, er, ther, fahther.

There are some other things to be known in the study of words. They will come before us hereafter.

What is study! How do we study the written word! Give an instance. How do we study the spoken word! Give an instance.

THIRD STUDY.

THE PLAN OF STUDY.

A PLAN is a great help in every thing we wish to do.

If we work without one, we will not work well.

A plan is a form, copy or model by which we are guided in our work.

The plan for the study of Anglo-Saxon root-words, is a very simple one.

- 1. The words are brought before the mind in GROUPS. Thus, home, stead, homestead, house, form a group.
- 2. Each group of words belongs to some THING. Thus, the group of words, barn, shed, crib, rack and stall, belong to outhouses. Outhouses are the thing.
- 3. The names of things are first given; then the names of qualities; and lastly, the names of actions. Thus, under HOME, we give the names of the things, home, stead, house; then the names of the qualities, sweet, dear; and lastly, the names of the actions, draw, hallow.
- 4. The meaning of each word is given. First is given the meaning of the word when it was made; as, husband, the house band or bond, binding the family together; and then the common meaning of the word; as, husband, a man wedded to a woman.
- 5. The use of each word is also given. The teacher asks a question, in which he uses the word, and thus gives a model to the child. The child turns this question into an answer, and gives the same use of the words. Thus:

Teacher. Is a barn a place for grain? Child. A barn is a place for grain.

What is a plan? Go over the plan for the study of Anglo-Saxon root-words

FOURTH STUDY.

A MODEL OF THE PLAN OF STUDY.

THE child, in early life, imitates what he sees and hears. He learns from models better than from maxims or sayings.

This is true of the plan of study. We accordingly bring it before the mind in a model. We select HOME and its words.

THE MODEL.

HOME.

HOME is the dearest spot on earth. The heart turns to it, wherever we may be.

HOME, a cover; the place where one lives. Teacher.—Is home a dear place! Child.—Home is a dear place.

STEAD, a stand; room or place. Teacher.—Shall I answer in your stead? Child.—You may answer in my stead.

Homestead, the place of home; one's abode. Teacher.—Do you like the o'd homestead? Child.—I do like the old homestead.

House, a closed place; a building to live in. Teacher.—Is your house large? Child.—Our house is large.

In this model, every thing is done for the child. In the following studies, every thing is done, but one, the answer to each question, and this is easy. The child has only to learn what is done, and be able to answer each question.

Tell what is said about the model.

FIFTH STUDY.

PREPARING A STUDY.

THE study for the day is pointed out to the child. It may be HOME and its words. These are to be studied. He takes his seat and opens his book. What is to be done? WORDS ARE TO BE STUDIED.

STUDY.

Study is fixing the mind on what we wish to know, and learning all we can about it.

THE WRITTEN WORD.

In this case, the written word is the thing to be studied. The mind is fixed upon it through the sense of sight. What is it? The written word is one or more letters used as a sign of the spoken word. See Ins. VII.

THE SPOKEN WORD.

The written word becomes the spoken one, when we speak it. And what is this? The spoken word is a sound of the human voice, used as the sign of a thing. See Ins. II.

THE STEPS.

The steps in the study are easily marked.

- 1. The WRITTEN word. In studying this, the mind is fixed upon it through the sense of sight. We mark the letters, syllables, accent, quantity, meaning and use in the question of the teacher. See Ins. VIII.
- 2. The SPOKEN word. When we say the study, the written word becomes a spoken one. The mind is fixed upon it through the sense of hearing. We mark its sounds, syllables, accent, quantity, meaning and use. See Ins. III.
- 3. The use of the word. This is shown to the child in the question of the teacher, and is to be studied. The child learns what it means, and shapes an answer in the same words. Thus he learns to use words, the weapons of the mind.

What is to be studied? What is study? The written word? Spoken word? The steps?

SIXTH STUDY.

RECITING THE STUDY.

THE child or class is called out to recite a study. It may be home. The recitation begins. The subject is home.

Teacher.—Home. This is the subject of study. Robert, what do you know about it?

Child.—Home is the dearest spot on earth. The heart turns to it, wherever we may be.

Teacher .- Home.

Child.—Home. Heh, o, em, e, (spelling it,) a cover; the place where one lives.

Teacher.—Is home a dear place? Child.—Home is a dear place.

Thus, the recitation goes on till the study is ended. It is a pleasing talk, and cannot fail to bring light to the young mind.

How are the lessons to be said !

SEVENTH STUDY.

NAMES OF THINGS.

THINGS are about us every where. Their names are common and well known. They were the first words that we gathered up in childhood. What is a name?

A name is what we call any thing by. Tree is a name, for we call a certain thing by it.

The child first gathered up the names of things. It learned the names, pa, papa, ma, mamma, dog, and could call them. So our knowledge of words began. So let our study of words begin—begin with the NAMES OF THINGS.

But with what things? Those of childhood. We begin with the names of the things of home, and go forth to the wide, wide world. We end with God.

What is a name! Do we begin to learn words with names!

EIGHTH STUDY.

THINGS.

THINGS, in some form or other, are ever with us. When we speak, or write, words are their signs.

Words and things go together. Words are of no use, unless we know the things for which they stand; and things have little interest for us, unless we have words to make known what we know and feel about them.

Things are greater than words. Words wait upon them. This being so, we wisely make them points of interest around which we gather groups of words. They should be made as full of interest as they can be, so that we may not soon forget the words which belong to them. The THING should be held up before the mind till its image is fixed upon the heart. Then its words will abide in our memory.

What do you know about things and words?

CHAPTER II.

HOME.

HOME is the NURSERY of life. Here, our first hopes were born. And here, in scenes full of sweetness, we began to speak and gather up our first words. Here let us return and begin their study, for home is always dear.

"How dear to this heart are the scenes of my childhood, When fund recollection recalls them to view; The orchard, the meadow, the deep-tangled wildwood, And every loved spot that my infancy knew!"

S. WOODWORTH.

Repeat what is said about home.

NINTH STUDY.

HOME.

Home is the dearest spot on eartn. The heart turns to it, wherever we may be.

"Where'er I roam, whatever realms I see,
My heart untravelled fondly turns to thee." GOLDSMITH.

Repeat what is said about home.

Home, a cover; the place where one lives.

Is home a dear place?

Strand, a stand; place or room.

HOMESTRAD, the place of home.

Do you love the old homestead?

House, a covering; a building to live

Is Robert in your stead?

Is the house large?

TENTH STUDY.

OUTHOUSES.

OUTHOUSES are a very useful kind of buildings. They belong to every fine home in the country. Neat outhouses - adorn a place.

What is said about outhouses?

Our, forth; on the outside.

Is the master of the house out?
OUTHOUSE, a building without the one in which we live.

Is the outhouse old?

Barn, a place for barley; a house for grain and cattle.

Is the barn new?

SHED, a shade or cover; an open place for cattle.

Is the shed low?

Chir, that which catches; the manger or box out of which cattle feed.

Is the crib long?

RACK, something stretched; a frame from which cattle eat hay.

Was the rack burnt?

STALL, a stand; a stand for a horse

Is the stail narrow?

or an ox.

ELEVENTH STUDY.

KINDS OF HOUSES.

THERE are many kinds of houses in which man dwells. They range from the Indian wigwam to the royal palace.

"A straw-roofed cabin with a lowly wall,

Mine is a fair and pillared hall,

Where many an image of marble gleams,

And the sunshine of picture for ever streams."

Hemans.

Repeat what is said of kinds of houses.

Hur, a small cover; a small poor place to live in.

Have the Irish huts?

Hover, an open house, or cave; a rude house to live in.

Is a hovel low?

Cor, something cut off for a cover; a very small, rude house.

Do poor people live in a cot?
Cottage, a cover to live in; a small house in which the poor live.

Are cottages pretty!

Hall, a tent; a large house where courts of justice meet; also a noble dwelling house.

Is the hall a noble house?

CASTLE, a closed place-of defense; a fortified house, or princely building.

Are there many castles in England?

Church, the Lord's house; a house in which God is worshipped.

Is the church holy!

TWELFTH STUDY.

GROUPS OF HOUSES.

MAN is a social being. He likes to be near his fellowman, and builds near him. Social homes arise, villages, towns and cities.

> "Sweet Auburn, loveliest village of the plain, Where health and plenty cheer the lab'ring swain."

> > GOLDSMITH.

Repeat what is said about groups of houses.

clamer, a little house; a small number of houses together. Is the hamlet small? fown, a fortified hill; a group of houses larger than a village. Is the town noisy?
Borough, a closed place; a town having its own rulers.

Is the borough large?

THIRTEENTH STUDY.

PARTS OF A HOUSE.

THE house has many parts; and all its parts have their uses. The names of these form a fine group of words

"Through that door

Was shown:

That deep descent leads to the dripping vaults;
Leads to a covered bridge, the Bridge of Sighs;
And, to that fatal closet at thy foot,
An iron door. But let us to the roof;
And when thou hast surveyed the sea, the land,
Visit the narrow cells."

ROGERS' ITALY.

Repeat what is said about parts of the house.

Side, drawn out; the long part of a thing.

Has a house two sides?

Our, forth; on the outside.

Can you go out?

Ourside, the side without a thing.

May the outside of a house be stone

In, inclosed; inside.

Were you in the house?

Inside, the side within a thing.

Is the inside of a house clean?

END, the point, or limit; the narrow part of a thing.

Has a house two ends?

Door, an opening; a passage into a house.

Is the door painted?

Post, set or firm; an upright stick of timber.

Is the post square?

Door-rosr, the upright part of the door-frame.

Do you see the door-post?
Sill, that is laid down; the wood or stone under a door or window.

Is the sill of the window wet?

Room, place or space; a part of the space in a house.

Is the room low!

BED, a spread; a tick filled with hair, wool, straw or feathers, on which to aleep.

Is a feather bed soft !

Bedroom, space for a spread; a room to sleep in.

Is your bedroom large!

KITCHEN, a cooking-room; a room used to cook in.

May a kitchen be small?

Court, a circuit; an uncovered space before a house.

Do children play in the court?

HEARTH, earth; the pavement or stone on which the fire is made.

Does the fire burn on the hearth? Roor, stretched over; the cover of a house.

Is the roof of that house flat!

Floom, spread out; the bottom part of a house or room.

Is the floor wooden!

GATE, a gap or passage; a large door.

Is the gate new!

LATOH, a catch; a bar to fasten a door.

Is the latch made of iron?

FOURTEENTH STUDY.

HOUSEHOLD-STUFF.

A BUILDING in itself does not form a home. Furniture is also needed.

"Yet I saw the idle loom Still in its place; his Sunday garment hung Upon the self-same nail; his very staff Stood undisturbed behind the door."

WORDSWORTH.

Repeat what is said about household-stuff.

House a covering; a building for storage or dwelling.

Do we live in a house?

Hold, grasp; what is embraced or Bowl, a hollow; a vessel to hold contained.

Is your hold firm?

Household, those contained in a house; the persons who live in it. Do those who live in a house make the household?

Stuff, that which fills; household articles.

Shall we keep useless stuff?

Household-stuff, the things in a house.

Are chairs household-stuff?

BED, a spread; that on which we slæp.

Are bods useful things!

Bolsten, that which raises up; a cushion for the head.

Is the bolster soft !

Pillow, a stuffing; a small cushion for the head.

Are pillows stuffed with feathers? SHEET, a cloth: a linen or cotton under cover for a bed.

Are sheets made of muslin? Wash, a flowing; a cleansing with water.

Did you see the wash?

STAND, a station; a place or frame on which any thing may be laid.

Is the stand small !

WASHSTAND, the frame or table at which one washes.

Is the washstand light!

water in.

Is the bowl broken!

Stool, a seat; a seat without a back,

Is the stool made of wood! STOVE, a fixed place; that in which we make fire.

Do we burn fire in a stove? Pan, spread out; a broad hollow vessel.

Is the milk pan new!

CRADLE, a rocking; the bed on which small children are rocked.

Does the cradle injure the head?

CROCK, a pot; an earthen vessel. Is the crock made of earth?

Dish, something flat; a broad open vessel to eat off.

Are dishes easily broken!

FORK, a parted rod; that with which we lift our food.

Are forks made of silver! KNIFE, that which nips; that with which we cut any thing.

Is the knife made of steel? Cur, a bending; a small vessel out of which we drink.

Do we drink tea out of a cup? Tongs, shafts; a tool of two shafts joined at one end.

Are the tongs made of iron!

CHAPTER III.

HOUSEHOLD.

A FURNISHED house always leads us to look for a household—a family bound together by love.

> "And oh, the atmosphere of home! how bright It floats around us when we sit together, Under a bower of vine in summer weather, Or round the hearth-stone on a winter's night!"

> > PARK BENJAMIN.

Repeat what is said about the household.

FIFTEENTH STUDY.

HOUSEHOLD.

THERE are many dear names in the household—names of love.

> "He entered in his house—his home no more, For without hearts there is no home."

BYRON.

Repeat what is said about the household.

a house.

Is the household large! HUSBAND, the house band; a man joined to a woman by marriage.

Is a husband the head of the Wife, one who weaves; a woman joined to a man in marriage.

Does the wife love her husband! CHILD, issue; a son or a daughter.

Is a good child loved! FATHER, one who feeds; the male parent of man.

Do you love your father?

HOUSEHOLD, the persons who live in Mother, the source; the female parent of man.

> Is a mother dear! Son, light; the male child.

May a son be idle!

DAUGHTER, grace; the female child. Is a good daughter a blessing? BROTHER, brood; a male child having the same parents.

Is your brother kind! SISTER, set; a female child having the same parents.

Should you love your sister? BAIRN, born; a child.

Is the bairn good!

with us by blood or marriage.

Should our kin be dear to us!

KIN, kind, or class; those connected KINDRED, those of the same familyrelations.

Do you love your kindred?

SIXTEENTH STUDY.

SERVANTS.

SERVANTS form a very useful class of men and women.

"From his sixth year, the boy of whom I speak, WORDSWORTH. In summer, tended cattle on the hills."

Repeat what is said about servants.

ready.

Is a cook useful?

MAID, able; a female servant. Is the chamber-maid young ?

KITCHEN-MAID, the girl in the cooking-room; one who works in the kitchen.

Is the kitchen-maid sick? House-main, the girl for the whole house; one who keeps a house clean.

Is the house-maid busy! Washer, one who washes.

Is the woman a good washer? Woman, the source of man; the female of man.

Is sooman kind!

Washer-woman, a woman who washes clothes.

Is the washer-woman poor?

HIRE, price; wages for work. Do servants get hire?

Hireling, a little paid man; one who works for wages.

Is a kirding honest?

Cook, boiling; one who makes food Plough, that which thrusts; a tool to turn up the ground.

Is the plough useful!

Man, a form or shape; a male of the human race.

Is a man strong?

Ploughman, a man who guides a plough.

Should the ploughman be strong! CAR that which runs; a vehicle moved on wheels.

Is the car drawn by one horse? CARMAN, a man who drives a car.

Are there many carmen in cities! TEAM, offspring; yoked horses or

Is an ox team strong!

TEAMSTER, one who guides, or who drives a team.

Does the teamster work hard? SHEEP, a well-known useful animal.

Are sheep clothed with wool?

HERD, one who keeps.

SHEPHERD, a sheep keeper; a man who to

Is th

Foor, that which treads; the part of STEWARD, a place keeper; a man who the body on which we stand.

Do you like a small foot? foot.

Did the footman open the door!

manages house affairs.

Should the stoward be faithful? FOOTMAN, a servant who waits on HENCHMAN, a serving man; one who serves another.

Should a henchman be true!

SEVENTEENTH STUDY.

FOOD.

ONE of the first cares of a household is food.

"Every moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the green herb have I given you all things."-BIBLE.

What is said of food!

FOOD, what feeds; that which we eat LOAF, a shaped mass; a mass of dough to keep up life.

What is food?

Bread, a lump of food; a kind of food made from flour. .

What is bread made of?

BARM, what works or boils; yeast or leaven.

Is barm used to raise bread?

MEAT, what we eat; any kind of food: flesh of animals.

Is meat healthy!

Dough, a tough mass; leavened flour kneaded, but not baked.

Is bread made from dough?

baked.

Is the loaf large!

HAM, the thigh of a pig salted and smoked.

Do you like ham?

MILE, what is got by stroking; the white fluid from female animals.

Is milk used in tea!

BUTTER, what is made by striking: the oily substance taken from milk by churning.

Is butter made from milk!

CHEESE, drawn or curdled; the pressed curd of milk.

Do we make cheese from milk !

EIGHTEENTH STUDY.

CLOTHING.

CLOTHING, next to food, is an early care of the household.

"Loveliness

Needs not the foreign aid of ornament, But is, when unadorned, adorned the most."

THOMSON.

What is said of clothing?

Cloth, what covers; any thing made of wool, flax or cotton.

Is cloth warm?

CLOTHER, covering for the body.

Are your clother tidy?

CLOTHING, all kinds of garments, or coverings for the body.

Have you much clothing?

Mantle, what shuts; a cloak, or loose covering for the body.

Is the mantle made of silk!

BELT, what is drawn round; a band worn round the waist.

Do you wear a belt?

Car, end or point; a low cover for the head.

May the boy wear his new cap?
SLEEVE, the hand; that part of the dress which covers the arm.

Are long sleeves warmest!

Tipper, the top; a garment for the neck.

Is the tippet made of fur!

Hood, a head-cover; a covering for the head of a woman.

May a hood be thick !

Hose, a heel-covering; a covering for the leg.

Are woollen hose warmest!

GLOVE, a cover; a cover for the hand.

Do gloves keep your hands warm!

SHOE, something put on; a covering for the foot.

Are shoes made of leather?

HAT, a cover or defense; a cover for the head.

Does the boy wear a hat? Shroud, what wraps; the dress of the dead.

Are the dead put in shrouds?

CHAPTER IV.

MAN.

THE house, food, clothing and furniture, are all little or nothing compared with man. He is the greatest study of life.

"The glory, jest and riddle of the world."

POPE.

What is said of man!

Young.

NINETEENTH STUDY.

MAN.

MAN was made in the image of God; but sin has taken away his beauty and holiness.

> "How poor, how rich, how abject, how august, How complicate, how wonderful is man! A beam ethereal, sullied and absorbed! Though sullied and dishonored, still divine!"

Man, a form or shape; a male of the Guest, one who goes out; a visitor human race.

Has man a soul?

WOMAN, source of man: a female of the human race.

Can woman love!

FELLOW, one who follows; a companion of the same kind.

Where is your fellow!

GAWK, a cuckoo; a poor simple person.

Is a gawk foolish?

Book, a rustic, or farmer; a rude countryman.

'Were the Saxons boors?

Swain, a boy; a young farmer.

Is the swain happy?

from a distance.

Should we welcome a guest?

HEATHEN, a dweller on the heath: one who does not know the true

Shall the heathen be converted? Knave, a boy, a youth; a rogue, or person who is not honest.

Do you like a knave?

Churl, a male or strong man; a rude ill-bred man.

Do you like a churl?

NEIGHBOR a near rustic or farmer: one who lives near another.

Who is your neighbor?

TWENTIETH STUDY.

THE BODY OF MAN.

THE body is the habitation of the soul. The old Saxons called it the soul's house.

> "Sure 'tis a serious thing to die: In that dread moment how the frantic soul Raves round the walls of her clay tenement, Runs to each avenue, and shrieks for help."

BLAIR.

What is said of the body of man!

Body, that is fixed; the frame of an animal or man.

Is the body wonderfully made?
Skin, a covering; the covering of the body.

Should the skin be kept clean !

FRAME, joined; the skeleton of bones.

Is the frame of the body made of bones?

FLESH, soft; the soft part of the body.

Does flesh cover the bones?

TWENTY-FIRST STUDY.

THE HEAD-THE CHIEF PART OF THE BODY.

THE head of man is the seat of the soul.

"Remove yon skull from out the scattered heaps!
Is that a temple where a god may dwell?
Look on its broken arch, its ruined wall,
Its chambers desolate, and portals foul:
Yes, this was once ambition's airy hall,
The dome of thought, the palace of the soul!"

BYRON.

What is said of the head?

HEAD, the top; the upper part of the body.

Is the soul found in the head?

Lip, border; the border of the mouth.

Is your lip red?

Now, a ridge; the ridge of the face.

Nose, a ridge; the ridge of the face. Is the nose the seat of smell? Nostril, the nose-hole; the passage through the nose.

Do we breathe through the nostrils?

Tooth, a shoot; a bony substance growing out of the jaw.

Does the tooth ever ache!

Mouth, an outlet; the outlet of the voice.

Is the sense of taste in the mouth?

Tongue, a point or projection; the instrument of speech and taste.

Is the tongue the chief organ of taste?

CHEEK, a side; the side of the face below the eyes.

Is there a bone in the cheek f CHIN, an edge; the lower part of the face.

Is Jane's chin small?

Brow, a ridge; the ridge over the eye.

Is the brow formed of short hairs?

Eve, a fount; the organ of tears and sight.

Does the sense of sight reside in the eye?

NECK, the knob, or nape; the part of the body between the head and the chest.

Is my neck short?

EAR, a shoot; the organ of hearing.

Is the ear very delicate?

BRAIN, the fore part; the soft substance in the skull.

Is the brain in the head?
THEOAT, swallow; the front part of the neck.

Is the throat in the neck?

NAPE, a knob; the high joint of the neck behind.

Is the nape of the neck behind!

TWENTY-SECOND STUDY.

THE CHEST-THE MIDDLE PART OF THE BODY.

THE chest contains the lungs and the heart.

"How his great heart Beats thick! his roomy chest by far too scant To give the lungs full play."

BLAIR.

What is said of the chest?

CHEST, a trunk; that part of the body from the neck to the stomach.

Is the chest the seat of the heart?
BREAST, a bunch or swelling; the fore part of the chest.

Is there a bone in the breast?

BACK, a ridge; the hinder part of the chest.

Should we turn our back to a person!

Ris, side border; a bone which forms part of the frame of the chest.

Are there twenty-four ribs?

Sing, drawn out; part where the ribs are.

Which is your right side? Lungs, long; the organs of breathing, consisting of air cells.

Are there two lungs?

BREATH, vapor; the air taken in and thrown out of the lungs.

HEART, strong; the vessel that holds the blood.

Is blood carried away from the heart by arteries?

LIVER, weight; a large red organ which separates bile.

Is the liver in the right side?

Gall, yellow; a bitter bottle-green fluid.

Is the gall bitter !

Bloop, that which flows; the red fluid that flows from the heart.

Is blood conveyed to the heart by veins?

Low, leaning in; the side below the ribs.

Do the loins lean inward ?

TWENTY-THIRD STUDY.

THE UPPER LIMBS.

THE hand is a wonderful work. No tool in the world is so skilfully made.

"I rose up to open to my beloved; and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with sweet-smelling myrrh."—Bible.

What is said of the upper limbs?

Lms, a branch; a branch of the body.

Are there four limbs!

Arm, a joint; the limb reaching from the shoulder to the hand.

How many arms have you?

Shoulder, a shield; the joint connecting the arm and body.

Is there a large bone in the shoulder?

Elbow, the arm bow; the angle made by bending the arm.

Does the elbow contain bones? HAND, that which seizes; the end of the arm, palm and fingers. Is the hand useful!

FINGER, that which takes; one of the extreme parts of the hand.

Have you ten fingers?

THUMB, an inch; the short thick finger.

Is the thumb shorter than the other fingers?

Fist, fast or firm; the closed hand.

Can you knock with your fist?

KNUCKLE, a coupling; a joint of the finger.

Do you rap with your knuckles?

TWENTY - FOURTH STUDY:

THE LOWER LIMBS.

THE lower limbs of the body are wisely framed for carrying us from place to place.

"Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not."-Breize

What is said of the lower limbs?

THIGH, thick; that part between the SHIN, a splint; the round bone on the body and leg.

Are both thighs alike?

HIP, lump; the fleshy part of the thigh.

Is the hip formed by the thigh bonef

KNEE, a knob or bunch; the joint of the thigh and leg.

Can the knee be broken!

STEP, stretch or distance; the space between the foot.

Toz, a sprout; one of the extreme parts of the foot.

Are there ten toes?

Is the shin the largest bone in the legi

ANKLE, a ball or clew; the joint between the leg and foot.

Are there three bones in the ankle!

Foor, that which treads; the lower end of the leg.

Has the foot ten toes!

HEEL, a lump; the hind part of the

Where is the heel?

TWENTY-FIFTH STUDY.

STATES OF THE BODY.

THE body changes from work to rest, and from play to sleep.

"All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players;

They have their exits and their entrances." SHAKSPEARE.

What is said of the states of the body!

Work, exercise; labor or active use of strength.

Is work a means of health?

PLAY, a bending; exercise for plea-

Do you like play?

REST, a ceasing; repose from labor.

Do we take rest at night!

SLEEP, loose; repose from the use of body and mind.

Does sleep refresh us!

HEALTH, that is whole; a sound state of the body.

Are you in good health?

STRENGTH, that is stretched; power of body.

Has a sick person much strength?

TWENTY-SIXTH STUDY.

DISEASES OF THE BODY.

DISEASE follows the steps of health in this world.

"Far from his friends he strayed, recording thus The dear remembrance of his native fields To cheer the tedious night; while slow disease Preyed on his pining vitals."

BRUCE.

What is said of disease?

Sick, loathing; touched with disease.

Is it painful to be sick?

Pain, a straining; an uneasy feeling.

Have the sick many pains?

Pang, a torture; great pain or agony.

Do pangs often trouble us?

Ache, a pressing; constant pain.

Is man subject to aches?
Ague, a shaking; a cold fit.

Is ague common to many persons?

BLAIN, a swelling; a sore on the skin.

Did God send blains on Egypt?
PIMPLE, a little point; a little rising on the skin.

Do pimples break out on the face !

CROUP, a croaking; a disease of the throat.

Are children troubled with the croup?

TWENTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

THE SENSES.

THE senses are the instruments of the soul.

"Even so the soul in this contracted state,
Confined to these strait instruments of sense,
More dull and narrowly doth operate;
At this hole hears, the sight must ray from hence,
Here tastes, there smells—
She is one orb of sense, all eye, all airy ear."

DR. HENRY MORE.

Repeat what is said about the senses.

SMELL, warm; the sense by which HEARING, a pointing the ear; the odors are noticed.

Is the sense of smell found in the nose ?

Smelling, the sense by which we perceive odors.

Is smelling one of the five senses?

sense by which we perceive sounds.

Is hearing found in the ear? SEEING, seeking; noticing by the eye.

Does the sense of seeing lie in the eye!

CHAPTER V.

THE SOUL.

MAN is more than a living creature. "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul."

> "Life is real; life is earnest, And the grave is not its goal. Dust thou art, to dust returnest, Was not spoken of the soul."

LONGFELLOW.

What is said of the soul?

TWENTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

THE SOUL.

THE soul is the chief glory of man.

"O listen, man! A voice within us speaks the startling word, Man, thou shalt never die!"

DARRA.

Repeat what is said of the soul.

thinks and acts.

Does the soul die!

MIND, possessing; that part of man which knows.

Should you fill your mind with knowledge ?

Soul, life; that part of man which HEART, strong; that part of man which feels.

Is the heart of man evil?

Will, fixed or set; that part of the mind by which we plan.

Does the will plan to do things?

TWENTY-NINTH STUDY.

STATES OF THE SOUL.

THE soul undergoes many changes and passes from one state to another. It is cheerful this moment, the next it is gloomy and sad.

> "Tis the great art of life to manage well The restless mind."

ARMSTRONG.

What is said of the states of the soul?

Mood, having spirit; temper of the Feeling, a pressing; noticing things soul.

Should we live in a happy mood? Sin, missing; departure from that which is good and right.

Does God hate sin? Buss, blithe; mirth of mind. Do we hope for bliss in heaven? THINKING, drawing out; using the power of mind in forming notions. Are we always thinking?

THOUGHT, that is drawn out; that which is produced by thinking.

Have we all some thought?

by the senses.

Do all possess feeling?

Willing, setting; choosing something.

Is the soul willing?

Wisk, searching; knowing or having knowledge.

Is God a wise being?

Dow, doom or judgment; state or dominion.

Wisdom, state of reaching toward, or knowing; right use of knowledge. Does wisdom come from God?

THÍRTIETH STUDY.

POWERS AND FEELINGS OF THE SOUL.

THE soul of man is a thing of wonderful powers. Many feelings lodge within it.

"By degrees the mind Feels her young nerves dilate; the plastic powers Labor for action: blind emotion heaves His bosom; and with loveliest frenzy caught, From earth to heaven he rolls his frenzied eye."

AKENSTOR

What is said of the powers of the soul?

FRELING, a pressing; that which we Lusz, a longing; a longing desire. learn by the senses.

Have all feeling?

SHAME, a blush; a feeling of guilt.

Have you no shame?

PRIDE, adorned; great thoughts of oneself.

Is pride sinful?

HATE, hot; great dislike.

Is hate to a person wrong? Love, a leaning; delight in any thing.

Is love a feeling?

Sorrow, sore or heavy; pain of mind for some loss.

Has a mother many sorrows?

Hope, a reaching forward; expectation of future good.

Does hope cheer us!

FEAR, a bearing down; a painful feeling in view of future evil.

Has the sinner many fears?

GLAD, lifted up; cheerful. , Does hope make our hearts glad?

GLADNESS, a kind of delight.

Does gladness ever beam upon us?

Should we gratify all lusts? SMILE, melting; a cheerful play of the lips.

Do you like to see a smile? TEAR, a drop; a fluid that is seen in the eye, the sign of joy or grief.

Can you dry up your tears?

Belief, leaving with; an assent of the mind to what is true.

Is your belief strong? Wrr, mind or knowledge.

Has he much wit?

LAUGH, loose; an expression of mirth. Do you like to hear a man laugh?

LAUGHTER, audible mirth.

Can you make laughter? FRIEND, freed one; one free to love and be loved.

Are true friends often found? SHIP, shape; state or office.

FRIENDSHIP, love between two or more persons.

Is friendship sweet?

CHAPTER VI.

RUSINESS.

MAN can be studied best in the business of life. Work and rest alike show what he is.

> "Let us then be up and doing, With a heart for any fate; Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait."

LONGFELLOW.

What is said of business?

THIRTY-FIRST STUDY.

FARMING.

THE care of the soil is a very old calling. "Abel was a keeper of sheep, and Cain was a tiller of the ground."

"Oft did the harvest to the sickle yield,

Their harrow oft the stubborn glebe had broke;

How jocund did they drive their team a-field,

How bowed the woods beneath their sturdy stroke."

GRAY.

FARMING, getting bread; the business of tilling the land.

Is farming a healthy occupation?

FARM, bread; a tract of land tilled by one man.

Is the farm large?
THEREMING, beating, or treading; the act of beating out grain.

Is threshing hard work?
Mowing, a heaping; the act of cutting down grass.

Is mowing heavy work?
REAPING, cutting; the act of cutting grain with a sickle.

Is reaping light work?
PLOUGHING, thrusting; the act of turning up the ground in fur-

Is ploughing a work of the farmer!

Sowing, swinging or scattering.

RAKING, reaching; the act of gathering hay or grain.

Is raking a work of the farmer?
SHEEP, a well-known and useful animal.

Are sheep gentle! Hend, a keeper.

SHEPHERD, a sheep keeper; one who takes care of sheep.

Did the star at Christ's birth appear to shepherds? Land, cleared place; ground that is tilled.

Is land dear?

Lord, a bread giver; a master or ruler.

Is lord a title in England f LANDLORD, a bread giver to those who hold his land; the owner of land or houses.

Should the landlord be kind?

THIRTY - SECOND втпру.

HUNTING AND FISHING.

MAN, in a rude state of society, depends for support on fishing and hunting. Nimrod, we are told, was a mighty hunter.

> "There was an old hunter camped down by the rill, Who fished in this water, and shot on that hill; The forest for him had no danger or gloom, For all that he wanted was plenty of room." HOFFMAN.

Repeat what is said.

animals.

HUNTER, one who chases wild ani- FISHER, one who takes fish.

Are there many hunters at the west!

HUNTING, thrusting; the chase of wild Fish, rapid or lively; an animal that lives in water.

Was hunting an early employ- Fishing, the practice of taking fish. Is fishing pleasant?

> Does the fisher pass through dangers ?

THIRTY-THIRD STUDY.

BUILDING.

MAN, in early life, shows a taste for building. The house, boat and carriage engage his care.

> "Cedar of Maine and Georgia pine Here together shall combine."

LONGFELLOW.

Repeat what is said.

in.

Is your house made of brick! WRIGHT, work; a workman.

Is the wright busy?

House, a covering; a building to live Housewhight, one who builds houses Is the housewright useful?

MILL, that softens; a machine for grinding grain.

Have you ever seen a mill?

Millwright, one who builds mills.

Is the millwright needed in the country?

Ship, shape; a vessel to move on water.

Has a ship sails? Shipwright, one who builds ships. Does the shipwright need much timber? Frame, joined; the timbers of a building joined together. Is the frame strong? BOARD, broad; a piece of timber sawed thin.

Have you ever seen a board ?

THIRTY-FOURTH STUDY.

SMITHING.

THERE were workers in metal in the family of Lamech.

"Week in, week out, from morn till night,
You can hear his bellows blow;
You can hear him swing his heavy sledge
With measured beat and slow."
LONGFELLOW

Repeat what is said.

Smithing, a striking; the practice of working in metals.

Did smithing arise very early? Smith, a stroke; one who works in metals.

Is a smith a mechanic?

BLACK, livid, or wan; dark, or without light.

Is night black?

BLACKSMITH, one who works in iron.

Does the blacksmith need a forge?

Silver, a bright white metal.

Is silver a useful metal?

SILVERSMITH, one who works in silver. Can the silversmith make spoons? Gold, bright yellow; a bright yellow metal.

Are pencils made of gold?

Goldsmith, one who works in gold.

Does the goldsmith beat out gold?

Copper, named from Cyprus; a pale red colored metal.

Are pennies made of copper?

COPPERSMITH, one who works in copper.

Does the coppersmith make many of our vessels?

LOCK, shut; any thing that fastens.

Has the door a lock?

LOCKSMITH, one who makes locks.

Can the locksmith fit in a key?

THIRTY-FIFTH STUDY.

MANUFACTURING.

BARK of trees, fibres, leaves and other raw materials were wrought up into useful articles of clothing in the early ages of the world.

Repeat what is said.

WEAVING, moving back and forward; the practice of uniting thread into cloth.

Is weaving a very useful employment?

SPINNING, drawing out; the practice of twisting fibres into threads.

Is spinning little heeded now!
Shor, covering; a covering for the foot.

Is a shoe made of leather?

MAKER, one who strains or strives;
one who shapes any thing.

Do you know a maker of shoes? Shoemaker, one who makes shoes.

Can the shoemaker make many kinds of shoes?

WATCH, guard or watch; an instru-, ment that marks time.

Is a watch useful?

WATCHMAKER, one who makes watches.

Will the watchmaker mend your watch?

CLOCK, a click or stroke; an instrument that marks time by striking. Does the clock stand on the mantel? CLOCKMAKER, one who makes clocks.

Book, beech, beech bark; thoughts printed and bound.

Is a book made of paper?
BOOKMAKER, one who makes books.

Is a bookmaker called an author? HAT, a cover, or defense; a high cover for the head.

Do you like a silk hat? HATTER, one who makes hats. Is the hatter a mechanic?

Nail, claw; a pointed piece of metal.

Is the nail useful to the house-wright!

NAILER, one who makes nails.

What does a nailer make? TURNER, one who rounds; one who forms things with the lathe.

Does the turner make tops?

THIRTY-SIXTH STUDY.

WARRING.

WAR too soon became a calling of man. The arms turned against wild beasts, were pointed at the homes and lives of men.

"No solemn host goes trailing by
The black-mouthed gun and staggering wain;
Men start not at the battle-cry:

O, be it never heard again!"

BRYANT.

Repeat what is said.

WAR, a struggle; the practice of arms.

Is war cruel?

Shor, that is darted; a ball or bullet thrown from a gun.

Is shot used in war?

SHOOTING, darting; the act of firing guns or arrows.

Is shooting dangerous?

For, hated; an enemy, or one who hates us.

Is the foe near?

Frun, hate; a deadly quarrel.

Should we take part in a feud?

FIEND, hated; a wicked foe.

Is Satan a fiend?

Fight, strife or struggle; a struggle in arms.

Do men fight?

THIRTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

BUYING AND SELLING.

As soon as man had more of any thing than he needed, he thought of its sale. Trade arose. ,

"Travelling merchants have done much in all ages to add to the comfort and knowledge of man."

What is said of buying and selling?

Buying, possessing; the act of getting things by paying for them.

Is the merchant buying many things?

WEIGHT, that bears down; the quantity of any thing found by weighing it.

Is there a ton weight of butter?

SELLING, giving; giving any thing for a price.

Shop, shape; a building in which goods are shaped or sold.

Is the shop very large?

Shopping, going to shops; going to shops to buy goods.

, Do ladies go shopping?

Monger, a trader; a dealer in any thing.

Has the monger a stall?

Fish, rapid or lively; an animal that lives in water.

Is fish good to eat?

FISHMONGER, one who deals in fish.

Does the fishmonger go about the IRON, struck or beaten; a hard grayish and useful metal.

Is iron more useful than gold?

IRONMONGER, a dealer in iron.

Does an ironmonger deal in iron? Boor, amends, or more; profit, or something more.

Is boot given in trading?

THIRTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

TRACHING.

In the early ages of the world, parents taught their own children. Parents were both teachers and ministers.

What is said of teaching?

"Early had he learned To reverence the volume that displays The mystery, the life which cannot die; But in the mountains did he feel his faith." WORDSWORTH.

TEACHING, leading or drawing; giving Monk, separate; a man who retires knowledge.

Is teaching useful?

TEACHER, one who leads; one who gives knowledge.

Is a teacher kind?

PRIEST, one who stands before others; one who waits at the altar.

Did the priest wait on the dving

Canon, a reed or measure; a church law; also a minister in the Should we obey the canon of the church?

from the world to attend to religion.

Do monks live in an abbey? Nun, not up, or mature; a woman who retires from the world to attend to religion.

Does the nun live in a convent! LEARNING, giving or getting knowledge; gaining knowledge in any wav.

Is learning useful? LEARNER, one who gets knowledge; a person who is getting knowledge. Is a child a learner?

THIRTY-NINTH STUDY.

OTHER LEARNED CALLINGS.

THE doctor, lawyer and author arose after the teacher.

"A placid stillness reigns, Until the man of God, worthy the name, Arise and read the anointed shepherd's lays."

Repeat what is said.

Law, set or laid; a rule of life.

Is the law good?

Lawyer, a law man; one who practises law.

Does the lawyer plead?

HEALER, one who makes whole; one who cures diseases.

Is the doctor a healer?

BEADLE, one who bids or orders; a crier in a court of law.

What does a beadle do?

Canon, a reed or measure; a kind of minister in the church.

Does the canon preach?

Bishor, an overseer; an overseer in the church.

Is the bishop an overseer?

ELDER, more old; an officer in the church.

Should an elder be pious?

FORTIETH STUDY.

THE STATE AND OFFICERS.

· Kingdoms were formed at an early age of the world. Public men arose as officers.

"When freedom from the mountain height Unfurled her standard to the air, She tore the azure robe of night, And set the stars of glory there."

Repeat what is said of the state.

King, able; the chief ruler in a nation.

Has the king supreme power? Queen, a woman; a female ruler.

Does a queen rule in England ! EARL, noble; a nobleman of the third rank.

Does the earl serve the king? KMIGHT, a boy; a man of rank bearing arms.

Is the knight brave?

YEOMAN, common; an officer in the king's house.

Will the yeoman wait upon the king!

LORD, bread giver; one having supreme power.

Has the lord a castle?
Shere, a shire holder; an officer who executes law in a county.
Is the sheriff faithful?

Provost, place before; the chief officer in a town or college.

Does the provost oversee things? WATCH, awake, that wakes; a strict guard; a man set to keep any thing. Does the watch go about the city at night?

WATCHMAN, one who guards a city by night.

Is the watchman up early!

CHAPTER VII.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF MAN.

Business calls for tools. The farmer needs his plough and spade; the smith needs his anvil and hammers.

"Earth's thousand tribes of living things
At art's command to him are given;
The village grows, the city springs,
And point their spires of faith to heaven."

Sprague.

What is said of tools and works of man?

FORTY-FIRST STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE FARMER.

THE farmer has now a great many fine tools. In the early ages of the world they were few and very rude.

"The farmers crop their living from their crop,"
And each man shares the blessing of their shares."

WATSON.

Repeat what is said.

PLOUGH, that thrusts; an instrument to furrow land.

Does the farmer use a plough in spring?

SPADE, broad; an instrument to dig the ground.

Can the boy dig with a spade? Shover, pushing; a hollow instrument to throw up earth. Does the farmer throw up earth with a shovel?

Hor, hack or hew; an instrument to cut weeds and loosen the earth.

Does the gardener use a hoe?

RAKE, reach or stretch; an instrument to gather grass together.

Can you use a rake?

Sickle, that cuts; a curved tool to cut grain with.

Does the reaper use a sickle? SOTTHE, an axe; a tool for mowing grass.

Does the mower use a scythe? HAY, cut; cut and dried grass.

Do horses eat hay?

Caor, a gathering; grain and fruits of the earth.

Is there a large crop this year?
WHEAT, that is rubbed; a useful grain, from which flour is obtained.

Is wheat a grain ?

Barley, corn or grain; a grain something like wheat.

Do you like barley?

Beer, corn; a kind of barley.

Does bere grow in Scotland?

HEAP, a mass or bundle; a pile, as of grain.

Is the heap large?

Oars, eaten; a kind of grain used for cattle.

Do horses eat oats?

RYE, rough; a grain like wheat, but not so good.

Do we make flour from rye?

FLAX, drooping; a plant from which linen is made.

Has flax a blue flower?

Whip, a thrust or throw, an instrument for driving animals.

Does the teamster use a whip?

FORTY-SECOND STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE HUNTER AND FISHER.

THE hunter and fisher at first had only the club, stone and rude spear. Now they have nets, traps, guns and harpoons.

"The patient fisher takes his silent stand, Intent, his angle trembling in his hand; With looks unmoved he hopes the scaly breed, And eyes the dancing cork and bending reed."

POPE.

Repeat what is said.

Bow, bent; an instrument made of bent wood and a string.

Does the hunter use a bow?

Arrow, a shoot or rod; a poisoned weapon shot with a bow.

Did the arrow pierce the animal?
TRAP, that trips; an instrument that shuts with a spring.

Was the beaver caught in a trap?

Sнот, that is darted; a ball or bullet thrown from a gun.

Is shot made of lead?

Rod, a sprout; a pole for fishing.

Has the fisher a rod?

Hook, that which snatches; a curved piece of metal.

hook?

Seine, a drag; a large net for taking

Was the seine full of fish ? WEIR, an inclosure; a fence of sticks in a river to take fish.

Was the weir broken?

Was the fish caught with a NET, a knot; an instrument made of twine woven together.

Are the fishermen mending their

HANDLE, that which is seized; that part of a tool held in the hand.

Do we take a thing by the handle?

FORTY-THIRD STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE HOUSEWRIGHT.

THE house is one of the most needed of all the works of man.

> "All are architects of Fate, Working in these walls of Time: Some with massive deeds and great, Some with ornaments of rhyme."

LONGFELLOW.

ber and cut wood.

Is the axe a good tool? HAMMER, the beater; a tool to drive or draw nails.

Is the hammer made of iron? SAW, what cuts: a tool with teeth to cut wood.

Does the carpenter

Auger, the borer; a tool to make large holes.

Can you bore a hole with an auger ?

House, a covering; a place for man to live in.

Is the house large?

LADDER, a leader; a frame of wood Bier, what bears; a frame to carry joined by rounds.

Can you go up a ladder?

Axe, what hacks; a tool to hew tim- GATE, a passage; a large door into an inclosed place.

Is the gate broken?

Bridge, what bears; a building raised over a river.

Is the bridge strong?

STEEPLE, that goes up; the tower of a church ending in a point.

Is the steeple high?

Tower, a pile; a kind of a house for defense.

Are there many towers in England

Box, what is close; a case of boards. Is the box made of wood?

CHEST, a hamper; a kind of close box.

Is the chest large?

the dead on.

Did you ever see a bier?

FORTY-FOURTH STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE WHEEL WRIGHT.

THE wheelwright builds for us the heavy farm wagon and the airy carriage. His skill adds much to our pleasure.

CART, what runs; a carriage with two wheels, drawn by one horse.

Is a cart a kind of carriage?

Wagon, a way or passage; a carriage with four wheels, drawn by one or more horses.

Has the wagon come? DRAY, what is drawn: a low cart. Is the dray used in cities?

Barrow, what carries; a kind of a carriage.

Is a barrow useful? WHEEL, what turns; a round frame of wood for a wagon. Has the wheel a rim?

WHEELBARROW, a frame or box with one wheel.

Have you ever seen a wheelbarrow?

HAND, what holds; the palm and the fingers.

Is the hand used in drawing! HANDBARROW, a frame with handles carried by two men.

Is the handbarrow a carriage! SLEDGE, what strikes; a frame moved on runners.

Is a sledge used to run on snow!

RIM, the end or edge; the border of a wheel

Is the rim covered with iron? Spoke, a shoot; a rod of a wheel.

Is the spoke made of wood! NAVE, thick; the thick piece in the centre of a wheel.

Is the nave made of wood?

FORTY-FIF

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE SHIPWRIGHT.

"In the ship-yard stood the master, With the model of the vessel, That should laugh at all disaster, And with wave and whirlwind wrestle.

LONGFELLOW.

made to float on water.

Did the Saxons call their ships keels?

Ship, what is shaped; a large vessel Hull, an outer cover; the frame or body of a vessel.

Is the hull made of wood?

DECK, an overspread; the covering Boar, a bag; a bottle, or skin bag; of a ship.

Is the deck made of plank? Hold, what contains; the hollow part of a ship.

Is the hold full of ballast? KEEL, stretched out; the timber that extends from stem to stern of a ship.

Is the keel covered with copper!

STEM, set or fixed; the fore part of a

Is the stem of the ship slender? STERN, place; the hinder part of a

Is the stern the hind part of a ship !

MAST, a stock; a round piece of timber on which sails are fastened.

Was the mast carried away during a storm?

an open vessel moved by oars.

OAR, over; an instrument to row boats.

Is a boat moved by oars? Ballast, a load; heavy matter placed in the hold of a ship.

Has the ship much ballast? SAIL, what flies; a sheet made of .. coarse cloth.

Are ships moved by sails? ROPE, what binds; a thick line of several twirls.

Do ropes fasten a boat to the pier? WHARF, what is thrown out; a kind of harbor.

Has the vessel reached the wharf?

Pier, through; a raised bank or mole in a river.

Is the pier made of stone?

FORTY-SIXTH STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE MILLWRIGHT.

"THE dam is broke, the wheel is still, And moss o'erlays the ruined mill: No voice is heard, no form is seen, Upon the lovely village green."

MILL, what is set or made; a machine for making flour, or the house in which this machine is kept.

Is corn ground in a mill? DAM, what stops; a wall raised to keep in water.

Is the dam at the mill high?

WHEEL what turns; a round frame of wood or iron.

Has the mill a wheel? WATER, what flows; a common and useful fluid.

Is water common?

WATER-WHEEL, a wheel turned by Overshor-wheel, a wheel where the

Is a water-wheel large! Breast, a swelling; the fore part of man, or any thing.

Is the breast the fore part! Breast-wheel, a wheel where the water falls on the middle.

What is a breast-wheel? Over, above; above in place.

Is the sky over the earth! Shor, throwing out; a shooting or casting.

water falls from above.

What is an overshot-wheel?

Under, lower in place.

Is the grass under the tree! Undershor-wheel, a wheel where the water strikes below.

What is an undershot-wheel? HOPPER, what hops or shakes; a wooden box through which grain passes into the mill.

Does grain pass through a hopper ?

FORTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE SMITH.

"HERE smokes his forge; he bares his sinewy arm, And early strokes the sounding anvil warm; Around his shop the steely sparkles flew. As for the steed he shaped the bending shoe."

GAY.

ANVIL, that on which things are Shor, a cover; a rim of iron nailed shaped; an iron block with a smooth face.

Is an anvil made of iron ! SLEDGE, what strikes; a large hammer.

Is a sledge made of iron? Tongs, shoots; a tool of two shafts, joined at one end.

Are the tongs made of iron? Bellows, swelling; an instrument to blow the fire.

Can you use the bellows? WEDGE, a mass; a piece of iron thick at one end, and sloping to the other.

Does the smith use a wedge?

to the foot of a horse. Is the shoe nailed on! NAIL, a talon; a pointed piece of iron with a head. Are nails made of iron! HASP, a catch; a clasp that passes over a staple. Is the hasp made of iron? Lock, what closes; an instrument to fasten doors.

Can you break a lock? Key, what shuts; an instrument to shut or open a lock.

Does the key fit the lock! WARD, a guard; part of the inside of a lock.

Must the key fit the ward?

Spring, what leaps; an elastic body.

Has a watch a spring?

Latch, what catches; a small piece of iron or wood for fastening a door.

Is there a latch on the stable door?

Pin, what holds; a pointed instrument.

Are pins made of brass?

Linchpin, a pin used to keep on the wheel.

Is the linchpin made of iron?

FORTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE WEAVER.

THE weaver weaves a flaxen web, but we are for ever weaving a web of thought.

"Yes; Love is ever busy with his shuttle, Is ever weaving into life's dull warp Bright, gorgeous flowers, and scenes Arcadian."

LONGFELLOW.

Loom, what is used; a frame of wood for weaving.

Did Jacquard invent a loom?

REED, a shoot; a weaver's tool.

Does the reed part the threads of the warp?

SPINDLE, extended; the pin used in spinning-wheels.

Is the spindle made of iron?

YARN, what is borne out; thread spun from wool or flax.

Do we knit with yarn?
Silk, what is drawn out; the thread of silk-worms.

Does the silk-worm make us

WARP, what is bent; the thread that runs lengthwise.

Does the warp run lengthwise? Woor, what is cast; the thread that runs across.

Does the woof run across the loom?

WEB, what is woven; a cloth woven out of yarn.

Is life a web which all must weave?

Knor, a joining; the joining of threads or cords.

Is the knot tight !

SLAME, what strikes; a weaver's reed.

Is the slaie use in weaving?

FORTY-NINTH STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE MANUFACTURER.

"The king's daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold. She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needle-work."

BIBLE.

GLASS, green; a hard clear substance made from ashes.

Was glass made at first? CLOTH, what covers; material made of wool, hair, or flax. Is cloth warm?

SILE, what is drawn out; a kind of cloth made from the thread of the silkworm.

Is silk glossy?

SHOE, a cover; a cover for the foot. Is the shoe made of leather! CAP, what is put on; a cover for the head of children.

Is the cap made of cloth? NEEDLE, something sharp; an instrument of steel, with an eye and point.

Can you sew with a needle? Pin, what holds; an instrument of brass, with a head and point, used for fastening.

Is the pin made of brass? COMB, what shaves; a toothed instrument for fixing the hair. Is the comb made?

Hose, a heel-cover; a cover for the leg. Are hose woven?

LEATHER, the prepared skin of animals.

Are shoes made of leather? LIQUOR, what flows; a fluid substance of any kind.

Is wine a liquor? FELT, what stuffs; a kind of cloth. Is felt used for wadding?

FIFTIETH STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE HOUSEWIFE.

"On, pleasant is the welcome kiss When day's dull round is o'er, And sweet the music of the step That meets us at the door."

DRAKE of grain ground.

Is meal the flour of corn?

MEAL, broken smooth; the substance LOAF, a set mass; dough shaped and baked.

Is the loaf large?

Bread, a portion; a mass of kneaded dough baked.

Is bread the staff of life! Sieve, what lifts; a utensil for parting flour from bran.

Is the sieve made of wire? KETTLE a hollow vessel used to boil water in.

Is the kettle made of copper? CHURN, what turns; a vessel in which butter is made from milk.

Have you ever seen a churn? LADLE, what lays or puts; a utensil used for dipping out liquor.

Is the ladle used to lift soup! Stove, a place; an instrument to make fire in.

Is the stove made of iron? Oven, what heats; a place for baking in.

Do we bake bread in an oven? FIRE, rushing or raging; heat made from wood or coal.

Do you like to see a bright fire? BEETLE, what strikes; a wooden hammer.

Is a beetle used for pounding ! Bell, what sounds; a hollow vessel used to make sounds.

Can you ring the bell? Gong, going! a utensil used for a

Is the gong struck to make a sound!

KNIFE, what nips; that with which we cut our food.

Is the knife steel?

FORK, what is notched; that with which we lift the food to our months.

Is the fork silver?

Fan, what opens; an instrument by which air is moved.

Is the fan used to produce a

BESOM, bound twigs; a brush used to sweep with.

Is the besom a useful article? Token, a mark; a mark of love and affection.

Is a present a token of love!

FIFTY-FIRST STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF THE SOLDIER.

"THEN shook the hills with thunder riven, Then rushed the steeds to battle driven. And, louder than the bolts of heaven, Far flashed the red artillery."

CAMPBELL.

SHIELD, a shoulder-cover; a broad Sword, what thrusts; a weapon worn piece of armor.

Is the shield worn now! TARGET, what stops; a mark for gunners to fire at.

Do soldiers fire at a target?

at the side.

Is the sword used in war?

SPEAR, what runs to a point; a long pointed weapon used in war.

Is the spear used by thrusting?

a bow.

Is the arrow barbed? Armor, what fits: a kind of dress worn for defense in battle.

Do knights wear armor? SPUR, what is pointed; an instrument worn on the heel to prick the horse.

Is the spur much worn? SLING, what is swung; an instrument to throw stones.

Did David use a sling?

Shor, what is thrown; a weapon cast from a gun.

Is shot made of lead and iron !

Arrow, a shoot; a weapon shot from Bow, what is bent; a bent piece of wood and a string.

> Do the Indians use bows? HELMET, what holds; a piece of armor for the head.

> Is the helmet worn by soldiers! Tower, a pile; a kind of building, or part of one.

> Are there towers on castles! CASTLE, what defends; a house fortified against an enemy.

Are there castles in this coun-

Mound, a heap; a bank of earth or

Have you ever seen a mound?

STUDY. FIFTY-SECOND

TOOLS AND WORKS OF LEARNED BUSINESS.

Music is a noble work, and lifts the soul towards heaven.

"God sent his singers upon earth, With songs of sadness and of mirth, That they might touch the hearts of men, And bring them back to heaven again."

LONGFELLOW.

HARP, that which is touched; a stringed instrument of music.

Did David play on the harp? PIPE, that on which we pip, or pipe; a wind instrument of music.

Is the pipe a wind instrument? PEN, a point; an instrument used to write with.

Is the pen made of steel! DESK, what is flat; a raised stand to write at.

Do we write on desks? Song, what is strained; words sung in a musical way.

Is a song pleasing? Book, beech-bark; the thoughts of a man printed and bound.

Are books useful!

Word, what passes; the sign of a thing.

Is a word the sign of a thing? CREED, that on which we rest; what one believes.

Has the Christian a creed? Speech, what is thrust out; spoken words.

Is speech a gift from God?

FIFTY-THIRD STUDY.

TOOLS AND WORKS OF DIFFERENT KINDS OF BUSINESS.

"God made man perfect, but he has sought out many inventions."

Brack.

WATCH, a guard; an instrument to measure times

Are some watches made of gold!

CLOOK, what clicks; a machine for measuring time.

Is a clock moved by weights?

SADDLE, that is set; a seat to be put on a horse's back.

Can you sit on a saddle?

Awr, a sting; a pointed tool used to make holes in leather.

Does the shoemaker use an aul?

Last, drawn out; a form of the foot made of wood.

Is the last wooden?

Kiln, a furnace; a large stove or oven.

Do we burn lime in a kiln?

ROAD, a way; an open way for travel.

Do people walk on the road? PARE, what is kept; an inclosed place for pleasure.

Are there many trees in a park?

WELL, boiling up; a place dug to get water.

Is the well deep?

TIMBER, wood; wood prepared for building.

Do we cut down trees to make timber?

Tow, what is tossed; the broken and coarse part of flax.

Are mats made of tow?

Toll, a part; a tax paid for some advantage.

Do we pay toll on the turnpike!

DITCH, what is dug; a trench made by digging.

Is the ditch used to drain land?

FIFTY-FOURTH STUDY.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

"With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again."

FARTHING, the fourth; the fourth part of a penny.

Is a farthing a copper coin!

SCALE, a shell; the dish of a balance.

Has a balance two scales!

WEIGHT, heavy; the quantity of any thing found by weighing.

Do we buy sugar by weight?
POUND, weight; a standard weight of twelve or sixteen ounces.

Do we buy tea by the pound?

HUNDERD, a circuit; the number of ten times ten.

Is a hundred ten times ten! Ton, a cask; the weight of twenty hundred.

Is hay bought by the ton? GRAIN, a kernel; the weight of a kernel of wheat.

Was a grain of wheat used for a weight?

Foor, what we step with; a measure of twelve inches.

Is the foot used for a measure? SPAN, a stretch; the space from the end of the thumb to the end of the middle finger when extended.

Is the span used in measuring now!

YARD, a rod or shoot; a measure of three feet.

Is the yard used for measuring cloth !

FATHOM, a thread; a measure of six

Is the fathom used at sea? Money, coin or impress; stamped metal used in trade.

Have we copper, silver, and gold money?

Pound, weight; the value of twenty shillings.

Is the pound a gold coin? Shilling, a shield-coin; the value of twelve pence.

Is a shilling a silver coin? PENNY, money; the twelfth part of a shilling.

Is a penny a copper coin?

FIFTY-FIFTH STUDY.

NUMBERS.

"TRADITION tells us that the numbers, with which we count, came from the borders of the lovely vale of Cashmere."

ONE, a single thing; the sign of a sin- Seven, full; six and one. gle thing.

Is one a number!

Two, one to one; one and one.

Is two twice one?

THREE, a throw; two and one.

Is three three times one! Four, spread out; two and two.

Is four two times two! Five, joined; four and one.

Is five four and one!

Sex. five and one.

Is six five and one !

Are there seven days in the week !

Eight, seven and one.

Is eight seven and one?

NINE, eight and one.

Is nine eight and one?

TEN, two hands; nine and one. Is ten twice five!

First, what bears or leads; before in time or place.

Do you like to be first?

SECOND, what follows; next after the first.

Is second next after the first?
There, next after the second.
What is the third?
FOURTH, next after the third.
What is the fourth?
FIFTH, next after the fourth.
What is the fifth?

SIXTH, next after the fifth.

What is the sixth?

SEVENTH, next after the sixth.

What is the seventh?

EIGHTH, next after the seventh.

What is the eighth?

NINTH, next after the eighth.

What is the ninth?

TENTH, next after the ninth.

What is the tenth?

CHAPTER VIII.

THE WORKS OF THE CREATOR.

"THE works of the Lord are great, sought out by all those who have pleasure therein."

"The tall rock,
The mountain and the deep and gloomy wood,
Their colors and their forms were then to me
An appetite, a feeling and a love."

WORDSWORTE.

FIFTY-SIXTH STUDY.

THE EARTH.

THE earth is the abode of plants, animals and man.

"Solitary savannahs opened in the depth of the woods, and far off a lovely stream was flowing away in silence, sometimes among venerable trees, and sometimes through natural meadows, crimson with blossoms."

BRYANT.

EARTH, dust; the world in which we live.

Is the earth round like a ball?

EARTH, the dust and mould on which we walk.

Were we made out of the earth?
WATER, what flows; a useful and abundant fluid.

Is water a fluid?

LAND, a clear place; the solid matter of our world.

Do people live on the land?

SEA, a basin; a large body of water

Do ships cross the *ea?

FIFTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

BODIES OF LAND.

MANY divisions of land appear on the surface of the earth.

"The hills

Rock-ribbed, and ancient as the sun—the vales Stretching in pensive quietness between."

BRYANT.

Hill, what hides from view; a small rise of land.

Do you like to see a hill?

MOUNT, what goes up; a mass of earth higher than a hill.

Is the mount high?

PEAK, a point thrust out; the point of a hill or mound.

Are some peaks covered with snow?

RIDGE, stretched out; a range of hills or mounts.

Did you ever see a long ridge of

CLIFF, what is cleft; a high steep

Does the eagle build his nest on a high cliff?

BANK, a bench or seat; a pile of raised earth.

Does the bank defend them from the foe!

Knoll, a little round hill.

Do sweet flowers grow on the knoll?

MEAD, wet; low wet land.

Is a mead low land?

MEADOW, low wet.land; a tract of low land.

Does grass grow in the *meadow?*Dell, a cleft or division; a hollow place, between hills.

Would you like to live in a dell?

Shore, cut off; the land bordering on the sea.

Do we go to the shore in summer?

Island, water and land; a tract of land surrounded by water.

Is New-York on an island?

Pr. hollow place: a deep place

Prr, hollow place; a deep place in the earth.

Do miners go down in pits to get coal!

Swamp, a sponge; a low land filled with water.

Is a swamp healthy?

Sward, skin or rind; the grassy surface of land.

Boes the green sward look cool in summer?

Ledge, what is laid; a high row of rocks.

Can the goat walk on ledges?

Dust, dry fine earth.

Was man made from dust?

FIFTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

BODIES OF WATER.

THE sea is the great trading place of the world.

"The sea! the sea! the open sea! The blue, the fresh, the ever free! Without a mark, without a bound, It runneth the earth's wide region round."

B. CORNWALL

WATER, what flows; a fluid of great Shoal, a crowd; a place where the use and very abundant.

Do we drink water?

FOAM, what smokes; froth formed in

Is the river covered with foam? Sound, a swimming; a narrow sea or strait.

Is a sound very narrow? BAY, what is bent; a part of the sea running up into the land. Is a bay larger than a creek?

water is not very deep.

Do ships often run into shoals? STREAM, a flowing course; a flow of Does the Indian paddle his canoe down the stream?

CREEK, a notch; a small bay or part of the sea running into the land.

Did the boat run into the creek? HARBOR, an army station; a port for

Has New-York a good harbor?

FIFTY-NINTH STUDY.

MINERAL BODIES OF THE EARTH.

CLAY, sand, rocks, water and air are all called mineral bodies.

"And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones."

ful metal.

Is iron made into steel?

IRON, hard; a grayish, hard and use- Tin, sprinkled over or spread; a whitish soft metal.

> Are many things in the household made of tin?

SILVER, a white brilliant metal.

Are there mines of silver in Mexico!

Gold, yellow; a yellow, heavy and precious metal.

Is gold found in California!

LEAD, mass, heavy; a dull, whitish and soft metal.

Are there many mines of lead in this country?

Brass, bright; a metal made of copper and zinc.

Is brass made of copper?

Steel, what is fixed; iron and carbon together.

Is steel made of iron?

SIXTIETH STUDY.

MINERAL BODIES OF THE EARTH, CONTINUED.

THERE are about sixty simple mineral bodies. These form the earth and all its plants and animals.

"This vast assemblage of gigantic hills;
Look at the craggy peaks which rise around,
At the huge fragments of primeval rock,
Those vestiges of elemental war."
LAUDSBOROUGH.

Coal, glowing; a black substance used for burning.

Is coal a mineral?

Salt, biting; a substance used for seasoning.

Is salt found in mines?

Sand, fine particles of stone.

Is sand plenty?

FLINT, what flashes; a kind of stone, very hard and used in glass.

Is fint very hard?

Clay, sticky; oily earth.

Is clay soft?

Loam, soft; a mixture of sand and clay.

Is loam a kind of earth?

BRIMSTONE, a burning stone; roll sulphur.

Is brimstone yellow?

CHALK, close mass; a dull white earth

Is chalk white and soft?

LIME, clammy; a kind of earth made by burning limestone.

Is lime used in mortar?

STONE, firm; a hard mineral body.

Is a stone hard?

LIMESTONE, a stone composed of carbon and lime.

Is lime made from limestone?

SIXTY-FIRST STUDY.

VEGETABLE BODIES OF THE EARTH.

"Ir was autumn, and incessant
Piped the quaits from shocks and sheaves,
And, like living coals, the apples
Burned among the withering leaves." Longfellow.

TREES.

TREE, tall; a plant whose body is large and woody.

Has the tree a covering of leaves?
WILLOW, twig; a tree of a drooping form.

Do the branches of the willow droop!

Sallow, pale; a kind of pale willow.

Is the sallow of a pale green?

Oak, strong; a hardy and noble tree, supplying fine timber.

Does the oak grow from an acorn?

MAPLE, cloth; a tree of a cone-like form.

Does the maple supply us maple sugar?

Ase, a grayish stately tree, affording good wood.

Does the ash give us good wood? Buson, a tree with slender tough branches.

Does the birch make good rods? Beech, bark; a tall fine tree with silvery bark.

Were books made of beech-bark? ELM, broad; a stately spreading tree. Is the elm a noble tree? Linden, a fine cone-like tree with rich flowers.

Is the linden a flowering tree?

HOLLY, hard; a glossy evergreen tree.

Does the holly bear red berries?

HAWTHORN, a hedge thorn; a shrub which bears the haw.

Is the hawthorn used for hedges?

Fir., point-bearing; a kind of pine, good for timber.

Is the fir good for timber?

Hemlock, border-plant; a kind of fir.

Is the hemlock an evergreen?

CHESTNUT, castle-nut; the tree which yields the chestnut.

Is the chestnut good wood? YEW, a tree like the pine, often seen in church-yards.

Is the yew an evergreen?

APPLE, round fruit; the fruit of the apple.

Is the apple a good fruit?

Apple-tree, a tree that bears apples.

Is the apple-tree a native of Asia?

Pear, the well-known fruit of the pyrus.

Is the pear a good fruit?
PEAR-TREE, the pyrus, or tree that produces the pear.

Is the pear-tree large?

Prum, a drupe, or stone fruit.

Is the plum a stone fruit?

PLUM-TREE, the tree that yields the plum.

Did the plum-tree come from Asia?

SIXTY-SECOND STUDY.

SHRUBS.

MANY of the shrubs which grow on our mountains bear flowers of the most rich and delicate colors.

"She sought the crystal brook, along whose banks,
With hazel and with honeysuckle fringed,
Lay the sweet winding way to school."
LAUDSBORDUGH.

SHRUB, rough; a low tree.

Is the rose-bush a shrub?

THORN, a shrub having spines.

Does the thorn bloom in the garden!

HAZEL, a cop; a shrub bearing a fine nut.

Is the hazel-nut good to eat?
BRIER, rough; a shrub full of little thorns.

Is the brier sweet!

Brandle, prickly! any rough prickly shrub.

Will brambles overrun the garden? FURZE, thick; a thorny evergreen shrub, having yellow blossoms.

Does the furze grow wild!

HEATH, clinging; a dry, brownish shrub.

Is the heath used to make brooms? WHORTLEBERRY, heart-berry; a shrub bearing a fine berry.

Is the berry of the whortleberry good for food !

MISTLETOE, sticking; a shrub growing on the oak.

Did the Saxons venerate the mistletoe!

Ivy, up, climbing plant; a climbing shrub, growing on walls.

Does the ivy climb the church wall!

MADDER, a plant used in dyeing.

Is the madder used to dye red ?

SIXTY-THIRD STUDY.

HERBS.

HERRS are useful to man. Some of them serve as food, others form his medicines.

"I have given every green herb for meat."

BIBLE.

les raise blisters.

Is the juice of the nettle good for HEMLOCK, border-plant; a poisonous plant.

poison?

NETTLE stinging; an herb whose prick- FERN, a plant having its fruit on the back of the leaf.

> Did you ever see fern? Rue, bitter; a plant used in medi-

Has the rue a bitter taste! Will the leaves of the hemlock FENNEL, a plant having scented seeds Is fennel pleasant to eat?

SIXTY-FOURTH STUDY.

GRASSES.

GRASSES, which include the different kinds of grain, are more useful to man than the trees and flowers.

"Let the earth bring forth grass."

BIBLE.

GRASS, growing; plants that form the food of cattle.

Are grasses useful?

REED, a rod or shoot; grass with hollow-jointed stem.

Do reeds grow near wat "? CLOVER, club-grass; a plant with three leaves.

Is clover food for cattle? RYE, rough; a useful grain.

Is rye easily raised? BARLEY, bread-corn; a bearded grain. Is barley used in making malt?

FLAX, drooping; a plant, the skin of which is made into thread.

Is linen made from flax? HEMP, binding? a plant whose skin is used for cords.

Are the sails of a ship made from hemp?

Sorrer, sour; a plant of an acid

Can sorrel be eaten?

WHEAT, next to rice, the most useful grain.

Is flour made from wheat? OAT, a plant yielding a grain for food.

Is meal made from oat?

SIXTY-FIFTH STUDY.

VEGETABLES.

VEGETABLES and fruit formed the food of man in the early ages of the world.

"The moss his bed, the cave his humble cell,
His food the fruits, his drink the crystal well." PARNELL.

BEAN, a vetch; a plant with a straight stalk.

Are beens used for food!
PEA, a climbing plant, yielding a pea good for food.

Does the pea climb round a pole?
RADIAH, ruddy; a plant whose root is eaten raw.

Do you like the radish?

LKEK, long and pointed? a plant having a root like an onion.

Do leeks grow in the garden?
Garlic, a dart; a plant having a root like an onion and an acid taste.

Is garlic like onions?
Parsnip, stone and knob; a plan with a spindle root, used for food Is the parsnip eaten?
Turne, round knob; a plant with flat or spindle-shaped root.

Are turnips good for cattle?

SIXTY-SIXTH STUDY

FLOWERS.

FLOWERS are used to adorn the living and honor the dead.

"In Eastern lands they talk in flowers,

And they tell in a garland their loves and cares;

Each blossom that blooms in their garden bowers,

On its leaves a mystic language bears."

PERCUVAL.

Daisy, eye of day; a high, buttonlike flower.

Is the daisy called the eye of day? POPPY, pap; a showy plant, whose juice causes aleep.

Was the poppy put in infants' food?

Mallows, soft; a soft, large-leafed plant.

· Is the mallows leaf soft and large!

Blossom, opened out; the flower of plants.

Will the blossoms open in spring!
THISTLE, tearing; a prickly plant, with a showy head.

Has the thistle prickles?

SIXTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

SOME PRODUCTIONS OF PLANTS.

PLANTS yield many things for the use and comfort of man

"The occos's root,
Which bears at once the cup, and milk, and fruit." BYRON.

APPLE, round fruit; the fruit of the Plum, solid; a fine stone fruit.

apple-tree.

Is the plum of a dark colo

Is the apple a large fruit?

Phar, a large fruit like the apple.

Is a pear shaped like a bell?

Nur, a hard lump; a fruit having a shell and kernel.

Does the nut contain a kernel!

BERRY, a grape stone; a pulpy fruit found on shrubs.

Do berries grow wild!

Haw, hedge; the berry of the thorn.

Is the haw a small red fruit?

SLOE, sour; the fruit of the wild plum.

Is the sloe purple?

Aconn, oak and grain; the nut of the oak.

Is the acorn small?

Plum, solid; a fine stone fruit.

Is the plum of a dark color?

Corn, grain; the seed of such plants as wheat and rye.

Is bread made from corn!

TAR, wasting away; a thick, dark, sticky substance.

Has tar a dark color?

Price, thick; the thick juice of certain trees.

Is pitch useful to man?

Gum, lump cut off? the clear juice of some trees.

Does gum run from the peach-tree!

STARCH, stiff; a white substance, without smell or taste.

Is starch made from potatoes?

SIXTY-RIGHTH STUDY.

THE PARTS OF PLANTS.

PLANTS have many parts, all of which have their place and use. Wordsworth tells us about some of them, in the aged thorn.

"No leaves it has, no thorny points: It is a mass of knotted joints."

STEM, firm, set; the body of a plant.

Is the stem always wood?

Bough, bent; the arm of a tree.

Is the bough very thick?

Two, what shoots; the smallest bough of a plant.

Do birds rest on the twigs?

Wood, the solid part of a tree.

Is the tree cut down for its wood?

Pith, kernel; the spongy centre of a tree.

Does the pith often flow out?

BARK, what is peeled off; the outward covering of a tree.

Does the bark protect the tree! SAP, soft; the juice of a tree. Does sap flow in spring?

_ from the sides of the

Are leaves mostly green! Blossom, opened out; the flower of a plant.

Is the blossom of the apple-tree sweet!

SEED, sown; the part of a plant that produces new ones.

Does seed produce new plants! LEAF, light; the parts that shoot KERNEL, a grain or nut; the part of a nut which may be eaten.

> Is the kernel of the almond sweet!

SIXTY-NINTH STUDY.

ANIMAL BODIES OF THE EARTH.

Animals are teachers of mankind. They read us many a lesson.

> "The kitten sleeps upon the hearth, The crickets long have ceased their mirth: There's nothing stirring in the house, Save one wee hungry nibbling mouse. Then, why so busy thou!"

Ox, large; the male of the cow tribe. Is the ox used in ploughing ! Cow, what lows; a well known domestic animal, with cloven hoof, Does the cow give milk!

Horse, what rushes; a noble domestic animal, with feet not cloven.

Is the horse a native of Asia? Colt, a young horse.

Is the colt frisky? Bullock, what bellows; a little bull, or an ox.

Is the bullock a young bull? SHEEP, a wether; a small animal useful for food and wool.

Has the sheep a covering of wool?

RAM, what thrusts; the male of the sheep.

Has the ram horns! GOAT, what goes; an animal with hollow horns.

Does the goat give milk? LAMB, what skips; a young sheep. Do you like to see lambs play!

Stud, what stands; a fine horse for war. Has the soldier a stud? Flock, a crowd; a company as of sheep. Does the shepherd tend his flock ?

Swine, what grunts; a thick-skinned animal, used for food.

Is a hog the same as swine?

Pro, a little one; the young of swine.

Has the pig a pen to live in?

Hound, fawning; a kind of dog used in hunting.

Is the hound a large dog ?

HORN, a hard shoot; a hard substance growing on the heads of some animals.

Are combs made from horn?

Hoor, a horny substance on the feet of animals.

Is glue made from hoofs? HIDE, what is stripped off; the skin of an animal.

Are hides made into leather?

MARROW, fat; that which is found in bones.

Is marrow good for the hair!

SEVENTIETH STUDY.

WILD ANIMALS.

THE land is the abode of animals, some of which are useful to man. Many of them are wild and fierce.

"The brindled catamount, that lies High in the boughs to catch his prey."

BRYANT.

ELEPHANT, chief or leader; an animal with a thick skin, and of great size.

Is the elephant a native of Asia?

Deer, roving or wild; an animal like the goat.

Is the meat of the deer used for food!

Dor, roving or wild; the female deer.

Was the doe killed?

STAG, firm or set; the male red deer.

Did the hunter chase the stag?

HART, strong; a stag, or male deer.

Is the hart smaller than the stag?

Roz, a ray; the smallest deer.

Is the roe quick on foot?

Buck, what thursts; the male of the goat.

Does the buck jump far!

7

Elk, strong or large; a large deer. Has the elk large horns?

HARE, what hears quickly; a small animal, with long ears.

Is the hare timid?

Fox, cunning; an animal like a dog.

Is the fox very cunning?

BEAR, fierce; a large animal found in cold climates.

Is the bear wild?

Boar, rough; the wild hog.

Has the boar large teeth?

OTTER, a small animal that lives in water.

Is the otter caught for his skin?
RAT, the gnawer; an animal like a mouse, but larger.

Do rats live in barns?

Mouse, what shuts up; a small ani- Apr., quick; a four-handed animal, mal which lives in houses.

Did the mouse eat the cheese!

living in warm countries. Does the ape climb?

SEVENTY-FIRST STUDY.

WATER ANIMALS.

THE water on the surface of the earth teems with living creatures.

"And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly after their kind."

Fish, lively; an animal with scales and fins.

Does the fish live in water? HERRING, army; a fish much used for

Has the herring many bones? TROUT, sharper; a fine fish, living in fresh and salt water.

Is the trout sweet?

ROACH, red; a fish with shiny scales. Does the roach live in fresh water! SEAL set or placed; an animal having a head like a dog.

Is the seal found in cold countries !

Whale, the roller; a large animal, partly fish.

Does oil come from the whale? CRAB, scraping; a small animal having a crust-like shell.

Does the crab live in water! LOBSTER, husky one; an animal like a crab.

Has the lobster many claws? CLAM, binding; a shell-fish used for food.

Has the clam a hard shell? Fin, firm shoot; a limb of a fish used for swimming.

Is the fin very sharp! Scale, a shell; a small crust which covers fish.

Are scales shiny?

SEVENTY-SECOND STUDY.

REPTILES.

THE snake is loathed more than any thing on the earth. The memory of the fall of man, as written in the Bible, seems to live on from age to age.

"All turned with disgust from the scene; The worms they crept in, and the worms they crept out And sported his eyes and his temples about." LEWIS SNAKE, creeping; a serpent of any LEECH, seizing; an animal like a kind.

Are snakes poisonous? Adder, poison serpent; a poisonous serpent of the viper class.

Is the bite of the adder poisonous! SNAIL, crawling; a slimy, slow-creeping animal.

Is a snail black!

WORM, winding; a ringed animal, without feet.

Does the worm crawl?

worm, used to suck blood.

Are leeches found in lakes! FROG, cracked in voice; a small fourfooted animal .that lives in water and land.

Does the frog live in water! TOAD, a small animal like the frog.

Has the toad bright eyes? TADPOLE, a young toad; a young

Does the todpole become a frog!

SEVENTY-THIRD STUDY.

INSECTS.

The butterfly is one of the joys of Insects please us. early life.

> "I'd be a butterfly, born in a bower, Where roses, and lilies, and violets meet, Roving for ever from flower to flower, And kissing all buds that are pretty and sweet."

> > T. H. BAYLEY.

BEE, a small winged insect which BEETLE, mallet; an insect with hard makes honey.

Does the bee hum! WASP, an insect like the bee.

Does the wasp sting!

HORNET, a kind of wasp. Will the hornet build his nest?

FLY, moving by wings; a winged insect of various kinds.

Will the fly eat sugar! GNAT, pointed insect; a small insect whose bite is sharp.

Do gnats bite in summer ?

wings.

Has the beetle wings !

MIDGE, a kind of gnat. Will the midge bite?

Moth, what cuts; a winged insect which destroys cloth.

Does the moth eat cloth? FLEA, a fly; a small black insect. Is the flea red?

Louse, an insect that lives on the bodies of men.

Is the louse a parasite!

MITE, small; a very small insect which lives in cheese. Is the mite very small?

EMMET, a small insect, as the ant.

Have you ever seen an emmet? WEEVIL, a small insect of the beetle

Does the weevil injure grain!

SEVENTY-FOURTH

BIRDS

· Birds teach us much that is wise and good.

"The hen, who from the chilly air · With pious wings protects her care, And every fowl that flies at large, Instructs me in a parent's charge."

GAY.

feet.

Does the hawk live on flesh? OWL, howling; a strange bird that .BLACKBIRD, a kind of singing thrush. flies at night.

Can the owl see in the dark? Krre, a kind of hawk, swift in motion.

Does the kite move quickly! RAVEN, the plunderer; a bird that lives on flesh.

Is the raven black ! CROW, the croaker; a large black bird.

Does the crow eat flesh! Rook, a bird like the crow that feeds on insects.

Is the rook like the crow! LARK, the singer; a bird noted for its song.

Does the lark sing well ! THRUSH, the throat? a fine singing bird.

Is the thrush brown! BLACK, pale; a pale or sallow color. Is black the color of night?

HAWK, a bird with crooked beak and BIRD, what is brought forth; a winged animal.

Can a bird fly ?

Is the blackbird caught in nets! SWALLOW, roof-bird; a small bird of passage.

Does the swallow fly quickly! Dove, cooing; a kind of pigeon. Does the dove mourn? Cuckoo, a wandering bird which sings well. Is the cuckoo named from its note! Swan, white; a bird like the goose, with an arched neck.

BILL, a beak, or shoot; the beak of a bird.

Is the bill of a bird white! Wing, side; the limb of a bird used for flight.

CLAW, a foot-cleft; the sharp nail of a bird.

Is the claw of a bird sharp! Finch, fine, or gay; a singing bird. Is the finch a small bird!

SEVENTY-FIFTH STUDY.

DOMESTIC BIRDS.

THE barn-yard has something to please and instruct us.

"While the cock, with lively din, Scatters the rear of darkness thin, And to the stack, or the barn-door, Proudly struts his dames before."

MILTON.

Fown, flying animal; a winged animal.

Is the hen a food?

HEN, a cock; the female of any bird.

Does the hen love her chickens?
Cock, what shoots up; the male of birds.

Does the domestic cock crow?

CHICKEN, a small cock; the young of fowls.

Do you like to feed the chicken? Goose, what cackles; a fowl that lives in water.

mves in water.

Is the goose a water fowl?

GANDER, the goose; a small goose.

Is the gander the male goose? Gosling, a little goose.

Is the gosling a young goose!

SEVENTY - SIXTH STUDY.

PRODUCTIONS OF ANIMALS.

THE song of the bird is the sweetest thing that animals give to man.

"The robin warbled from his full clear note For hours, and wearied not."

BRYANT.

Mn.s., what is got by stroking; a white fluid yielded by many animals.

Is milk good for children?
BUTTER, what is made from carrying milk in skin-bottles; an oily substance made from milk.

Is butter made by churning!

MEAT, what feeds; the flesh of animals.

Is meat good for food?

Egg, a body formed in female fowl.

Is the egg of the hen good for food?

Wool, soft; the soft hair of sheep.
Is wool soft?

OIL, what kindles; a greasy substance.

Does oil burn readily ?

HAIR, a thread-like growth on the

Is the hair a vegetable body!

SEVENTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

BODIES IN THE HEAVENS.

THE sweet moon and the silent stars early please the young eye.

"Nay! start not at that sparkling light;
"Tis but the moon that shines so bright
On the window pane, bedropped with rain:
Then, little darling! sleep spain,
And wake when it is day."

regions around the earth.

Are clouds in the heavens?

Sun, shining; that which lights the earth by day.

Is the sun bright?

Moon, the guider; that which lights the earth by night.

Does the moon shine at night?

HEAVENS, lifted up or arched; the Star, the steerer as it guided sailors; regions around the earth.

Are clouds in the heavens!

Star, the steerer as it guided sailors; a twinkling bright body in the heavens.

Can you see a star?
Welkin, cloud; the arch of heaven as seen by the eye.

Is the welkin the same as the sky?

CHAPTER IX.

PLACE AND TIME.

PLACE and time are learned as we think of objects and events.

"Art is long, and time is fleeting,
And our hearts, though stout and brave,
Still like muffled drums are beating
Funeral marches to the grave."
Longfallow.

SEVENTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

PLACES ON THE EARTH AND IN THE HEAVENS.

THERE is a place for every thing that God has made; and every thing is in its place.

East, rising up; the place where the sun rises.

Does the sun rise in the east?

WEST, fall, or wasting; the part of heaven where the sun sets.

Does the sun set in the west!

Norm, roaring wind; the place in heaven where the pole star is.

Is the pole star in the north?
Sours, softing, or hot; the place in heaven opposite the north.

Is the south opposite the north?

GROUND, bottom, as of a lake; the surface of the carth.

Do we walk on the ground?

EARTH, dust; the place where we live.

Is the earth our abode?

Acre, open or ploughed field; a piece of earth measured.

Is acre the name of an open field!

Field, felled; ground not built on.
Does grass grow in the field?

SEVENTY-NINTH STUDY.

RELATIVE PLACES.

Places, like the things which are in them, are related to one another, and to ourselves. They are near, above, below or without where we are.

Here, the place where we are.

Is your book here!
There, a place beyond where we are.
Is your teacher there!
Where, at what place.
Where is the sun!
Thither, the place to which a thing goes.
Are you going thither!

Are you going thither?

WHITHER, at what place.

Whither are you going?

WITHIN, inside of a place.

Is your mother within?

WITHOUT, outside of a place.

Is the well without the house?

HENCE, from this place.

Will you go hence?

HIGH, lifted up; above in place.

Is the sky high?

Low, cast down; not high in place. Is the sea low? INWARD, towards a place. Is the ship sailing inward? FAR, away in place. Are you going far from home? FARTHER, more distant in place. Did you go farther? Over, above in place. Is the sun over our heads? BELOW, laid down by; under in place. Is the sea below us! NEAR, close by in place. Do you like to be near home! BENEATH, low by; under in place. Is the ground beneath us? Nigh, near in place. Is the sky nigh the earth? Our, beyond in place.

Has the girl gone out?

Outward, a going beyond in place.

Is the ship bound outward?

Beyond, at the outside in place.

Is the sky beyond the earth?

Up, high, or upon in place.

Is the sun up?

Together, in company; brought near in place.

Do the men work together !

NEXT, nigh; nearest in place.

Is Monday next to Sunday!

MIDDLE, coming between in place.

Is the chair in the middle of the room!

MID, inclosure; between extreme points.

Is it mid-day at noon!

YONDER, gone; distant in place.

Do you see the aky yonder!

EIGHTIETH STUDY.

LARGER DIVISIONS OF TIME.

"Farm's steady eye alone illumes the eye,
For time is pointing to eternity!" R. A. WARE.

Time, what passes; the place of events—succession.

Is time valuable?

Day, dawn; the time the sun gives us light.

Do we work in the day !
Sunday, the sun's dawn; the day of the sun.

Was the sun worshipped on Sunday by the Saxons?

Monday, the 'moon's dawn; the day of the moon.

Was the moon worshipped on Monday?

Tuesday, Tuisco's dawn; the day of the god, Tuisco.

Was Tuisco worshipped on Tuesday?

WEDNESDAY, Woden's dawn; the day of the god, Woden.

Was Woden worshipped on Wednesday?

THURSDAY, Thor's dawn; the day of Thor, the thunder god.

Was Thor worshipped on Thursday?

FRIDAY, Frigga's dawn; the day of the goddess, Frigga.

Was Frigga worshipped on Friday?

SATURDAY, Saturn's dawn; the day of the planet, Saturn.

Was Saturn worshipped on Saturday?

NIGHT, declining; the time the moon gives us light.

Do we sleep at night?

WEEK, the space of seven days.

Does the week begin on Sunday!

Month, the moonth; the measure of the moon's course round the earth.

How many days in a month?

YEAR, a circle; the measure of the earth's course round the sun.

How many days in a year?

Spring, shooting; the sprouting time.

Do plants eprout in spring?

SUMMER, warm; the sun or shiny time.

Is it hot in summer?

FALL, failing; the time of decay.

Do leaves fall in the fall?

WINTER, the windy time; the time of winds.

Is it windy in winter!

EASTERN, place of rising; the place where the sun rises.

Does the sun rise in the eastern heavens?

LENT, lengthing; the space of forty days from Ash Wednesday to Easter.

Do the Roman Catholics keep Lent?

EIGHTY-FIRST STUDY.

SMALLER DIVISIONS OF TIME.

"Like the swell of some sweet tune,
Morning rises into noon." Longfellow.

Monn, scattering; the first part of the day.

Does the sun rise at morn?
Monning, the opening of the day.

Is the morning the time for work?

Evening, declining; the close of the day.

Is it cool at evening?

EVENTIDE, time of decline; the time of evening.

Is eventide a quiet time?

Noon, up, or limit; the place of the sun at twelve o'clock.

Is it warm at noon!
NIGHT, declining or resting; the time of darkness.

Is night the time of rest?
Twilight, doubtful light; the time after sunset or before sunrise.

Is twilight pleasant?

Morrow, morning; the day after today.

Will the sun rise on the morrow?

Dawn, opening as rays; the first part of the day.

Does the sun make the dawn!

EIGHTY-SECOND STUDY.

RELATED DIVISIONS OF TIME.

"Lux the swell of some sweet tune,
Morning changes into noon,
May glides onward into June."

LONGFELLOW.

Now, the present time.

Should you study now?

Before, by the front; time before now.

Is morning before noon?

ALWAYS, all going; time without end.

Is the sun always moving?

EVER, at any time.

Is God ever present with us?
Soon, early; at a set time.
Will you go home soon?
LATE, drawn out, or long; behind the set time.

Were you late for school?

EARLY, shooting up; before the set time.

May you go home early?

AGAIN, turning, or front; once more.

Say it again.

When, at what time.

When will you come?

Then, at that time.

May I then go?

While, staying; during a set time.

Should you study while in school?

YET, holding; still remaining.

Are you going home yet?

STILL, set, or firm; time up to the present.

Are you still studying your lessons?

NEW, moving; fresh, or recent in time.

Do you like new things?
Old, putting off; long made, or in use.

Are some old things good?

EIGHTY THIRD STUDY.

RELATIONS OF THINGS AND EVENTS IN PLACE AND TIME.

ALL things have their places. All events have their times. We may compare these places and times, and mark their relations.

In, a cave; within, or inside.

Are the chairs in the house?

Our, going forth; without, or outside.

Has the child gone out?

To, end; to a certain place or time.

Where do you go to school!

Or, out of, beginning; out of a certain place or time.

Has the child gone out of the room?

FROM, source; beginning in a certain place or time.

Does cotton come from the south?

Towards, looking at; fronting a certain place or time.

Did the child go towards home?

Br, being; being near in place and time.

Is the child by the table!

Wire, joining; joined in place and Above, over; lifted up in place and time.

Is the child with the nurse! NEAR, next; close by in place or time.

Should you stand near the fire! ABOUT, bounds; round a place or time.

Is the dog about the house? Around, a circle; going round a place or time.

Has the child gone around the house ?

time.

Are the clouds above the earth! Under, on lower side; down in place or time.

Are fish under the water! Down, dipping; low in place or time. Has the moon gone down? Up, high; aloft in place or time. Is the sun up? For, bearing; in place of.

Should you do good for evil! Through, passage; from side to side. Did you go through the hall?

EIGHTY-FOURTH STUDY.

CONNECTION OF THINGS AND EVENTS IN PLACE AND TIME.

THINGS and events are connected. This we must notice carefully.

AND, giving; addition.

Have you a slate and pencil ? Bur, add: more or further.

Are our wants many, but light?

Ir, granting; allowing or giving.

Will a child lie, if he is good! Though, allowing; granting it so.

Should we trust God, though He should slay us ! Or, one more; one in choice.

Can you write, or read?

As, which, or it; like, or even.

Do you sit as you were told! So, that; in like manner.

Why are you so long in coming? THAT, getting; in order to.

Do you study that you may be wise!

LEST, left; that not.

Should we be holy lest we die!

STILL, placing; to this time.

Are you still at work? TILL, the while; to a certain time.

Will you wait till I come?

Since, seen; after a certain time. Have you been well since I saw you ! THEN, placed; at that time.

Were you then happy?

Else, leaving off; otherwise.

Were you no where else?

YET, getting; still.

Are you yet idle!

THAN, set, or placed; compared with.

Is wisdom better than riches!

CHAPTER X.

GOD.

ALL things, when seen aright, make known to us something about God. To know Him is life.

"Let the first flower, corn-waving field, plain, tree, Here round my home, still lift my soul to Thee; And let me ever, midst thy bounties, raise An humble note of thankfulness and praise." BLOOMFIELD.

EIGHTY-FIFTH STUDY.

GOD.

"GoD so loved the world as to give his only-begotten Son, that whose-ever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

BIBLE.

God, strong and good; the Maker, Ruler and Redeemer of man.

GHOST, breath or life; the soul, or mind.

Is God love?

FATHER, the feeder; the Author of all things.

Is ghost the same as spirit?
Holy, sound; free from all sin.
Is God holy?

Is God the Father of man? Son, issue, or offspring; the second person in the Godhead.

HOLY GHOST, the third person in the Godhead.

Did the Son die for man!

Does the Holy Ghost teach man?

EIGHTY-SIXTH STUDY.

ATTRIBUTES OF GOD.

"THERE is none good, but one, and that is God."

BIBLE.

Might, strong; strength or power.

Is the might of God great?

Almightt, strong above all; having all power.

Is God almighty?

Knowledge, what is held; understanding of things.

Is knowledge useful?

Wisdom, power of holding; the right use of knowledge.

BIBLE.

ledge! GOODNESS, state of being strong; kindness to all.

Is goodness due to all?

Is wisdom better than know- TRUTH, trust; what agrees with facts. Should we always tell the truth? HOLINESS, state of being sound; state of being free from sin. Is holiness lovely!

EIGHTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

RELATION OF GOD TO MAN.

THE dearest name by which we can call God, is Father.

"Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name."

of all things.

Is God the Maker of all! RULER, one who guides; one who governs.

Is God the Ruler of the earth! DAYSMAN, the dawn-man; one who makes peace.

Is Christ the daysman? SHEPHERD, the sheep-watch; one who guides and tends sheep. Is Christ the Shepherd of his people ? FATHER, the feeder; the Author of man.

Is God our Father as Creator!

MAKER, one who does; the Creator PRIEST, one who stand before; one who waits at the altar.

> Did the priest offer sacrifices! HIGH, lifted up; distance upwards. Are the heavens high?

HIGH-PRIEST, the priest who entered the holy of holies.

Was the high-priest above all others?

Peace, settled down; a state of quiet. Is peace a happy thing!

Peace-maker, one who stops anger and makes quiet.

Is Christ the peace-maker between God and sinners?

EIGHTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

THE ABODE OF GOD.

"Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool."

BIBLE.

Is the earth round?

EARTH, dust; the world in which we HEAVEN, raised up, or arched; the region round the earth.

Does God fill heaven and earth?

CHAPTER XI.

QUALITIES OF THINGS.

No one is able to stop when he has named things. He wishes to do something more. He wishes to name his own feelings. The wood blazes in the stove. It is named fire. But fire acts upon us. We feel it. It is warm. We see it. It is red or yellow. It is bright also, and sparkling. These are some of its qualities.

We will now go back to home, and see some of its qualities. From home, we will go to the house, household, callings of men, and so on, over all the things we have named, gathering up their qualities and naming them. This is the way the mind grows. It first gets the names of THINGS; second, the names of QUALITIES.

EIGHTY-NINTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF HOME.

"Home, home! sweet, sweet home!

Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

taste.

Is home sweet?

DEAR, rare; of great value.

Is home a dear place?

SMALL, thin; little in any way.

May a small house be neat?

OLD, falling off; a long time made.

Is an old house pleasant? NEW, moving; lately made.

Does the child like his new house?

Sweet, soothing; pleasing to the BARE, open; laid open to view.

Is the house bare of shingles? High, lifted up; raised far above

Is the chimney high above our

Low, laid down; raised a little above the earth.

Is a hut a low house?

Darling, little dear; much beloved.

Whose darling child are you?

NINETIETH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF OUTHOUSES.

THE old barn and snug wood-house peered through a small locust grove, and a white dove-cot stood by the garden gate.

Long, drawn out; having length.

Is the manger long ?

NARROW, close; of little width.

Is the stable narrow?

WIDE, spread; the space between the sides.

Is the stall too wide?

CLEAN, open from; free from dirt.

Should the barn be clean?

Open, lifted off or up; not closed.

Is a manger an open frame?

Day, rubbed; free from moisture.

Should all outhouses be dry?

Wer, moist to the touch; containing moisture.

Should a manger never be wet?

NINETY-FIRST STUDY.

QUALITIES OF HOUSEHOLD-STUFF.

"Now stir the fire and close the shutter fast, Let fall the curtains, wheel the sofa round; And while the bubbling and loud hissing urn Sends up a steamy column, and the cups That cheer, but not inebriate, wait on each, So let us welcome peaceful evening in."

COWPER,

Nice, tender; delicate or fine.

Are chairs nice!

ROUGH, rugged; not polished, or even.

Is the stove rough!

SMOOTH, soft; having an even surface.

Is the table smooth!

HEAVY, heaved; having weight.

Is the inkstand heavy?

Even, smoothed down; level or smooth.

Has the desk an even surface?

Light, rising up; having little weight.

Is a feather light?

Same, like; like in some way.

Is this the same old chair?

NINETY-SECOND STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

"Sistess and brothers, little maid,
How many may you be?
How many? seven in all, she said,
And wondering looked at me." WORDSWORTH.

Good, strong; kind and comely.

Is a good father beloved!

BETTER, more advanced; more kind than another.

Is life botter than raiment?
BEST, most advanced; more kind than all.

Is Jane the best sister of all?
Kind, knowing; tender in feelings.
Is a mother kind?

FAIR, clear to see; pleasant to behold.

Is a happy family fair to behold!

Busy, closely attending; engaged in Busy, closely attending; engaged in some pursuit.

Should we be always busy?

IDLE, ceasing; not actively employed.

Is an idle family poor?

GLAD, lifted up; pleased and joyous. Are good children always glad f GLEE, music; mirth or gayety.

Is the good child full of glee?

NINETY-THIRD STUDY.

QUALITIES OF FOOD.

"Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?"-BIBLE

Freeh, lively; new, lately made.

Do you like fresh bread?

ENOUGH, quieted; that which satisfies.

Has he eaten enough?

TART, sharp; sharp to the taste.

Are some apples very tart?

Sour, what turns; sharp and biting to the taste.

Is a lemon sour !

NINETY-FOURTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF CLOTHING.

"If pall and vair no more I wear, Nor thou the crimson sheen,

As warm, we'll say, is the russet gray, As gay the forest green."

SOOTT.

WARM, glowing; that which keeps heat.

Does the child like a warm coat?

Sorr, mild to the touch; gentle and pleasant to the touch.

Are all gloves soft?

Are ailk gloves soft?

Cool, airy; not keeping heat.

Are thread gloves cool?

Thick, pressed; of some distance from aide to side.

Are woollen clothes thick?
Thin, stretched; not thick.

Is lawn a thin kind of linen?

Silk, drawn fine; thread made by the silk-worm.

Has the child a silk dress? CHEAP, bargain; of low price and value.

Is muslin a cheap cloth?
They, beautiful; neat in dress.
May a plain dress be tidy?
Shabby, bare or shaven; worn and old.

Are shabby garments pleasing !

NINETY-FIFTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF MAN.

"In every breast there burns an active flame, The love of glory, or the dread of shame."

Pope.

WEAK, failing; feeble in strength.

Is man a weak being!

EMPTY, void or idle; containing nothing.

Has the man an empty head!

EARNEST, striving; ardor in business.

Do you like an earnest person!

Fickle, wavering; changeable.

Do you despise a fickle person?

Evil, pained; wicked or sinful.

Have all men evil hearts?

Doughty, able; brave or noble.

Is a doughty man called a champion?

NINETY-SIXTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE BODY OF MAN.

"Or stature tall and slender frame,
But firmly knit, was Malcolm Graeme."

SCOTT.

Sound, whole; free from disease. Is a sound body desirable? STRONG, strained; having much power. Must a strong man be healthy? LITTLE, left or lessened; small in size. May a little person be brave f Sick, sighing; suffering from disease.

May a sick person be fretful! HALE, whole; robust or sound. Do you like to see a hale old man ! Spare, pressed down; lean, wanting in flesh. May a spare person be strong!

NINETY-SEVENTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF PARTS OF THE BODY OF MAN.

"And hazel was his eagle eye, An auburn of the deepest dye His short curled beard and hair."

SCOTT.

RUDDY, red; a healthy flesh color. Is the face ruddy? NAKED, open; bare or uncovered. Is the hand naked? Wan, passing away; pale in appear-Has the child a wan look?

WANE, failing or pale; pale or want. ing color. Have sick persons a wan look ! STERN, straining; severe and rigid. Has the man a stern look? UGLY, frank; wanting in what pleases.

Do you like an ugly face? Hollow, a hole; sunken or depressed. Has the sick person hollow cheeks !

HAGGARD, hacked or torn; worn and rough in looks.

Are the poor haggard? Broad, spread out; extended in width. Have Indians broad faces! GRIM, fierce; having fierce looks Do you like a grim face! LANK, slack; yielding to the touch. Are lank cheeks pleasing? GAUNT, lean or wanting; thin and hollow. Is an old horse gaunt? LEAN, thin; wanting in flesh. Do you like a lean face? FAT, plump, or fleshy. Are infants fat?

NINETY-EIGHTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE SOUL

"HE most lives. Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best." BAILEY. FREE, separated; having power to choose.

Is the soul free !

MAD, passionate; crazed or disordered in mind.

Does sorrow ever make the soul mad?

DARK, gloomy; obscured and gloomy. Is a dark soul an evil one!

MEAN, common; base, of little value. Is a mean soul happy!

STUBBORN, fixed; stiff-minded or ob stinate.

Can a stubborn child be happy ! WICKED, turning away; evil in heart and life.

Are all men wicked?

RIGHT, straight; according to law. Should we always do what is right? SILLY, poor; weak in mind, foolish Are some people silly?

NINETY-NINTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE HUNTER AND HUNTING.

"REST thee, old hunter! the evening cool Will sweetly breathe on thy heated brow; Thy dogs will lap of the shady pool, Thou art very weary—O rest thee now." P. Benjamin.

WILD, roving; roving or savage. Does the hunter live a wild life! READY, a going; quick and prepared. Is a ready hunter a good hunter! Bold, forward; daring in action. Should a hunter be bold? Quick, lively; swift and nimble Who is quick?

HUNDREDTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE FISHER AND FISHING.

"Now, happy fisherman, now twitch the line! How the rod bends! behold the prize is thine!" GAY.

HARD, pressed; firm or strong. Is a fisher's life hard? Lusty, extended; abounding in active power.

fisher !

STEADY, settled; firm and constant in mind.

Will a steady fisher succeed well f

Is a lusty arm needed by the STARK, stiff; strong, also gross. Do you like a stark speech!

ONE HUNDRED AND FIRST STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE FARMER AND FARMING.

"How blest the farmer's simple life!

How pure the joy it yields!

Far from the world's tempestuous strife,

Free, 'mid the scented fields!"

EVEREST.

BLITHE, gay and light; gay and joyous.

Is the farmer blithe?

There, wasted; weary.

Should the tired farmer rest?

Fallow, failing; not tilled.

Is fallow land good?

EARLY, shooting out; first in time.

Does the farmer rise early?

after the time.
Should the farmer be late at his work?

LATE drawn out so as to be long:

BLITHE, gay and light; gay and joyous.

Sultray, failing from heat; hot and close.

Is sultry weather pleasant?

Cold, blowing; wanting in heat.

Is cold weather healthy?

Day, rubbed; without moisture.

Does the farmer dread dry weather?

STONY, firm or steady; full of stones.

Will the farmer clear the stony ground!

WET, moist; holding moisture.

Is wet land good?

ONE HUNDRED AND SECOND STUDY.

QUALITIES OF WAR.

"The horn and the trumpet are ringing afar,
As the summons to battle are sounding;
And the steed as he catches the signal of war,
In the pride of his spirit is bounding."

PERCUVAL.

Broop, gushing; the vital fluid; also slaughter.

Is blood the seat of bodily life?

DEAD, sunk; having the properties of death.

Is war a great evil?
DREAD, shrunk; terror, or awe.
FOUL, pressed; filthy, or wicked.
Are foul deeds done in war?

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRD STUDY.

QUALITIES OF MECHANICS AND THEIR CALLINGS.

"HE that hath a trade hath an estate; and he that hath a calling, hath an office of profit and honor."

FRANKLIN.

CRAFTY, skill or strength; full of art, or skill.

Should a mechanic be wise? Cunning, able or knowing; skilled in art.

Can a good mechanic be crafty?

Was, reaching, or holding; having much knowledge.

Are some men cunning workmen?

ONE HUNDRED AND FOURTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE MANUFACTURER AND MANUFACTURING.

"SLES and satins, scarlets and velvets, put out the kitchen fire," as Poor Richard says.

Many, crowd; numerous.

Are there many manufacturers?

Some, taken together; a certain quantity.

Are some manufactures useful!

RAW, rough; not altered by man.

Is raw silk made into ribbons?

ALL, the whole; the whole number.

Are all manufactures used by men?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE TRADER AND TRADING.

"It is not more than twenty or thirty years since a young man going from any part of Scotland to England, of purpose to carry the pack, wase considered, as going to lead the life, and acquire the fortune, of a gentleman."

CHEAP, a bargain; having a low price.

Are cheap goods often bought?

Do some traders sell old goods?

FRESH, lively; lately made.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF A SAILOR AND SAILOR'S LIFE.

"How cheery are the mariners,

Those lovers of the sea!

Their hearts are like its yesty waves,

As bounding and as free."

PARK BENJAMIN.

MERRY, brisk; gay and noisy.

rank.

Are sailors merry?

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE LEARNED PROFESSIONS.

"STRIVE not too much for favor; seem at ease, And rather pleased thyself, than bent to please."

CRABBE.

If IGH, lifted up; raised above us.

Are some wise men wordy?

Is the gospel ministry a high
BLANK, white, or void; void or empty. calling?

Is blank paper needed?

WORDY, full of words.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF OFFICERS AND OFFICES.

"The man whom Heaven appoints
To govern others, should himself first learn
To bend his passions to the sway of reason."

THOMBON.

Are stern officers beloved!

First, most advanced; before all Has a prime minister a high office?

Does the President fill the first Mild, smooth; kind and gentle. office?

Should a ruler be mild?

Prime, beginning or first; highest in Stern, set or stiff; severe and stiff.

1

ONE HUNDRED AND NINTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF THE WORKS OF MAN.

"Man has sought out many inventions."

BIBLE.

LIKE even; nearly the same. Are the works of man like God? LITTLE, less; small in size. KEEN, piercing; sharp in cutting. Is a new knife keen?

SHARP, cutting; having a thin edge or point. Has a needle a sharp point! LEVEL, pressed down smooth; flat, not rough. Is the table level?

ONE HUNDRED AND TENTH STUDY

QUALITIES OF THE WORKS OF GOD.

"THE gentle moon, the kindling sun, The many stars are given, As shrines to burn earth's incense on, The altar-fires of heaven."

WHITTIER.

GREAT, increasing; large in size or Hor, rousing; having much heat. number.

Are the works of God great? Good, strong; of fine quality. Is God a good being?

Are the rays of the sun hot? .

BLEAK, open; open to the wind. The hills are bleak.

ONE HUNDRED AND ELEVENTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF MINERAL BODIES.

"Alone I walked the ocean strand; A pearly shell was in my hand: I stoop'd and wrote upon the sand My name, the year, the day."

HANNAH GOULD.

HARD, pressed; firm to the touch. Are all metals hard? Acid, sharp edge; sharp to the taste. Brittle, breaking; easily broken. Is aluminum an acid metal!

BRIGHT, darting, as rays; shiny. Is gold a bright metal! Is chalk brittle?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWELFTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF VEGETABLE BODIES.

"HEAP'D in the hollows of the grove, The wither'd leaves lie dead; They rustle to the eddying gust, And to the rabbit's tread."

BRYANT.

RANK, reaching; strong in growth. Are some plants rank? SHORT, cut off; low or of small height. Is grass short? PRETTY, set off; neat and pleasing. Are all flowers pretty? Tough, pulling; that which may be bent. Is hickory wood tough?

MELLOW, soft, or melting; soft with ripeness. Are peaches mellow?

RIPE, what may be reaped; mature in growth.

Are ripe pears pleasant to the taste ! Whole, sound; all, every part, or one.

Is the plant whole?

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTEENTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF ANIMALS.

"HARK! is that the angry howl Of the wolf, the hills among !-Or the hooting of the owl, On his leafy cradle swung!"

WHITTIER.

Have you seen a stray lamb? TAME, subdue; accustomed to man. Is the ox tame? GREEDY, reaching forward; having a Slow, slack; lazy in motion. strong desire for food. Are vultures greedy animals!

STRAY, scattered; wandering, or lost. RAMPANT, rearing up, or overleaping. What is a lion rampant? Swiff, whirling; rapid in motion. Is the deer swift in running. Are snails slow animals!

ONE HUNDRED AND FOURTEENTH STUDY.

QUALITIES OF LIGHT.

"My heart looks up when I behold A rainbow in the sky."

WORDSWORTH.

RED, opening or glowing; a bright warm color.

Are some apples red?

YELLOW, bright; a bright color.

Is gold a yellow metal?

GREEN, growing as a grass; a cool color composed of yellow and blue.

Is moss green?

BLUE, a rich warm color.

Is the sky blue?

Brown, burnt; a sober cool color.

Are some kind of woods brown?

Gray, fair; white mixed with black.

Is an old man's hair gray?

Black, waning, or pale; the color of night.

Are clouds sometimes black?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEENTH STUDY

QUALITIES OF GOD.

"God of wisdom, God of might,
Father! dearest name of all,
Bow thy throne and bless our rite;
"Tis thy children on thee call."

SPRAGUE.

BLESSED, made blithe; made happy.

Is a Christian blessed?

MIGHTY, strength; strong.

Is God mighty?

FIRST, advanced before; the beginning of all things.

Is God our first ruler?

TRUE, closed fast; real, or according to fact.

Is there but one true God?

Holy, whole, or sound; free from sin.

Is God holy in all his ways?

CHAPTER XII.

ACTIONS.

WE have now come to the THIRD stage of the mind in gathering up words—ACTIONS. We began with the names of things; as papa, mamma, dog. We then got the names of some qualities; as good papa, dear mamma, bad dog. Afterwards, we got the names of actions; as, good papa comes, dear mamma sings, bad dog bites. In this way, every child gathers up the words that form his daily speech.

Our old Saxon forefathers formed nearly all names of ACTIONS from names of things. They did so by putting gan, to go, anan, to give, or agan, to hold, after the names of things. Thus deal, the name of a part, becomes dealan, to divide into parts.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTEENTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE BODY OF MEN.

THE body has its own actions. The pulse beats and the lungs breathe even while we sleep. But our bodies cease to act.

"They walked not under the lindens,
They played not in the hall;
But shadow, and silence, and sadness
Were hanging over all."

LONGFELLOW.

Sir, to cast down; to rest on a seat.

Can you sit on a chair?

Lie, to throw down; to rest stretched out.

Do you lie in bed! SLUMBER, to murmur in breathing; to take light sleep.

May he slumber in school? SLEER, to be loose; to rest unknowingly.

Do we sleep at night? SNORE, to make a sound with the nose; to breathe with a hoarse voice in sleep.

Can you snore loudly!

Rise, to lift up oneself; to get up from sleep, or sitting.

Do you rise in the morning? SNEEZE, to thrust out air; to emit air audibly through the nose.

Do you sneeze when you have a cold!

Pain, to prickle; to produce an uneasy feeling.

Does severe cold pain us!

Nap, to nod; to take a short sleep.

Does grandfather nap in his chair?

SPIT, to cast out; to cast out from the mouth.

Should we spit on the carpet? Swoon, to fall away; to sink into a fainting state.

Have you ever seen any one swoon?

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTEENTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE HANDS.

"SHE stood beside the well her God had given, To gush in that deep wilderness, and bathed The forehead of her child, until he laughed In his reviving happiness, and lisped His infant thoughts of gladness at the sight Of the cool plashing of his mother's hand," thing with the hand.

N. P. WILLIA

Did you hand the book! HANDLE, to hold; to feel or use with the hand.

Can you handle the hoe? Hold, to strain; to keep fast Can you hold a horse! CREEP, to grapple; to crawl on the hands and feet.

Do infants creep?

GROPE, to feel; to feel with the hands. Do we grope with the hands? GRIPE, to catch; to seize with the hand.

Did you gripe the toy! GRAPPLE, to seize; to lay fast hold of. Did the boys grapple? CLUTCH, to close fast; to clasp with the hand.

Did the boy clutch the knife!

HAND, to thrust out; to reach any CLAP, to strike; to strike the hands together.

> Did you clap the speaker! CLIP, to drive quickly; to cut with shears.

> Do we clip the box in summer! STRIKE, to rub or thrust; to hit with any thing, as the hands.

> Should children strike each other! STROKE, to rub gently; to rub gently and soothe.

Do we stroke the kitten! Box, to close up; to strike with the fist.

Do good boys box ! FINGER, to thrust out; to catch with the fingers.

Do you finger your book! REACH, to stretch; to put out the hand.

Can you reach across the table!

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTEENTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE FEET.

"For thou didst tread The way that leads me heavenward, and My often wayward footsteps led In the same path with patient hand."

G. W. BETHUNE.

WALK, to roll, or press; to move on SLIDE, to move smoothly; to move the feet.

Do you like to walk? SNEAK, to creep softly; to move in a STRIDE, to step, or open; to walk crouching way.

Do the wicked sneak away! LEAP, to draw up; to bound or spring forward.

Can you leap far ?

Run, to rush; to move quickly on the feet.

Do children like to run? STAND, to place; to be upon the feet. Should you stand straight! STALK, to steal along; to walk with a high proud step. SLIP, to move easily; to slide on the feet.

Did you slip?

along without stepping.

Can you slide on the ice! with long steps.

Does the farmer stride over the field!

WADE, to go through; to walk through water.

Do you like to wade in water! WADDLE, to go; to move from side to side in walking.

Should we waddle when we walk! STEP, to open out; to move the foot,

De we step in walking! FETTER, to tie the feet; to bind with a chain.

Does the jailer fetter the crimiual !

ONE HUNDRED AND NINETEENTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF MAN.

Man is active, both when he sleeps and when he awakes. He dreams of happiness.

> "Do something-do it soon-with all thy might; An angel's wing would droop if long at rest, And God himself inactive were no longer blest."

> > CARLOS WILCOX.

LIVE, to breathe on; to have life. Does man live! Grow, to swell; to increase in size. May the boy grow? HAVE, to seize; to possess. Have you a book ! Do, to be able; to make or perform. Will you do what is right? LAUGH, to thrust; to make the noise of mirth. Can you laugh loudly! Sign, to draw in; to draw in and exhale a deep breath. Do those in pain sigh? WEEP, to cry out; to shed tears. Do you often weep? Lift, to raise into the air; to raise up from the ground. Can you lift a chair!

Brook, to grind the teeth; to bear or endure a check.

Can children brook restraint?

BEAR, to bring forth; to carry, or support.

Can you bear much weight?

Au, to be in pain; to be sick, or troubled.

What ails you?
Believe, to leave with; to trust on a person or thing.

Do all believe in God ?
WORSHIP, to give honor; to adore
God.

Do you love to worship God!

Hallow, to make sound; to make holy.

Should we hallow the name of

Should we hallow the name of God?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTIETH STUDY.

ACTIONS IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

"Around his board his wife and children smile:
Communion sweetest, nature here can give,
Each find endearments, office of delight
With love and duty blending."
TIMOTHY DWIGHT.

Green, to cry out; to speak and address one kindly.

Should we greet each other every morning!

Kms, to fall; to salute or greet with the lips.

Do you kiss your mother every night?

Ask, to press upon; to seek by speech.

Do you ask your parents to teach you?

Answer, to speak back; to speak when questioned.

Do you answer your parents kindly!

MEET, to fall to; to come together.

Do children meet their parents gladly in the morning ? Part, to break; to separate from each other.

Do we part at night?
Begin, to go in; to commence any thing.

Do you begin to study early ! Bury, to hide or cover; to put a body in the earth.

Do we bury the dead in sorrow! Swear, to lay to; to bear witness by appealing to God.

Should men swear?

TAUNT, to tug; to accuse with cutting words.

Is it unkind to taunt?

GLIDE to go gently; to move lightly along the surface.

Does the boy glide over the ice!

Yawn, to open; to have the mouth open through drowsiness.

Does the sleepy boy yawn? GAPE, to tear open; to open the mouth wide.

Do we often gape after eating ! Bow, to bend as a bow; to bend the head.

Should we bow to those we know! WRIGGLE, to move twistingly; to move with short twists.

Do some children wrighte when they walk!

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIRST STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE SENSES.

THE five senses, hearing, seeing, smell, taste and touch, are active, waiting upon the soul. They tell us many things about the world.

> "Upon the sodden ground His old right hand lay nerveless, listless, dead, Unsceptered; and his realmless eyes were closed, While his bowed head seemed listening to the earth." KEATS.

LOOK, to stretch forth; to turn the LIST, to incline forward; to incline eye towards an object.

Does the eye look at things? BLINK, to glitter; to twinkle with the eves.

Do we blink in strong light? STARE, to strain stiff; to look with . fixed eve.

Should we stare at any one! HARK, to direct the ear; to lend the ear.

Do you hark when you hear a noise !

HEARKEN, to lend the ear; to listen to what is said.

Should you hearken to your teacher I the ear in desire.

Do you list to what is said? SMELL, to relax; to know by the nose. Can you smell the flowers ?

FEEL, to touch; to know by the touch.

Can you feel the round table. LISTEN, to lend the ear; to give attention to what is said.

Must you listen if you would learn !

SEEK, to stretch out the eye; to search for any thing.

Should we seek wisdom?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SECOND STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE SOUL OF MAN.

THE soul, we have reason to believe; never sleeps. It is so active as to have no desire to rest.

> "Man superior walks Amid the glad creation, musing praise, And looking lively gratitude."

THOMSON.

thoughts by words.

Do we speak often !

STUN, to strike by noise; to make senseless.

Did the fall stun him !

Wonder, to turn; to look or be surprised.

Does the mind wonder

THINK, to set in the mind: to exercise the mind about any thing.

Do we think always!

Know, to hold in the mind; to be acquainted with any thing.

Do you know any thing about the sun !

GLAD, to be lifted up; to cheer with pleasure.

Does God glad the heart of man? Mourn, to murmur to oneself; to sorrow for that which is lost.

Does the mother mourn for her child ?

Wish, to long for; to long for something.

Do you wish to be good! LIKE, to stroke smoothly; to be pleased with.

Can you like a bad child?

Speak, to thrust out; to tell our Chide, to press with words; to blame lightly.

> Does your teacher chide you when you do wrong!

LIGHT, to shoot out; to make things visible.

Does knowledge light up the mind !

CRAZE, to crack; to make one mad.

Does sorrow craze the brain ? RECKON, to stretch so as to tell: to count or number.

Can you reckon as far as ten! HEED, to give attention; to mind with care.

Do you heed what your mother says ?

PROVE, to try, as by taste; to try so as to find the truth.

Should we be able to prove whatever we do ?

Hope to reach forward: to desire future good.

Do you hope to go to heaven? WEEP, to cry out; to shed tears.

Do we weep for the dead! Love, to lean forward; to delight in any thing.

Do you love God!

disgust.

Moan, to make a low sound; to express sorrow.

Do we moan in grief?

HATE, to be hot; to dislike greatly.

Do you hate wickedness?

LOATHE, to thrust away; to feel much

Do the sick loaths food?
Will, to set forward; to choose any thing.

Do you will before you walk?
RECK, to tell; to care or mind.
Do the dead reck any thing?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-THIRD STUDY.

ACTIONS AND FOOD.

"RETIRED
Within his gorgeous hall, Assyria's king
Sits at the banquet, and in love and wine
Revels delighted."

ATHERSTONE.

CHOKE, to stop up; to stop the wind-

Cook, to prepare food for eating.

Is it easy to cook food?

SIFT, to separate; to take the coarse from the fine with a sieve.

Do we sift meal?

KNEAD, to press with the fist; to make flour and barm into dough.

make flour and barm into dough.

Does the girl knead the dough?

Raw to harden by fire: to cook food

BARE, to harden by fire; to cook food in an oven.

Do we bake bread in an oven?

DINE, to take the day meal; to eat the chief meal.

Do you dine at two o'clock?

CARVE, to pluck; to cut in small pieces.

Is it easy to carve a fowl?

CRAM, to force into; to stuff in any thing as food.

Does the child cram food into his mouth?

pipe.
Will a bone choke you!
Sur, to make a noise with the lips in taking large quantities; to take up with the mouth.

Do you sup fast!

SIP, to make a noise with the lips in taking small quantities; to take up with the lips.

Do we sip our teaf

Drink, to draw; to swallow liquor or water.

Do children drink much †
Grind, to rub; to reduce to powder.
Does the girl grind the coffee †
Smack, noise in tasting; to make a noise with the lips.

Is it nice to smack?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FOURTH STUDY.

ACTIONS AND CLOTHING.

"The old man sunk Upon his knees, and in the drapery Of the rich curtains buried up his face." N. P. WILLIS.

CLOTHE, to draw over; to put gar- DYE, to color; to tinge by coloring. ments on the body.

Does the mother clothe her child! DECK, to cover; to dress finely.

Does the mother deck her child!

Can we dye garments?

Knrr, to make by knots; to make by knotting threads.

Does the girl knit gloves!

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH STUDY.

ACTIONS IN THE HOUSE.

"HER wheel at rest, the matron thrills no more With treasured tales and legendary lore. All, all are fled."

ROGERS.

SCREEN, to cut off; to shade from heat WASH, to clean by rubbing in water. or cold.

Does the house screen you from

SAY, to thrust out; to speak or tell any thing.

Can the baby say any thing? Score, to dry up; to burn on the surface. Will the fire scorch clothes! CLEAN, to remove; to separate from any thing dirty.

Does the housemaid clean the room !

Sweep, to wipe; to clean by brush-

Will the girl sweep the stairs?

Will the girl wash the dirty clothes!

Wipe, to rub dry; to rub for the purpose of cleaning.

Did the girl wipe the floor this morning?

Spill, to waste; to let run out of a vessel.

Did you spill the milk! WHITTLE, a knife; to pare with a knife.

SEND, to urge; to cause to go. Can you send a book! SMOTHER, to smoke; to choke in any way.

Do boys whittle sticks.

Would smoke smother you? Smooth, to make even; to give an even surface to.

Do we smooth clothes

Bidg, to lodge; to stay in a place, or dwell.

Do children bide at home?

BREAK, to thrust; to drive in pieces.

Will a fall break a plate?

QUENCH, to put out; to put out as a flame.

Will water quench fire!

REST, to lay down; to cease from work.

Do we rest at night?
ROUSE, to shake; to stir up to action.
Shall I rouss you in the morning?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SIXTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE HOUSEKEEPER.

"At intervals my mother's voice was heard Urging despatch: briskly the work went on, All hands employed to wash, to rinse, to wring, To fold, to starch, and clap, and iron and plait."

BARBAULD.

FOSTER, to give food; to feed, or bring up.

Does the kind lady foster many children!

WARM, to rouse with heat; to supply heat.

Does the fire warm you? Fred, to nourish; to give food.

Does the nurse feed the children? Saw, to stitch; to unite with needle and thread.

Will you sew your glove?

HEM, to fold and sew down the edge.

Can you hem your handkerchief?

Swapper to clother to hind with

Swaddle, to clothe; to bind with bandage.

Will the nurse swaddle the child?
The, to strain; to bind with a cord or band.

Will you tie your shoef Sings, to crackle in scorching; to burn a listle.

Will you singe your dress if you stand too near the fire!

SOAR, to suck in: to steep in liquid.

Will the girl soak the muslin in water?

Rear, to erect; to raise or bring up.
Will the family rear the child?
Milk, to stroke gently; to obtain milk by stroking.

Does the girl milk the cow?

Rings, to remove by washing; to cleanse by water.

Do we rinse clothes after they have been washed!

Wring, to strain; to strain and twist round.

Does the girl wring the clothes? Churn, to turn or shake; to shake milk into butter.

Does the girl churn to-day?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE HOUSEHOLDER.

"STRIKE till the last armed foe expires; Strike for your altars and your fires; Strike for the green graves of your sires; God—and your native land."

HALLEOK.

Open, to lift off; to take away any fastening.

Does the householder open the house!

Shur, to bolt; to close with fastenings.

Is the house shut up!

GIVE, to send to; to bestow any thing upon any one.

Is it pleasant to give?

Work, to strive; to perform labor.

Does the man work well?

LEAD, to draw forward; to guide or conduct.

Should a father lead his children!

RULE, to direct; to order or control.

Should a father rule his children.

Bm, to drive out the voice; to command or direct.

Should you do as your father bids you?

BIDE, to stay; to dwell or continue.

Will you bide long in this house !

BEQUEATH, to say by will; to leave any thing by will.

Did your mother bequeath you the money?

Husband, to keep in the house; to use carefully.

Should the farmer husband his hay?

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE HUNTER.

"Bur dauntless he, nor chart, nor journey's plan
In woods required, whose trained eye was keen
As eagle of the wilderness, to scan
His path, by mountain, swamp or deep ravine."

CAMPBELL.

mala.

Do many men hunt wild animals

TRAP, to catch up; to catch by a snare.

Did the hunter trap the beaver! Run, to rush; to pass rapidly on foot. Can the hunter run after game? RIDE, to go forward; to go on horseback.

Will the hunter ride far ! BET, to give a pledge; to stake a wager. '

Is it wrong to bet?

WEARY, to wear down; to tire the body.

Does the chase weary the hunter?

Hunt, to rush; to chase wild ani- SLAY, to strike; to put to death by violence.

> Will the hunter slay the deer! SEIN, to strip; to take off the skin.

Has the hunter skinned the animalf

THROW, to hurl; to fling or cast away. Does the hunter throw his spear? Ford, to pass; to cross a river by walking on the bottom.

Does the hunter ford many rivers?

FLAY, to bark; to strip off the skin. May the hunter flay an animal? GAD, to go; to wander about.

Does the hunter gad about? Shun, to go from; to keep out of sight.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE FISHER.

"A LITTLE hovel by the river side Received us: there hard labor and the skill In fishing, which was formerly my sport, Supported life."

HOME.

Fish, to take fish; to try to take fish. Is it pleasant to fish? Hook, to catch with a bent piece of metal.

Does the fisher hook fish? SPEAR, to pierce; to kill or pierce with the spear.

Does the fisher spear cels? DRAG, to haul along; to pull or haul. Will the fisher drag in the net! SAIL to strain in a course; to pass through water in a vessel.

Has the fisher to sail much? Swim, to vanish; to pass through water by using the limbs. Is it dangerous to swim? Wreck, to break; to dash on rocks or shoals, as a ship. Was the vessel wrecked?

Swamp, to suck down; to upset in water.

Will the boat swamp? Pull, to drag or haul.

Does the fisherman pull in the net full of fish?

WEATHER, to outride a storm; to bear up through a storms

Will a strong ship weather a storm ?

STREER, to strain towards; to direct, as a vessel.

Does the pilot steer the ship?

Row, to urge; to drive with oars. Do boatmen row the boat! Tom, to strain; to labor; to become weary.

Do laborers toil daily ! Barr, to feed; to put meat on a hook or in a snare.

Do fishers bait their hooks?

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE FARMER.

"The farmer's life displays in every part A moral lesson to the sensual heart. Though in the lap of plenty, thoughtful still, He looks beyond the present, good or ill."

BLOOMFIELD.

FARM, to produce corn; to cultivate or lease land.

Is it healthy to farm? land.

Does the farmer till his land! SEED, to scatter; to sow the land with seed.

Do farmers seed their lands? WEED, to free from noxious plants. Will the gardener weed the gar-

HARVEST, to be cold or keen; to gather in grain or fruits.

Does the farmer harvest the wheat?

STABLE, to put in a stall; to put in a stable or barn.

Should the farmer stable his cattle in winter!

STALL, to stand; to put in a stable or stand.

Do we stall cattle? PEN, to close up; to put in a fold. Does the farmer pen his sheep!

Till, to put in order; to cultivate Plough, to thrust; to turn up the soil with a plough.

Do we plough in spring ! REAP, to cut; to cut grain with a sickle.

Will the farmer reap in the fall? Dig, to thrust; to turn up the ground with a spade.

Must the farmer dig?

Shover, to shove; to throw up earth with a shovel.

Can you shovel sand?

Hoe, to chop; to scrape or dig with a hoe.

Will the man hoe the garden beds !

RAKE, to scrape; to gather grass or grain with a rake.

Does he rake the hay together?

from the husk.

Can he thrash with a flail?

Mow, to cut off; to cut grass with a scythe.

Can he mow with a scythe! HINDER, to weaken; to keep back or obstruct.

Does rain hinder the farmer from working?

SUMMER, to pass the hot season; to pass or carry through summer.

Do we summer cattle!

WINTER, to pass the windy season; to pass or carry through winter.

Do cattle winter well on good fodder!

THRASH, to beat; to beat out grain Fan, to open; to separate chaff from grain.

Will he fan wheat?

Hire, to get wages; to engage for a reward or price.

Does the farmer hire many men? GATHER, to close up or bind; to bring into stores, or heap up.

Will they gather in all the grain at harvest!

EARN, to gather; to obtain by labor.

Does the laborer sarn much ! GATHER, to go through; to collect into one place.

Does the farmer gather his grain !

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE HOUSEWRIGHT.

"Ar art's command, The village grows, the city springs."

SPRAGUE.

SUNDER, to part; to separate in any way.

Does the housewright sunder the wood!

FRAME, to join; to form the outline of a building.

Did the housewright frame the barn f

FLOOR, to make flat; to lay the bottom part of a house or room.

Will the carpenter floor the Roof, to cover; to put on the cover of a house.

When did the man roof the house !

BOARD, to spread; to cover with boards.

Do we board houses !

Build, to set or make; to frame and raise a building.

Will they build a large house? Saw, to cut; to cut with a saw.

Can the man saw wood?

Bore, to thrust; to make holes with a gimlet.

Will the carpenter bore a hole in the wood!

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SECOND STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE WHEELWRIGHT.

"Gop made the prophet's wheel, And filled it full of eyes."

WHET, to sharpen; to make sharp by Hew, to strike; to cut with any inrubbing.

strument.

Tunn, to move in a circle; to form on a lathe.

Does he hew his spokes ! CLEAVE, to split; to divide by cut-

Does the wheelwright turn the hub!

Do we cleave wood with an axe!

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-THIRD STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE SHIPWRIGHT.

"HER keel hath struck on a hidden rock, Her planks are torn asunder; And down came her masts with a reeling shock."

ting.

WILSON.

TRIM, to make firm; to put in order. SHAPE, to form; to give form to any thing.

Does he wield a large axe ! DECK, to throw on; to furnish with a deck.

Does the shipwright shape his vessel?

Does he deck the vessel with boardst

FASTEN, to hold firm; to make firm. Does the shipwright fasten the beams *

Ris, to give sides; to enclose with ribs.

Wield, to strain forcibly; to sway with the hand.

Does he rib the ship?

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FOURTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE MILLWRIGHT.

"Uron the river's bank, Near by the sounding waterfall, He built the village mill."

DAM, to stop; to keep in water with DRILL, to twist; to bore with a a bank.

Does the millwright dam the water?

drill.

Does he drill holes in the plank?

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIFTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE SMITH.

"THE smith, a mighty man is he, With large and sinewy hands: And the muscles of his brawny arms Are strong as iron bands."

LONGFELLOW.

BEAT, to strike; to strike often. Does the smith beat the iron ? NAIL, to pin; to fasten with nails or iron pins.

Is the horseshoe nailed on ! HEAT, to warm; to warm by fire. Will the smith heat the metal ?

MELT, to soften; to make like a liquid.

Can one melt silver! HAMMER, to beat; to strike with a hammer.

Is the iron well hammered? NEAL, to kindle; to temper by heat. Does the mechanic neal iron!

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SIXTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE WEAVER.

"In olden time. Kings' daughters had their looms."

and form cloth.

Will he weave fine cloth? SPIN, to draw out; to draw out flax Knor, to swell; to join or unite or wool into a thread.

Do women spin?

Weave, to throng; to unite threads Twist, to turn about; to wind one thread round another.

Does the weaver twist his cord? threads or cords.

Can the weaver knot his thread!

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE MANUFACTURER.

"A THOUSAND rivers minister to man: They irrigate the soil, and turn the wheels Of busy workshops."

Shape, to form; to form for some end.

Does the pin-maker shape his pins?

Full, to tread; to thicken cloth in a mill.

Do men full cloth!

BLEACH, to whiten; to make white by taking away the color.

Do we bleach muslin!

Come, to scrape; to separate and arrange with a comb.

Do they comb flax at a mill?

GRIND, to make smooth or sharpen.

Can you grind a knife to make it sharp?

GLAZE, to make blue; to cover over with shining matter.

Are many dishes glazed?

Brand, to burn; to mark in any way.

Does the manufacturer brand his goods?

GAIN, to obtain; to get by labor or gift.

Does the idle man gain much?

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE TRADER.

"TRADE is the pulse of nations,

And on its healthful throbbings hang
 The industry of millions."

HAVE, to hold; to hold or possess.

Can the trader have many things?

Wend, to go or turn; to go from place to place.

Does the trader wend his way alone?

Dun, to crave noisily; to ask often for payment.

Will the merchant dun if he is not paid?

Lik, to stretch; to tell an untruth.

Should a man lie?

CHEAPEN, to strike a bargain; to ask the price.

Do some wish to cheapen all goods?

METE, to reach to; to measure.

Does the miller mete out the corn?

Ship, to put in shape; to put on a ship.

Will the merchant ship tea from China here?

WEIGH, to balance; to find the quantity of a thing by weighing it.

Does the grocer weigh tea?

DEAL, to divide; to trade in any thing.

Does he deal in wines?
Buy, to get things by paying for them.

Will he buy many things? Store, to heard; to lay up goods.

Should the trader store his goods in winter!

SELL, to send to; to give away a thing for money.

Does the trader sell much?

BARGAIN, to lend; to make some contract, buy or sell.

Can you bargain?

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-NINTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE SOLDIER.

"An, never shall the land forget

How gushed the life-blood of her brave—
Gushed, warm with hope and courage yet,
Upon the soil they sought to save."

BRYANT.

WREST, to twist; to gain by force.

Can the soldier wrest the goods of the enemy?

WARD, to keep off.

Does he ward the blows?

QUELL, to press down; to overcome.

Can the officer quell the fight?

RUSH, to move forcibly; to move with violence.

Do they rush on to war? RECK, to emit vapor; to care or mind.

The soldier recks not his life?
Welter, to wallow; to roll in blood.
Should the poor soldier be left to welter in his blood?
SLAUGHTER, to strike down; to make great havoc.

Did the armies slaughter each other?

WAVER, to move to and fro; to change in courage.

Should a soldier waver?

QUAIL, to sink away; to fall back and lose courage.

Does the coward quail in battle!

HARBOUR, to cover soldiers; to shelter in any way.

Should we harbor the criminal? SPARE, to shut off; to keep from punishment or death.

Can man spare his enemy? Hurr, to dash at; to injure in any way.

Should children hurt each other? Corz, to strive; to strive on equal terms,

Did America cope with England!

SHOOT, to throw out; to let fly an DRILL, to turn; to exercise or train arrow.

Do men shoot balls?

Dun, to strike in naming; to strike with a sword in making a knight.

Does the king dub knights! WAR, to urge against; to contend in battle.

Fight, to fetch a blow; to strive for victory in battle.

Is it wrong to fight?

HALT, to hold up; to stop on a march.

Do soldiers halt when they are tired !

in arms.

Should the officer drill his men! SHIELD, to cover; to protect from danger.

Does the soldier shield his country !

HEAD, to shoot or top; to lead or advance before.

Does the captain head his band? Boast, to use a bow; to praise oneself.

Do you like to boast of yourself?

Cow, to make afraid; to awaken fear. Does the keen look cow at times!

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTIETH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE TEACHER.

"In every village marked with little spire, Embowered in trees, and hardly known to fame, There dwells, in lowly shed and mean attire, A matron old, whom we schoolmistress name."

SHENSTONE.

TEACH, to point out; to give know-

Is it easy to teach children? Show, to hold to the eye; to present to view.

Does the teacher show her scholars how to do things? FORM, to set: to give shape to. Can you form a square ! READ, to drive out, as the voice: to utter written letters or words. Should a teacher read well ?

WRITE, to smear as with wax; to form letters and words.

Can your teacher write neatly ! RECKON, to count by balls; to count by figures.

Can you reckon quickly!

Rule, to direct; to govern and guide. Should a teacher rule her pu-. pils ?

LEARN, to gather; to take up know-

Does the good child learn well!

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FIRST STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE DOCTOR.

"PREMIT that I My little knowledge with my country share, Till you the rich Asclepian stores unlock."

Dr. Abustrong.

Hear, to make sound; to cure sickness,

Can the doctor heal us?

BLEED, to cause to flow; to take away blood by opening a vein.

Should the doctor bleed her?

Mrx, to stir.; to mingle things.

Does the doctor mix his medicines?

Bray, to break in pieces; to pound in a mortar.

Do doctors bray medicines in a mortar?

BLISTER, to bloat; to raise the skin with a watery liquid.

Do doctors blister for fevers?

Cur, to use a cup to draw away blood.

Will the doctor cup for dropsy?

LEECH, to lessen; to treat with medicine and heal.

Do doctors leech the sick?

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SECOND STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE ARTIST.

"O THOU sculptor, painter, poet!

Take this lesson to thy heart;

That is best which lieth nearest,

Shape from that thy work of art."

LONGFELLOW.

Draw, to move over; to represent a picture by lines.

Can you draw objects?

Sing, to strain; to give forth sweet.

sounds.

Do you like to sing?

Pres, to make a sound by blowing; to play on a wind instrument.

Can the piper pipe on his pipes?

HARP, to play on a harp.

Do angels harp on golden harps? GILD, to pay in gold; to cover with gold.

Does the artist gild frames?

DRAFF, to draw; to draw the shape of a thing.

Can the artist draft? SKETCH, to cast forth; to draw an outline.

Does the artist sketch well?

BLEND, to mix; to mingle together. Does the artist blend colors?

Carve, to cut in; to shape any thing on wood or stone. Do engravers carve on wood?

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-THIRD STUDY.

ACTIONS OF MINERALS.

"'I AM a pebble, and yield to none," Were the swelling words of a tiny stone! 'For I am as old as the big round earth?'" GOULD.

SPURN, GLISTEN, to shine; to shine with light. Does gold glisten? Rust, to become red; to become rusty. Does iron rust in the air! GLITTER, to sparkle; to sparkle with light. Do diamonds glitter?

DWINDLE, to fall away; to become

Does lead dwindle away when melted!

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FOURTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF PLANTS.

"THE wind flower and the violet, They perished long ago; And the brier rose and the orchis died Amid the summer's glow."

BRYANT.

GROW, to increase; to enlarge in SEED, to scatter; to grow and make size.

Do all plants grow? EAR, to shoot: to form ears as corn. Does the corn ear well?

LEAF, to shoot out; to put forth leaves.

Does the rose leaf in spring! Blossom, to open out; to put forth flowers.

Does the rose blossom?

seed.

Do farmers seed their ground? WITHER, to become dry; to fade and lose its freshness.

Does the rose wither in autumn? DROOP, to fall; to hang downward.

Does the lily of the valley droop? CLOTHE, to cover; to cover over any thing.

Does our Creator clothe the trees with leaves?

FEED, to nourish; to supply food.

Does grass feed cattle?

DIE, to pass away; to lose life.

Does the rose die?

RUSTLE, to make quick, small sounds.

Do leaves rustle?

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FIFTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF DOMESTIC ANIMALS.

"The low of herds
Blends with the rustling of the heavy grain."
BRYANT.

Brilow, to belch out sound; to make a loud hollow noise.

Does the bull bellow?

Low, to make a flat low sound; to make a low noise.

Does the cow low?

BLEAT, from the sound; to cry as sheep.

Does the sheep bleat?

BARK, from the sound; to make a sharp snapping noise.

Does the dog bark?

Worky, to shake or tear; to harass or tear.

Does the dog worry his food?

Whine, to squeak; to make a crying sound.

Does the dog whine?

Fawn, to crouch in joy; to seek favor or notice.

Does the dog faun on his master?

NEIGH, from the sound; to make the sound of a horse.

Does the horse neigh?

Bray, to make a grinding sound; to make a harsh loud sound.

Does the ass bray?

Graze, to eat grass; to feed on grass or herbage.

Do cattle graze in the field?

Wae, to shake; to move one way and the other, as the tail.

Does the dog wag his tail!

LICK, to rub; to draw the tongue over a thing.

Does the dog lick his master's hand?

Crow, from the sound; to make the noise of the cock.

Does the cock crow?

CLUCK, from the sound; to make the sound of the hen while hatching.

Does the hen cluck?

SLINE, to creep slily; to steal away.

Does puss slink behind the door?

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SIXTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF WILD ANIMALS.

"The wild boar sought his lair;
The wolf prowled through the wood;
The serpent hissed; nay, all the beasts
Gave signs of fear."

ROAR, to make a loud long noise.

Does the lion roar?

Grin, to set the teeth; to open the mouth and set the teeth.

Does the wolf grin?

Hiss, to make a hissing sound.

Does the black snake hiss when angry?

Bristle, to shoot up; to raise the hair.

Does the wild boar bristle when angry?

Creke, to crawl; to move slowly.

Does the snake creep?

Spring, to leap; to move with violence.

Does the lion spring on his prey?
TEAR, to waste; to separate with violence.
Does the tiger tear his food?
BURROW, to bore into; to make a hole in the earth.

Does the rabbit burrow?

CLIMB, to go up; to creep up a tree or rock.

Does the monkey climb trees?

Limp, to walk as if lame.

Does the hare limp over the frozen grass?

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF WATER ANIMALS.

"SEEKEST thou the plashy brink
Of weedy lake, or marge of river wide,
Or where the rocking billows rise and sink
On the chafed ocean side?"

BRYANT.

CROAK, from the sound; to make a low hoarse noise.

Does the frog croak?

Suck, to draw into; to imbibe or draw up a fluid.

Does the leech suck blood? Swm, to pass away; to move on or in water.

Do fish swim in water?
Scuttle, to make as a basket; to bore a ship so as to be open like a basket.

Spawn, to throw out; to throw out eggs as a fish.

Does the ship-worm scuttle vessels i

Do fish spawn once a year!

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF BIRDS.

"With storm-daring pinion, and sun-gazing eye, The gray forest eagle is the king of the sky." STREET.

Fry, to move with the wings; to move through the air with wings.

Does the eagle fly? Hor, to hobble; to spring on the feet.

Does the robin hop merrily about ?

Swoop, to carry off rapidly; to seize on the wing.

Does the eagle swoop his prey! FLUTTER, to waver: to move and flap the wings.

Does the wounded bird flutter?

SCREAM, to cry out in fear; to utter a loud shrill cry.

Does the eagle scream when angryf

LAY, to put down; to bring forth as eggs.

Do all birds lay eggs ?

Mount, to go up; to soar on high.

Does the eagle mount on his wings!

Light, to lift; to get down as a bird from on wing.

Does the bird light on the branch !

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-NINTH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE EARTH.

"Earth that nourished thee shall claim Thy growth, to be resolved to earth again."

circular course.

Does the earth turn on its axis? WHIRL, to turn round quickly; to roll rapidly.

Does water whirl in the whirlpool ?

Tuen, to wheel about; to move in a Glide, to move smoothly; to move rapidly but smoothly.

> FLOAT, to move as if on wing; to be borne along on water or in the air.

Do clouds float in the air?

QUAKE, to shake : to shake or tremble. Does the earth sometimes quake? TEEM, to bring forth; to swarm with life.

Does the earth teem with living things ? SWARM, to move as boiling water: to throng in crowds.

Does the air swarm with life? SPROUT, to shoot; to spring forth as grass. Does grass sprout up from the earth ? BEAR, to carry; to bring forth. Does the earth bear grain?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTIETH STUDY.

ACTIONS OF BODIES OF WATER,

"And why do the roaring ocean, And the night-wiff wild and bleak, As they beat at the heart of the mother. Drive the color from her cheek ?" LONGFELLOW.

in water.

Swell, to enlarge; to rise in billows.

Do the waves of the ocean swellf

FLow, to move as water; to glide along as water.

Do streams flow? FREEZE, to shrink; to harden into Drown, to draw over; to overwhelm

Does water freeze?

THAW, to flow; to melt what is frozen.

Does the sun thaw ice? FLOOD, to flow over; to flow over its bounds.

Do rivers sometimes flood their banks!

Did the man drown his dog ?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FIRST STUDY.

ACTIONS OF THE HEAVENS.

"THE golden sun, The planets, all the infinite host of heaven Are shining on the sad abodes of death."

HANG, to waver; to suspend. Do the clouds hang in the heavens f

Water, to flow and wet; to pour out as rain.

Do the heavens water the earth?

BRYANT.

SHADE, to cut off as light; to screen from the light.

Do clouds sometimes shade the Dazzle, to make dizzy; to overpower with light.

Does the sun dazzle our eyes?

WHEEL, to turn about; to roll forward.

Does the bear wheel about the pole star?

Rise, to go up; to move or pass upwards.

Does the sun rise every morning ? SET, to drive; to pass below the hori-

Does the sun set every evening?

Twinkle, to wink; to shine tremblingly.

Do stars twinkle?

GLEAM, to shoot; to shoot forth rays.

Does the moon gleam in misty weather?

DRENCH, to drink; to soak as with rain.

Does rain drench the earth? Sprinkle, to scatter; to scatter as rain.

Do the clouds sprinkle rain?

Dawn, to become day; to open as the morning.

Does day dawn gently!

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SECOND STUDY.

ACTIONS OF GOD.

"Our God, our Father, our eternal all!

Who made our spirits, who our bodies made,

Who made the heavens, who made the flowery land,

Who made all made, who orders, governs all."

POLLOK.

Make, to form; to form into any shape.

Did God make the earth!

LAY, to throw down; to settle or fix.

Did God lay the foundations of the world?

REAR, to raise up; to raise or build.

Did God rear the earth? Fix, to fasten; to make firm.

Did God fix the earth in its Hold, to strain; to bind fast, or together.

Does God hold the sea in the hollow of his hand!

KEEP, to thrust; to hold or preserve.

Does God keep us from harm? Curse, to bring evil upon one.

Does God curse the wicked?

Bless, to make happy; to confergood on one.

Does God bless the good?

Atone, to make one; to satisfy for sin.

Should we atone for our sins?

CHAPTER XIII.

EVENTS.

EVENTS OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

THE death of children in early life is a sad event; the blight of buds of promise.

> "I saw the nursery windows Wide open to the air; But the faces of the children, They were no longer there."

LONGFELLOW.

WED, to pledge love; to unite in Work, what is done by effort; labor marriage.

Do men and women wed each

WEDDING, a pledging of love; a marriage.

Did you attend the wedding? BIRTH, a bringing forth; coming into life.

Do you watch the birth of the flowers?

of any kind.

Should all men work? PLAY, a throwing off work; sport or amusement.

Do children like play?

SLEEP, a loosening; rest by suspending the powers of body and mind.

Do children sleep sweetly!

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THIRD STUDY.

EVENTS IN THE OCCUPATIONS OF MAN.

"So many hours must I tend my flock: So many hours must I take my rest: So many hours must I contemplate." SHAKEPEARE SEED-TIME, time of sowing; the season for sowing.

Is spring the seed-time of the year !

HARVEST, the food part of the year; the season for gathering the crops.

Is August a harvest month? Sowing, a scattering; the art of seed ing a field.

Is sowing a toilsome work! BLIGHT, a scurf; a disease that nips plants or grain.

Does the farmer dread the blight?

Mildew, honey-dew; a white coating on plants.

Does mildew injure plants? Shirwere, ship-breaking; the casting away of a ship.

Is a shipwreck a dreadful thing?

Fall, a driving; the act of dropping from a high place.

Does snow fall to the earth?

Wound, a thrust; a hurt of any kind.

Is a wound painful?

Rust, red; a disease in grain.

Does rust injure wheat?

BEGINNING, a going in; the first of any thing.

Did God create the earth in the beginning?

Loss, a parting; a ceasing to possess something.

Do we mourn the loss of our friends?

Fire, a raging; the burning of any thing.

Is fire useful?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOURTH STUDY.

EVENTS OF THE EARTH.

"Now that winter's gone, the earth hath lost
Her snow-white robes, and now no more the frost
Candies the grass, or calls an icy cream
Upon the silver lake."

CAREW-

COLD, a blowing; the want of heat.

Is winter cold?

HEAT, fire; a state of warmth.

Does the fire give out heat?

DAY, opening; the time when the sun is with us.

Does the sun shine during the day?

Night, black; the time when the sun is absent.

Does the moon shine at night?
Spring, a shooting; the season of buds.

Is spring pleasant? SUMMER, hot or sun time; the flowering of the earth.

Do roses bloom in summer?

Fall, a dropping; the time of decay
Is fall dreary!

Winter, windy time; the sleep of the earth.

Does snow fall in winter?

Wind, a moving; the air in motion.

Do you like to hear the wind?

Blast, a striking; a sudden gust of wind.

Did you hear the blast?

Breeze, a moving; a gentle blow of air.

Is a breeze pleasant?

Storm, a raging; a strong wind and rain.

Is a storm often fearful?
Shower, a shaking; a fall of rain.

Does a shower do good! HAIL, a driving; a fall of frozen rain.

Does hail do any harm! Snow, a glistening; a fall of frozen vapor.

Is snow white?

ICE. what is firm; water frozen solid. Is ice clear?

Frost, a shining; frozen mist or fog.

Is frost a pleasing thing! Mist, what mixes; water falling in very small drops.

Is mist gloomy?

Daw, what gleams; moisture in the air made into drops.

Is dew sparkling?

FLOOD, a rushing; a great flow of water.

Do floods occur in spring ! WAVE, a going to and fro: a moving swell of water.

Does the wind make waves? TIDE, a hopping; the rise and fall of the waters of the sea.

Does the moon make the tide? LAND-SLIP, a moving of land; a slide of land.

Does a land-slip destroy any thing?

Spring, a leaping; a boiling up of water.

Is a spring beautiful? FALL, a throwing; a descent of water. Is a fall of water a fine sight?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FIFTH STUDY.

EVENTS IN THE HEAVENS.

"THE sky is changed! and such a change! O night, And storm and darkness, ye are wondrous strong. From peak to peak the rattling crags among Leaps the live thunder."

BYRON.

we see.

Is light pleasing to the eye? Twilight, doubtful light; light before the rising and setting of the sun. Is twilight the time for thought?

CLOUD, a mass; a mass of visible vapor.

Does the cloud sail in the air! Dawn, opening; the break of day. Is the dawn the time to rise! THUNDER, a clashing; the sound that follows lightning.

Is thunder a fearful thing!

LIGHT, a darting forth; that by which LIGHTNING, a flashing; a flash of light before a thunder-clap.

> Is lightning a strong thing? Sunrise, a going of the sun; the first appearance of the sun.

Is sunrise beautiful?

SUNSET, a sinking of the sun: the going down of the sun.

Is a sunset glorious !

RAINBOW, an arch of colors made by the sun shining on rain.

Is a rainbow a lovely sight? RAIN, what flows; falling drops of water.

Is rain useful to the farmer?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SIXTH STUDY.

EVENTS OF GOD.

"THE spacious firmament on high, With all the blue ethereal sky. And spangled heavens, a shining frame, Their great Original proclaim." ADDISON.

EARTH, dust; the place on which MAN, strong; the race of thinking plants, animals and man live. Is the earth our world? HEAVEN, lifted up; the sky or place round the earth. Is heaven above the earth! Sun, the shiner; the body that lights the earth by day. Is the sun bright? Moon, what directs; the body that lights the earth by night. Do you like to see the moon? STAR, what steers; a bright body that sparkles at night in the sky. Is a star a world. World, round; the earth, or the universe.

Is the earth called the world?

beings to which we belong: God's image on earth. Is man a thinking being ! FALL, a casting down; the ruin of God's image in man by sin. Did Adam fall by sin! Gospel, good-speaking; good news from God to man.

Is the gospel news about Christ! DAYSMAN, the strength of day; one who unites parties, as sinful man and offended God.

Is Christ our daysman? Peace, pressed down; rest from every thing that troubles. Does Christ give peace?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

LAST THINGS.

"Thus have I sung beyond thy first request, Rolling my numbers o'er the track of man, The world at dawn, at midday, and decline; Time gone, the righteous saved, the wicked damned, And God's eternal government approved." POLLOK. thing.

Is death the end of life on earth? DEATH, a falling away; the end of life on earth.

Is death sometimes fearful? GRAVE, a place dry; the place of the

Is the grave the last resting-place of the body?

COURT, a circuit; a place of justice.

- Is the court of heaven to be entered?

End, a point; the close or last of any Doom, judgment; sentence or fixed state of man.

> Is the doom of man known after death !

HELL, a covered place; the abode of the wicked.

Is there a hell?

HEAVEN, lifted up; the high abode; the home of God, angels, and saints.

Do holy persons go to heaven?

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

THE END OF THE SECOND PART.

THE second part of the HAND-BOOK OF ANGLO-SAXON ROOT-WORDS is ended. We began it with the words of HOME, and closed it with the words of LAST THINGS.

Between these two points there is a wide space. have passed over it THREE TIMES. The FIRST TIME WE noticed the things lying between home and heaven, and gathered up their NAMES. Thus, home, house, under the HEAD, Home. We did more than this. We learned what they meant, when the Saxons first used them; and also what they mean now with us. Thus, home, a cover, the place where one lives.

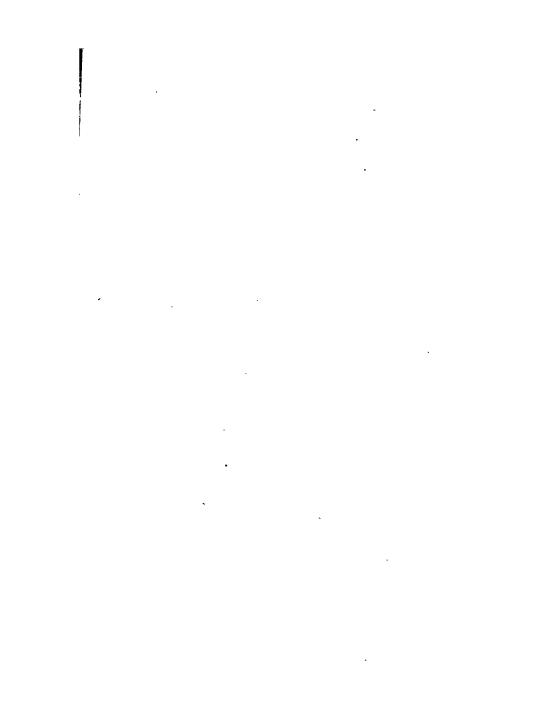

The SECOND TIME we marked the QUALITIES of things lying between home and heaven, and picked up the WORDS that stand for them. Thus, under home, we got sweet, dear.

The THIRD TIME, we noticed the ACTIONS of things lying between home and heaven, and learned the words that stand for them. Thus, under the senses, we got the words, look, hear, smell, feel.

In this way, the mind grows in learning words and joining them with things. Thus, your mind grows. Already you possess over one thousand root-words, and are able to point out their meanings, and use them in speech. These are like seeds. They will produce other words. Some TWENTY THOUSAND form their great offspring.

THIRD PART.

THE BEGINNINGS OF THE ROOT-WORDS.

THE BEGINNINGS OF THE ROOT-WORDS.

CHAPTER I.

THE BEGINNING OF WORDS.

Words have a beginning. We propose to seek it in the human body, the great instrument from which the soul awakens words.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-NINTH STUDY.

WORDS.

WORDS are now well-known things. Already you know over one thousand. What are they?

Words are the sounds that pass from the lips. They are made on the organ of speech.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTIETH STUDY.

THE ORGAN OF SPEECH.

THE organ of speech is the instrument by which we speak. It is made up of the following parts: the lips, teeth, tongue, palate and throat.

On this organ we speak and sing. It is the source of words. All words are formed on the organ of speech.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-FIRST STUDY

THE BODY AND WORDS.

THE body, as well as the organ of speech, has something to do with making words. Every part of the body helps us to make them. The lips give us sip and sup, the hands handle, haft, hold, and the feet step, walk, stand.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SECOND STUDY.

THE WORLD AND WORDS.

THE world also has something to do with making words. Every thing without us helps us to them. The mother's voice first gave us the words, pa and ma. Servants, brothers and sisters helped us to others—dog, cat, chick. The fire led us to pick up burn, hot. The dog helped us to bow-wow, and the cat to mew; the hen to cluck and cackle, and the cow to low and moo.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-THIRD STUDY.

THE SOUL AND WORDS.

THE soul has more to do with making words than every thing else. The organ of voice and body are the instrument on which it makes them. The world helps it to do so. Do you understand this?

I will make it plain. I take a cup of tea and suck in a little of it with my lips. You hear the sound sip, and say,

I sip my tea. I tell you something that makes you very happy. You strike your hands together, and I hear the sound clap, and say you clap me. So the soul picks up words from all things.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-FOURTH STUDY.

THE BEGINNINGS OF WORDS.

ALL words came forth from the lips, but all words did not begin there. Some of them began in the motions of the hands, others in the action of the feet; and some in breathing. Some words began in the noise made by animals; others in the growth of flowers and the beams of the sun. In these and other things, we have the beginnings of words.

If we take now the THOUSAND words we have learned, and look at them in their beginnings, we will see clearly what they mean. We will find clasp, finger, grope and feel beginning with the hands: look, see, hear, taste, with the senses. Thus, we shall trace words up to their beginnings, as we trace streams up to their springs.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-FIFTH STUDY.

٤

NATURAL HISTORY OF WORDS.

Words, like every thing else, have a beginning and a growth. This is their history.

All the words that we use, form one family. Some of them are older than others. Thus red and yellow are older than brown or gray. They first pleased us, and were first used.

Some of them have their beginnings in one part of the body and some in another. The feet, for instance, give us foot, step, steep, mount; the hand helps us to such words as hand, handle, take, hold.

We are now ready to look at the one thousand Anglo-Saxon root-words in their beginnings. In doing this, one simple rule will be our guide—words will be found under the parts of the body, or that which puts the body in action.

CHAPTER II.

THE HUMAN BODY.

THE human body is the instrument on which the soul forms words.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SIXTH STUDY.

THE ORGAN OF SPEECH.

THE ORGAN OF SPEECH IS THE FOUNT OF WORDS.

Speech, speak, lisp, word, song, sing, lip, mouth, tongue, pipe, answer, mourn, reck, chide, say, bid, bequeath, read, gospel.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

THE SENSE OF HEARING.

THE organ of speech would be useless without this sense. It guides speech. The following words mostly mark sound.

Sound, ear, hear, hearing, clock, tick, bell, gong, cow, bullock, swine, frog, owl, crow, lark, dove, cuckoo, goose, gander, gosling, winter, hare, slumber, snore, weep, hearken, listen, list, moan, craze, stun, smack, scream, sup, sip, singe, dun, rustle, bellow, low, bleat, bark, whine, greet, neigh, bray, crow, cluck, roar, hiss, croak, thunder.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

THE SENSE OF SERING.

This sense helps us to some words. It aids the organ of speech in getting those words that mark color.

Red, yellow, blue, white, black, dark, wan, green, brown, gray, dun, coal, flint, gold, gall, silver, glass, brass, brimstone, ash, sallow, radish, ruddy, swan, fair, foam, welkin, roach, tidy, blank, bright, look, blink, seek, stare, dye, neal, bleach, glaze, brand, reck, show, glisten, rust, glitter, twinkle, snow, frost, dew, lightning.

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY-NINTH STUDY.

THE SENSE OF TASTE.

This sense helps us to words that mark the flavor of things.

Sweet, sour, tart, salt, rue, sorrel, sloe, acid, prove.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTIETH STUDY.

THE SENSE OF SMELL.

This sense helps us to words that mark odors. Smell, smelling, fennel, stench, stink.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIRST STUDY.

THE SENSE OF TOUCH.

This sense aids the organ of speech in forming a large class of words. They mark feelings of what is WARM, COLD, EVEN, ROUGH.

Touch, warm, hot, cold, cool, even, rough, end, rye, bere, barley, harp, brier, thorn, bramble, shrub, nettle, thistle, spur, pen, desk, boar, lobster, trout, wet, mead, meadow, clay, lime, fir, oil, south, summer, wide, broad, narrow, rim, boat, bellows, mound, brow, neck, nape, back, pimple, heel, ankle, blain, knee, thigh, hip, dough, loaf, bread, nose, chin, kernel, pith, lump, hate, feud, fiend, foe, shabby, raw, mild, keen, sharp, pain, smooth, harvest, whet, heat, melt, blister, cold, wither.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SECOND STUDY.

THE HANDS.

THE use of the hand helps us to a large class of words. Hand, handle, haft, finger, fist, hold, sleeve, rake, thresh, reap, mow, sow, plough, hunt, fish, hook, mill, smith, weave, buy, sell, spin, hammer, crib, herd, axe, saw, sledge, hoe, sickle, scythe, whip, pin, loom, yarn, silk, web, slaie, woof, warp, ladle, beetle, nave, rope, anvil, tongs, milk, butter, cup, wheat, meal, helmet, tow, span, fathom, yard, dart, seed, heath, mistletoe, pitch, leech, knife, thin, thick, haggard, raven, claw, cliff, dell, shore, parsnep, beat, twist, comb, cheapen, wrest, ward, hand, dub, fight, brittle, creep, grope, gripe, write, mise, bray, blend, lick, climb, grapple, clap, clutch, clip, strike, stroke, reach, box, have, like, knead, churn, milk, wring, slay, throw, spear, seed, reap, rake, thresh, gather, earn, sunder, saw, hew, cleave, drill.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-THIRD STUDY.

THE FEET.

THE use of the feet furnish us with some words.

Foot, step, slip, steep, steeple, trap, road, mount, cloven, trip, ford, run, full, halt, slink, creep, spring, limp, hop, mount, rise.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FOURTH STUDY.

THE MUSCLES.

THE muscles are bundles of fibres. They act by drawing and stretching. In this way they move the body, or any part of it. Their use supplies us with a very large class of words, in addition to those under the organ of speech, hands and feet.

- 1. Words that mark GOING or MOVING. Go, do, bear, spring, out, in, ague, mood, boil, cook, well, monger, watch, bridge, bier, cart, wagon, wheel, barrow, sail, sling, court, car, cradle, goat, lamb, deer, roe, ape, whale, flea, fowl, fresh, fickle, wild, ready, bold, quick, merry, wriggle, begin, glide, wonder, gad, shun, turn, wend, waver, wag, turn, whirl, beginning, wave, fish.
- 2. Words that mark DRAWING or TAKING. Last, drag, dray, seine, ladder, teach, mind, moon, star, chuze, elephant, snake, worm, snail, dread, tough, sigh, drink, lead, pull, spin, cow, suck, freeze, drench.

- 3. Words that mark STRETCHING or GIVING. Stretch, right, reach, play, pain, pang, ache, sick, belt, bed, roof, sheet, war, fight, work, pan, dish, spade, board, rack, side, wing, keel, reed, spindle, ridge, bay, hall, cock, chicken, hen, hound, late, earnest, early, better, best, hope, feel, feeling, rank, greedy, gape, look, stare, wish, send, tie, give, work, mete, lie, cope, war.
- 4. Words that mark THRUSTING OF SHOOTING. Thrust, shoot, shot, spasm, shooting, rod, arrow, spike, plough, shovel, stuff, tooth, sprout, toe, ear, willow, ram, buck, horse, peak, ditch, kiln, keep, fire, sneeze, spit, laugh, loath, break, hunt, wound, dig, shovel, bore, hurt, head, shoot, bristle, hail.
- 5. Words that mark FIRM or STRONG, RESISTING. Hard, soft, strong, strength, body, heart, fist, knuckle, lock, latch, post, stem, stove, mast, hasp, key, besom, iron, saddle, starch, stag, might, stark, stony, hemp, oak, holly, clam, lobster, steady, doughty, kind, king, stubborn, good, will, law, stand, stall, stool, hoof, dam, target, furze, horn, wool, binding, bow, elbow, cup, door, gate, nostril, sap, ice, mouth, fan, acre, fold, crafty, cunning, stern.
- 6. Words that mark LIFTING OF PRESSING DOWN. Lift, light, head, high, leaf, east, eastern, west, open, low, night, noon, peace, bolster, pillow, sill, wharf, ground, field, wright, heavy, ballast, felt, shoal, load, flock, spare, glad, blithe, joy, glee, sorrow, fear, cap, tippet, foul, dead, many, level, sit, lie, rise, nap, lift, brook, open, weary, weave, quell, lay, fall, nod.
- 7. Words that denote LOOSENING OF RESTING. Rest, sleep, creed, truth, love, sin, laugh, smile, tear, blood, water, wash, flax, liquor, tar, lank, wan, evening, old, idle, slow, swoon, spill, quail, droop

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIFTH STUDY.

THE ORGAN OF BREATHING.

THE use of the organ of breathing helps us to some words. Breath, breath, soul, ghost, life, live.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SIXTH STUDY.

THE COVERING OF THE BODY.

THE need of covering or defending the body helps us to a useful group of words.

Cloth, clothing, mantle, hat, glove, hose, shoe, shroud, sheet, home, house, hut, hovel, hamlet, shed, cot, cottage, hall, town, skin, hide, bark, maple, shield, cap, shoulder, pride, pretty, bury, clothe, deck, screen, swaddle, stable, pen, roof, board, spare, shield, wallow.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

FOOD.

Food and its use help us to some words.

Food, feed, meat, oats, ham, farm, poppy, dine, craw, carve, soak, swoop.

CHAPTER III.

MAN.

MAN is a social being, and as such furnishes us with many words.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

MAN.

MAN, in his form and growth and conditions of life, gives ous some words.

Man, woman, queen, knight, swain, boor, bear, ail, hallow, yawn, bide, rest, rouse, heal, quake, death, wise, wisdom, wicked.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-NINTH STUDY.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

THE household is the first form of society, and gives a rich class of words.

Husband, wife, father, mother, child, son, daughter, brother, sister, bairn, kin, kindred, steward, kiss, ask, meet, scorch, clean, sweep, wash, wipe, quench, foster, warm, rinse, rear, dear, darling.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTIETH STUDY.

SOCIETY.

DIFFERENT forms of society branch out from the household. The church and state are the chief, and supply some words.

Fellow, neighbor, guest, yeoman, henchman, hireling, hire, friend, elder, bishop, sheriff, canon, monk, nun, provost, ruler, priest, worship, bow, taunt, bet, gain, bargain, harbor, loss.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FIRST STUDY.

BUSINESS OF MAN.

THE business or occupations of man furnish some words, the names of some instruments and works.

Box, chest, deck, weir, ripe, swear, cook, bake, grind, knit, whittle, hem, sew, fish, steer, row, toil, boil, wreck, sail, swamp, farm, till, weed, mow, fan, hire, frame, build, buy, store, sell, boast, cup, gild, rear, fix.

CHAPTER IV.

THE WORLD.

THE earth and the heavens act upon the body of man, and help us to the names of bodies and their qualities.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SECOND STUDY.

THE EARTH.

THE land, water, minerals, plants and animals of the earth help us to many words.

- 1. EARTH.—Heath, heathen, earth, hearth, island.
- 2. Land.—Land, hill, sward, ledge.
- 3. WATER.—Water, sea, stream, swift, flow, thaw, flood, drown, tide, bay, creek, sound.
  - 4. MINERALS.—Lead, steel, sand.
- 5. Plants.—Book, limb, barn, grass, grain, grow, flay, fif, linden, yew, ivy, madder, leaf, blossom, blight, mildew.
- 6. Animals.—Bird, nail, claw, scale, rampant, tame, stray, skin, ride, swim, rush, welter, graze, lick, worry, grin, tear, fly, teem, flutter, swarm, bean.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-THIRD STUDY.

THE HEAVENS.

THE heavens, and what they contain, supply us with some words.

Heaven, sun, light, ray, day, dawn, morn, morning, daisy, Sunday, Monday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, twilight, weather, dazzle, gleam, sprinkle, shade, set, blast, breeze, storm, shower, cloud.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FOURTH STUDY.

FORM.

THE shapes of things act upon our senses, and are named. Shape, ship, shop, shilling, rib, form, draw, draft, sketch, world.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-FIFTH STUDY.

QUANTITY.

THE size or dimensions of things acts upon our senses, and aids us in forming some words.

Size, long, length, side, end, tall, short, thumb, liver, board, broad, spade, lungs, farthing, boot, some, all, great, part, weigh, deal, leech, dwindle, swell.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SIXTH STUDŸ.

PLACE.

THE places of things are brought into notice by the things, and help us to some words.

Room, stead, stern, oar, pier, harbor, through, land, hell, grave.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SEVENTH STUDY.

TIME.

THE things without us are active, and as one thing succeeds another, we get the notion of time—get it from succession.

Time, winter, summer, watch.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-EIGHTH STUDY.

RELATIONS OF THINGS IN PLACE AND TIME.

THESE are noticed, and give us some words. In, out, to, of, from, towards, by, with, near, about, around, above, under, down, up, for, through, first, prime.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-NINTH STUDY.

CONNECTIONS OF THINGS IN PLACE AND TIME.

WE observe these, and get from this quarter some words. And, but, if, though, or, as, so, that, lest, still, till, since, then, else, yet, than.

CHAPTER V.

THE SOUL AND GOD.

THE body and the world could not aid the organ of speech to form words without the soul and God.

ONE HUNDRED AND NINETIETH STUDY.

THE SOUL

THE soul is the fount of all words. The organ of speech and the body are only its instruments. The world is the material.

Like, little, true, believe, think, know, heed, doom, teach, learn, think, thought, same, like.

ONE HUNDRED AND NINETY-FIRST STUDY.

GOD.

God is the Creator of words as well as works. He made the soul to speak. He taught man some words, and formed the soul, so as to make others for herself as they were needed.

Make, bless, curse, daysman, atone.

CHAPTER VI.

THE END OF THE HAND-BOOK OF ANGLO-SAXON BOOT-WORDS.

THE end of a good book is better than its beginning. It adds something to our knowledge.

Let us see what the Hand-Book of Anglo-Saxon Root-words has added. It is wise to look back, and gather up all we have seen and learned by the way.

FIRST PART.

THE FIRST PART led us to a knowledge of words. We learned much about spoken and written words, and the ways of writing and spelling them. Letters, sounds and speech were explained.

SECOND PART.

THE SECOND PART made us master of one thousand root-words. We began at home, and went out over all the things lying between home and heaven, and named them; learned the first and common meanings of these names, and used them in sentences. We returned, and went forth the second time over the same things, and named their qualities. Again, we returned, and went forth the third time over the same things, and named their actions.

THIRD PART.

THE THIRD PART led us to the BEGINNINGS of these one thousand root-words. We saw them come forth from the lips. The organ of speech is the instrument of words. The body and all its parts aid this organ, and help it to words. So does the world. The soul uses all these, and is the fount of all words. God is their maker in forming the soul for speech, and teaching man to speak.

